NO FUNDS FOR CONSUMPTIVES

Gov. Pennypacker Vetoes Bill for Tuberculosis Institutions.

IS TORN TO SHREDS

WOULD OPEN A WIDE FIELD

Because it would open up an entirely new field for the establishment of charities for whose maintenance the state would be responsible, Gov. Pennypacker today vetoed the bill appropriating $300,000 for establishing two state institutions on the Pennsylvania forest reservations for the treatment of incipient tuberculosis.

This bill was introduced by Chairman Plummer of the house appropriations committee and passed the senate and the house without opposition. Originally there were two bills appropriating $400,000 for two institutions, one at Mont Alto and the other in Western Pennsylvania, to be erected by State Forestry Commissioner Conklin. The senate consolidated the bills into one, reduced the appropriation to $300,000, and directed that the institutions be erected by a commission consisting of the forestry commissioner and two physicians. The full text of the veto follows:

This bill raises questions of very grave importance. It provides for a preliminary step in a movement, the results of which are of the most extensive character. The provisions for charitable work in this commonwealth have already reached formidable proportions. The demands for such purposes are increasing every year and it behooves us to consider whether the time may not arrive when the resources of the state will not be sufficient to enable us to continue the policy.

Might Include All Diseases.

This bill would open up an entirely new field for the establishment of charities for whose maintenance the state would be responsible. Its purpose is "to provide for the selection of sites and the erection of two state institutions for the treatment of incipient tuberculosis." It assumes that it is the duty of the state to take care of those of the people who are suffering from diseases likely to be fatal, and which, being contagious or infectious, are likely to effect injuriously others in the community.

At the outset and when making the first step we ought not to shut our eyes to the fact that if we are to provide for consumptives, because of these reasons, we may have in time to take care also of those afflicted with the dangerous and contagious or infectious diseases, such as smallpox, leprosy, cholera, yellow fever, the bubonic plague, typhoid fever, pneumonia and many others.

It must be assumed that the legislature has given to this branch of the subject full consideration and concluded to commit the commonwealth to such a policy, but its importance is so great that it may well lead to hesitation. Assuming that such a policy is to be adopted, the means to be used and the methods to be pursued and the extent to which it is to be carried ought to be most carefully considered. The purpose, as it is defined, is to be found in section 10, which provides: "These institutions shall be especially and entirely devoted to the maintenance, treatment and care of all citizens of this commonwealth suffering from incipient tuberculosis."

Rich and Poor Alike.

The only limitation upon those having incipient tuberculosis who may have the benefits conferred by the bill is that they shall be citizens of this commonwealth. The rich, therefore, are as much entitled to receive these benefits as the most needy. Tuberculosis is a very prevalent disease, and those suffering from it within the commonwealth are very numerous.

The bill purports to provide for only 300 patients. This number would be a very small proportion of those so diseased. Since this is to be a charity, and is based entirely upon the thought of the performance of a duty, it seems to me that it ought, in the beginning at least, to be confined to those suffering from tuberculosis among the poorer classes of the people who are unable to take care of themselves, and also most likely to affect others with whom they are brought into contact.

The bill provides for the appointment of a commission of three persons who "shall select suitable tracts of land within the boundaries of the state forestry reservation" to erect thereon two institutions and necessary buildings, such tract containing 500 acres and after the completion of the buildings the commissioners shall be constituted a board of trustees to manage and direct the concerns of th institutions. The commission is to consist of two practicing physicians to be appointed by the governor, and of the commissioner of forestry. To enable the commissioners to select the tracts, prepare the plans and erect the buildings the sum of $300,000 is approrriated, but this is not the end of it. The commissioners shall proceed "to erect said buildings and complete the same with such funds as may be appropriated from time to time by the legislature." In extent, therefore, they are unlimited, and the claim is a continuous building commission. It seems to me that in the consideration of the subject the legislature ought to have fixed an amount which would be sufficient to meet the needs of the object sought to be accomplished.

Not Wisely Chosen.

The membership of the commission does not appear to me to be wisely determined. The commissioners are not only charged with the duty of the erection of the buildings, but thereafter they become the trustees to manage and control them. The governor is limited in his selection to the class of practicing physicians. The work to be done would seem to require the experience of business men and artisans rather than professional experience, and the matter becomes of greater importance because vacancies, as they arise, must be filled from the same class. The purpose of making physicians the commissioners and trustees could not have been to provide for the treatment of the patients, because the bill directs that these trustees "shall appoint two skilled physicians, who shall be graduates of a legally chartered medical college, and shall have an experience in the treatment of tuberculosis of at least five years, who shall be superintendents." Therefore, the necessity for professional supervision is provided for.

Nor does the selection of the commissioner of forestry as the third member appear to be desirable. He is a trained expert in other lines, employed by the state to take care of her forests and having in his charge already about 800,000 acres of land. His time is sufficiently occupied with attention to his special duties. The act of February 25, 1901, directs that the state forestry reservation commission shall have full power to manage and control all the lands which it

MAKES 200 PER CENT ON GAS IN GOTHAM

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—Interesting figures giving the actual cost of producing illuminating gas and electric lighting current were brought out today during the examination of officers of the gas and electric companies by the committee of the legislature which is investigating lighting conditions in this city.

It was testified by President George W. Doane, of the New Amsterdam company, that his concern produced gas at an actual cost of 82.5 cents a thousand cubic feet, selling one-half of the plant's production to the Consolidated company at 32.88 cents, and distributing the rest to consumers at 81 a thousand.

According to Vice President John W. Lieb, Jr., of the Edison company, the average actual cost of illuminating current for the past five years was 4.50 cents a kilowatt hour, the net returns from customers being 9.01 cents, the net profit for last year being $2,293,888. A surplus of more than $6,000,000 and a fund of more than $4,000,000 set aside for depreciation, had, Mr. Lieb said, been put into the plant.

CHICAGO IS CALLED TO FACE ANOTHER STRIKE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—Chicago is again in the throes of a contest between capital and labor unions. As on former occasions, the unions have resorted to the use of the union teamsters to bring them victory in the struggle which tonight threatens to spread to many branches of the teaming industries of the city.

The present struggle had its beginning in a strike, several months ago, of a few hundred garment workers employed by Montgomery, Ward & Co. The "closed shop" is the issue, and in order to bring the firm to the terms of the union, a strike of the 200 drivers and teamsters employed by the concern was called today.

The downtown streets today were the scenes of disorder which followed fast on each other when an attempt was made to deliver goods with non-union drivers. Indications tonight are that the strike will spread to other concerns.

THEY HAD TO REMARRY.

Woodbury Kane and Mrs. Sarah Hargous Elliott Had the Nuptial Knot Retied in Georgia.

AUGUSTA, GA., April 7.—(Special.)—Woodbury Kane and Mrs. Sarah Hargous Elliott were married today by Judge Edward T. Bennett, a justice of the peace, under a marriage license issued by Ordinary Alexander R. Walton of Richmond county. It is the second marriage of the couple.

They were married in Aiken, S. C., March 27, by the Rev. T. W. Cliff, rector of St. Thaddeus' Episcopal church. Later attention was called to the fact the marriage was illegal under South Carolina laws, that state not recognizing divorces and prohibiting the marriage of divorced persons. The couple had overlooked this fact and the officiating minister was not familiar with the state laws.

PANTS ON FRONT GATE.

Note Pinned to Them Said Burglars Would Never Rob Preacher Again.

GREENSBURG, April 7.—(Special.)—Burglars broke into the house of the Rev. J. C. Glenn at New Stanton last night and entering his bedroom took his trousers from the bedpost. They ransacked the house and secured only a few dollars in money from a purse of the preacher's wife.

The trousers were found this morning on the front gate. A note was pinned to them. It read: "We'll never rob a preacher again. They are all poor. Remember us in your prayers."

Early Bathing Fatality.

NEW YORK, April 7.—(Special.)—The first bathing accident of the season occurred today at South Beach, Staten Island, when Samuel Chester Brown, aged 42, was drowned.

COVETING TRADE OF SOUTH AMERICA

PANAMA RAILROAD A FACTOR

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building. WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.

Secretary Taft tomorrow will confer with the ministers of Chile, Ecuador, Peru, Bolivia, Guatemala, Costa Rica and Nicaragua at which meeting an effort will be made to pave the way for immense increase of American commerce with those countries by means of lower transportation rates and increased facilities on the Panama railroad.

Under private ownership the Panama railroad diverted to Europe an immense trade which would naturally come to the United States from the west coast of South America, especially from Chile. At present it requires 30 days for the passage from Valparaiso to New York via Panama. The Chilean steamship lines were unable to gain wharfage facilities at Panama because of the agreement between the Panama railroad and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. The rates were so high that Chilean products could be shipped through the straits of Magellan to Europe more cheaply than to New York.

Now that the United States controls the Panama railroad the South American governments expect reasonable rates for isthmian transportation. It is expected that the passage from Valparaiso can be reduced to 15 days.

Dr. Walker-Martinez, the Chilean minister; Senor Calderon, the Peruvian minister; Senor Corea, the Nicaraguan minister; Senor Calvo, the Costa Rican minister; Senor Munoz, the Guatemalan minister, and Senor Don Ignatio Calderon, the Bolivian minister, recently held a meeting at which the question was discussed at length.

A tentative memorandum will be submitted to Secretary Taft tomorrow. This will show how increased transportation facilities will result in the growth of commerce with the United States, a consideration to which this government is keenly alive.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS READY TO INTERFERE IN CHINA

Gen. Grant Believes One Brigade in Philippines Is to Maintain the "Open Door."

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—At the monthly dinner of the Patria club tonight, Brig.-Gen. Frederick Dent Grant, who talked about the Philippines, said:

"You hear a great deal about the force necessary to keep these degenerate people in subjection. There are 12,000 soldiers out there. My department in the east maintains 14,000 men to keep you citizens of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and other coast places in the straight and narrow path.

"As a matter of fact, there is one brigade mobilized in the Philippines ready to strike, I think, in favor of the 'open door' in China rather than against the Filipinos."

CHILD SAVES FATHER'S LIFE.

Shuts Off Gas When He Attempts Suicide Because Out of Employment.

NEW YORK, April 7.—(Special.)—Despondent because he was unable to obtain employment George Pentz, a civil engineer, attempted to end his life today by inhaling gas in his apartments.

He was frustrated by the intervention of his 10-year-old daughter, Antoinetta, who climbed to the meter and with the aid of a stove lifter shut off the flow of the deadly fluid.

Soiled Linen, but No Evidence.

LOUISVILLE, April 7.—After paying the sum of $10 due on a board bill alleged to have been owed by J. Morgan Smith, the payment being made to secure possession of a valise left at a local hotel, Detective Quinn of New York found that instead of documentary evidence in the Nan Patterson case, the valise contained a miscellaneous assortment of soiled linen.

METHODISTS WOULD TAKE ROCKEFELLER MONEY

Bishop Hamilton Virtually Defends Gift—Aged Minister Does So Openly.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—John D. Rockefeller's retort to the ministers who objected to receiving gifts of money from him, on the ground that he had made his money dishonestly, was the subject of considerable discussion today among the clergymen at the third day's session of the New York Methodist Episcopal conference at the Madison Avenue church.

Bishop Hamilton said: "Suppose a preacher is sent to preach to sinners, and his congregation are sinners, if the laborer is worthy of his hire, how is he to get a living?"

The Rev. Dr. C. W. Millard, retiring editor of the New York district, said: "Mr. Rockefeller is right when he says he has received no judicial condemnation, and that no proof has been shown against him that he made his money dishonestly. It is not for the ministers or Dr. Gladden to determine his guilt or to form themselves into a judiciary body.

"I have read articles on the Standard Oil and John D. Rockefeller, but there is such a difference of opinion that I am absolutely unable to determine the rights in the case. Nor do I think anybody else can. Under the circumstances, if I were called upon I should not have hesitated to accept the Rockefeller check."

WHEELING STRIKERS FACE AN INJUNCTION

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WHEELING, W. VA., April 7.—A temporary injunction was granted by Judge Melvin this morning restraining the striking employes of the Whitaker-Glessner Company from intimidating persons seeking work at the plant or picketing at the mill or in any other part of Ohio county.

The strikers say that the injunction only prevents violence and that they do not intend to use that. The bill of particulars was largely changed, and personal violence inflicted upon or abusive language addressed to any employes to prevent them from continuing their work was mentioned in the injunction. Mr. Whitaker refuses to meet the men on any terms now, but the strikers are not disheartened.

Today was payday for the strikers and their money was distributed at headquarters. An actual count of the men now in the mill will not run higher than 20.

FIND DISHONEST MATERIAL.

This, Commission Reports, Is Cause of Collapse of Numerous Brick Structures in Gotham.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The commission of experts appointed to examine into the recent wholesale collapse of brick buildings, reported today an examination was made of eight buildings and in every case the collapse or partial destruction was directly due to the failure of their foundation walls, which were found to be full of voids, built of irregular and undersized stone, improperly bonded and imperfectly bedded, and with mortar of inferior quality and improperly mixed in flagrant violation of the building code.

Among the recommendations of the committee is one that architects should be required by law to superintend the erection of all buildings for which they furnished plans.

UNITED STATES MARINES SENT TO SANTO DOMINGO

WASHINGTON, April 7.—(Special.)—More marines have been sent to Dominican waters. The cruiser Dixie with 165 marines has sailed from Guantanamo for Monte Cristi, where the Newark already is lying. Rear Admiral Sigsbee will transfer his flag from the Newark to the Brooklyn when that ship arrives at Monte Cristi, and the Newark will then proceed to Norfolk or New York. The cruiser Yankee, with 300 marines, is now at Kingston. The navy department protests there is no trouble expected.

GRAND OVATION TO PRESIDENT

TALKS ELOQUENTLY

Lessons Learned By Civil War Gave Inspiration to Rough Riders.

REUNION OF THE OLD GUARD

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., April 7.—With the city covered with patriotic emblems, a display of flags of all sizes, likenesses of the president in many windows and the streets and plazas filled with cheering throngs of people, Theodore Roosevelt could not mistake the hearty welcome accorded him in San Antonio today. Enormous crowds of people greeted him along the route of the procession from Fort San Houston to Alamo plaza, where an address of welcome was delivered and a response made. The people felt that they had as their guest not only the president of the United States, but a man toward whom the people of San Antonio feel especially friendly on account of the fact that it was here that the regiment was organized with which his name has become a synonym.

The president was delighted with the reception accorded him. He was kept busy bowing right and left acknowledging the outbursts of enthusiasm. It is approximately seven years since President Roosevelt left San Antonio with his Rough Riders. "No human being dreamed that after that I would return as president of the United States," he said last night in a short address at the depot.

Ovation Was Spectacular.

It was a busy day for the president. It began with the reception at the train. This formality was soon over and the president and party proceeded to the parade grounds of the army post, where the troops in Ft. Sam Houston were reviewed. This interesting ceremony over, the start was made for the city. From the moment the procession of troops, carriages, police and Rough Riders swept out of the gates of the post until the president entered the gates of the fair grounds to go to camp with the Rough Riders, he was a recipient of one of the greatest ovations ever witnessed here.

The most spectacular scene of the day was at Travis park. The president's reception here by 8,000 school children was the most inspiring feature of the program. All the way the crowd cheered and the children sang "America," while bands played the national air.

On Alamo plaza within the shadow of old Alamo, he was greeted in a manner which profoundly touched him. His arrival was the signal for a burst of cheering which lasted until after he had taken his seat on the stand, and which was renewed when he arose to respond to the address of welcome by Alderman Kirkpatrick.

Glories of the Old Soldier.

The president made a characteristic address. He was pleased that San Antonio agreed with him in his ideas on race suicide. He noted with satisfaction the attention Texans are paying to education. The love of the worthy life, the effort in a cause worthy of striving for was his theme. His reception throughout Texas had touched him. The president spoke in part as follows:

I thank you all for the way in which I have been greeted. You can hardly imagine how much it means to me to come back to San Antonio in this way and to be received as you have received me (Applause.) I know that the men of you will not grudge my saying a special word of acknowledgment to two sets among your citizens, first to the men of the great war, to the men who wore the blue or wore the gray in the days that tried men's souls. My fellow citizens, infinitely more important than any president, infinitely more important even than the reception to any president is what is symbolized by seeing the men who fought in the Union army and the men who fought in the Confederate army standing shoulder to shoulder, fellow Americans, one in devotion and honor and loyalty to the country, shoulder to shoulder as fellow citizens of the mightiest republic on which the sun has ever shone. To-day, the man would have a poor heart, a poor spirit who would not be thrilled by such a meeting as this, by such a sight as you accord me today, one of the great joys of the time, all one under the flag of this re-united country. (Applause.)

Anecdote of Gen. Young.

I suppose you must know it, but I want to tell you that it was of course the memory of the valor, the self-sacrifice, the endurance you displayed in the great war that made us of the younger generation feel that when the issue war came we wished to emulate your course. The regiment which I had the honor to command was raised and organized in this city. Took part in what were only skirmishes compared with the campaigns in which you did your share and all that we claim is that while it was not given to us to have the chance to do great deeds, yet we hope we made you feel that the old spirit was not altogether lost.

The regiment served under men who had themselves fought in the civil war, both under Grant and under Lee. The commander of the cavalry division was that great, gallant ex-confederate soldier, Maj. Gen. Joseph Wheeler, and our immediate commander, our brigadier commander, was a former union soldier, who entered the union army as a private and so won for himself great and fortune as to become the commissioner, as lieutenant general of the army of the United States, Lieut. Gen. Young. Afterwards at San Juan the cavalry served under Gen. Sumner, from whom I took my orders.

I am going to tell you just one anecdote of Gen. Young. Before the war began I told him I was going to do my best to get into it, and that I wanted to get a chance for some fighting. He said:

"All right, I will have a cavalry brigade and if you come with me I will guarantee that you shall see the fighting." He kept his word as he always does.

I cannot say how much it meant to me to be able to take part in another Ninth regiment under the shadow of the Alamo. My admiration for Texas and Texans is no new thing. Since I have been a boy and first studied the history of this country, my veins have thrilled and dilated as I read of the gigantic deeds of Houston, Bowie, Crockett, Travis, of the heroic men who fell in the defense of the Alamo of which it now stands. (Applause.) The fact of the loss of death, but the Alamo and

FRANKLY TALK ABOUT TRAFFIC

All Sides of an Important Subject Are Discussed.

SOME ENTERTAINING FEATURES

Traffic—as seen from the viewpoint of the shipper, the railroad and the people at large—was given consideration at the third annual dinner of the Traffic club of Pittsburgh last evening at the Hotel Schenley. The great principles of justice to all parties concerned were brought forth by masters in its three phases.

For the shippers, Wills L. King, vice president of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, the largest independent steel company in the United States, spoke in no uncertain tone. Judge Peter S. Grosscup of the United States circuit court at Chicago spoke for the people at large as against the corporation, and pointed out the need of regeneration of the present corporation system. Finally, President Samuel Spencer of the Southern railway spoke for the railroads, urging not less legislation, but legislation that will at once make it possible for the railroad to give to its security owners a fair return on the investment and at the same time safeguard the public.

Goodfellowship Throughout.

The dinner in its artistic and culinary features has never been surpassed by a similar organization in this city. It is the largest ever held at the Hotel Schenley, 475 covers being laid. Every seat was occupied when the serving of the dinner started at 7:30 o'clock.

The dinner took on an air of goodfellowship from the moment it started, the entire absence of all beverages except water and coffee not serving to keep down the rising spirits of those in attendance. Under the lead of the orchestra the banquet hall rang with the chorus singing popular or patriotic songs, so much so that Judge Buffington was led to ask the coudrogue if "what would have become of the Traffic club if the Traffic club were not traveling on the water wagon?"

Rival Musicians Raise Din.

Not to be outdone in instrumental music by the orchestra, the banqueters took advantage of several airs to beat time with knives on plates or glasses. This developed finally into a resounding rivalry between the professional and the amateur musicians, and after starting the guests well on one air, the orchestra altered time repeatedly, and even shifted to other airs, but the amateurs followed closely or kept up music of their own as they pleased and at the conclusion honors were easy.

With cafe noir, cigars and finally mineral water, came the end of the dinner and Fred Vice, president J. P. Magill arose to introduce the toastmaster, Judge Joseph Buffington of the United States court. Mr. Magill explained that this duty fell to him because of a death in the family of President D. F. Hurd, calling Mr. Hurd to Chicago. He spoke briefly of the time and thought the president had expended on the club's dinner and gave to him the lion's share in its success.

A King With One Subject.

Judge Buffington as toastmaster added new laurels to those he had already won in the sarah capacity. His former services for the club and his honorary membership gave him a decided advantage, which he used to good purpose. Each speaker was introduced with a fitting story, which removed all strain from the situation. Judge Buffington introduced Mr. King by reference to the rulers of European countries with many subjects. "This American King has but one subject," he said. "That subject is 'Pittsburgh.'"

The popularity of the Greater Pittsburgh movement was evinced in the applause that greeted another of Judge Buffington's sallies. Mr. King had referred to the Greater Pittsburgh and its growth in 10 years. "There's one man who can multiply Pittsburgh overnight," said the toastmaster. "With one word S. W. Pennypacker can nearly double the city."

In turn Messrs. King, Grosscup and Spencer spoke. Following Mr. King's address, D. C. Black sang a solo. His accompanist at the piano was Mrs. Black. An encore was demanded and granted. After Judge Grosscup's address came another special feature of the evening, the "Traffic Club March," composed by Percy E. Krieble of this city.

Bells and Whistles Sound.

It was rendered by the orchestra, and into its rendering was interposed the ringing of locomotive bells and the blowing of whistles, until the big banquet hall sounded like a busy railroad yard. The march scored an instantaneous success. The sheet music was at each member's plate as a souvenir of the occasion.

Historian F. A. Butterworth's address was marked by his characteristic dry humor. Taking the standpoint of a subordinate traffic employe who on the "30th day" gets his only chance in the year to make suggestions to his superiors, he recounted history from the siege of Troy to the present time, and urged some consideration, theatrical and otherwise.

The majority of the guests last evening reached the city yesterday morning and took part during the day in a special excursion to the coke region and back to Pittsburgh. A special train of eight cars left the Baltimore & Ohio station at 10 o'clock and started for Uniontown. From that city to Acme Junction the Pennsylvania was used. The Monongahela railroad carried the party to Brownsville, and the party returned over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie. The weather was ideal, and other than a few showers early in the day, the trip was made to view the immense workhouses on the South Side, now being constructed by the Pittsburgh Terminal Warehouse and Transfer Company.

WILLIS L. KING SPEAKS PLAINLY TO RAILROADS

With Full Acknowledgement of Their Virtues, He Points Out Their Failure to Meet Demands.

No address was followed with closer attention than that of Willis L. King, whose leading position as a Pittsburgh ironmaster gives him intimate knowledge of his subject—"Pittsburgh's Industries and Railroads," He said:

When I was asked to speak to you tonight about Pittsburgh I felt most highly honored and gratified that the opportunity was made possible to say a word for my native city, and especially as I might speak as a manufacturer, having at heart her greatest good, to such a representative and great gathering of railroad men.

I am proud of Pittsburgh. Her sturdy people, her thrift, her patriotism, her marvelous growth and pre-eminence of manufacture must surely need no word of mine. From the time that our great Washington selected a site for a fort on this ground about 150 years ago, Pittsburgh has been a haven for all those who desired an opportunity for a "square deal" in fighting the battle of life, and I feel assured that, as the centuries pass away, this may always be said with equal truth.

Great and Dirty 120 Years Ago.

Pittsburgh has always been great, even in her dirt. The earliest record I find of her claims for greatness is in the year 1784, while a village of 500 souls and, remarkable as that may seem, covered three things—her great dirt, her great trade, and her great freight rates. Mr. Arthur Lee of Virginia was sent out by the government in 1784 as a commissioner to treat with the Indians, and stopped in Pittsburgh. He wrote a diary from which I quote: "Pittsburgh is inhabited almost entirely by Scots and Irish, who live in log houses and are as dirty as in the north of Ireland or even Scotland. (This seems a little severe on the Scots and Irish, but shows that dirt is no new thing.) There is a great deal of trade carried on, the goods being brought at the vast expense of 45 shillings per hundredweight from Philadelphia and Baltimore. (Think of that, you makers of railway tariffs, $220 a ton from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh.) They take in the shops, money, wheat, flour and skins. There are in the town four attorneys, two doctors and not a priest of any persuasion, nor church nor chapel. The rivers encroach fast on the town and to such a degree that a gentleman told me the Alleghany had within 30 years of his memory carried away 150 yards. (Mad. Sibert will tell you that this trouble has now been entirely obviated.)" He concludes: "The place, I believe will never be very considerable."

Nature in Beneficient Mood.

Of a certainty there is nothing new under the sun for Pittsburgh's claims for greatness today are not different except in degree, from Mr. Lee's quaint account 120 years ago. While we must accept his statement of fact, we cannot commend his judgment as to Pittsburgh's future greatness. Pittsburgh is very considerable. Situated at the junction of three great rivers and fertile valleys, her adjacent hills, filled with coal, nature indeed was in a beneficent mood in the making of her. The hardy Scots and Irish, even if dirty, did the rest, and their thrift and energy have come down a precious legacy to their posterity.

In 1815 a borough of about 9,000 inhabitants, I find mention of one small rolling mill making slit nails. This is apparently the pioneer rolling mill in Pittsburgh. In 1847, the population having increased to 43,000, this one small mill has increased to five rolling mills, producing about 15,000 tons of iron nails annually, and employing about 500 men.

Greatness Spells "Car Shortage."

Not to weary you with statistics, I pass over the intervening 58 years to the present moment, and although during this interval her progress was always steady, the most marvelous growth in population, wealth and manufactures has occurred within the last 25 years. Our population today in the small Greater Pittsburgh is about 800,000, and our yearly freight tonnage over 86,000,000 tons. Does this not border on the supernatural? The little hamlet in something more than a century grows to produce more tonnage than the combined shipping ports of London, New York, Antwerp, Hamburg, Hongkong, and I think Liverpool may be thrown in for good measure. Surely this may justify our pride in the past and hope for the future. I must confess my inability to grasp all that this means; but I know that it largely means shortage of cars, motive power and slow delivery.

The fortunes of the railroads and Pittsburgh are so closely interwoven that a community of interest in its best and broadest sense, offensive and defensive, should prevail under all conditions. Has this obtained in the past, and what part have the railroads had in the making of Pittsburgh? No small or mean part, I am glad to testify, and should I try to belittle it, history would refute me and this great assembly disprove me.

Railroad Slow to Grasp Facts.

Yet it has been felt here for years that the railroads did not realize their power for good to Pittsburgh, nor their ability to increase their importance and tonnage.

Many of us remember the opposition on the part of the older railroads to the entrance of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie road, and more lately the Bessemer & Lake Erie and Wabash. Although unable to care for the tonnage, this short-sighted policy would have kept them out, in spite of the fact that every new railroad entering a manufacturing district favored by natural conditions, not only makes business for itself, but the others as well.

Pittsburgh is the admitted metropolis of the world's steel industry, her tonnage being greater than the whole of Great Britain, but it is largely in the more unfinished forms. Have you ever asked yourselves why there are so few shops or factories to work up that rough steel into highly finished articles? No great agricultural works, no great engine builders, either stationary or locomotive, no famous tool-making establishments for iron or wood-working, no automobile factories? New England and the great West have them. They should be here where raw material and fuel are cheapest.

Railroad Rates Have Been Unfair.

I think our railroads are greatly to blame for this. The Pittsburgh manufacturers have in the past also felt that they were not fairly treated in the matter of freight rates, and that the railroad policy inclined to assist competitive points, on the theory or belief that Pittsburgh could somehow take care of herself. I do not believe that any such theory would obtain your support now, for we have many active and powerful competitors. Chicago, Cleveland and Buffalo, all situated on the Great Lakes, are quick to take advantage of their cheaper ore and your delay in movement of freight. Buyers are patient, but finally go to the market nearest. If your policy has been to build up these points, you have succeeded.

Interstate Commerce Commissioner Prouty, in a recent speech, is reported to have said: "Since my acquaintance with the subject, the development of industry has forced the railway; the railway has not led the industry."

This I believe is particularly true of Pittsburgh, and this is why you now find yourselves short of cars, motive power and terminals. If you are to do your full part in the future for commercial Pittsburgh you must reverse this policy. Should you determine now that railroad facilities shall always be in advance of manufacturing needs, I have no hesitation in predicting that her past growth, so marvelous as we know, will seem almost insignificant.

Financing Easier Now.

This policy suggests the question of finance. No railroad can earn sufficient for extraordinary or even necessary improvements and extensions. In the past the ability to borrow has been intermittent, and this has undoubtedly had much to do with your habit of buying and making improvements only in good times; but the financial strength of this country, which not only supplies all legitimate needs of our people, but will, I believe, enable you to make a radical change in this policy. Your power to limit the duration and stress of dull times is beyond question. You are the largest purchasers of steel products in the world. In normal years you buy 50 per cent of the entire steel production. When the railroad and consumers buy at the same time a "boom" results, prices advance and deliveries are postponed.

If your purchases could be distributed with even approximate uniformity during each year, instead of buying 10 per cent to 15 per cent one year and endeavoring to buy 60 to 70 per cent the next, the comfort, the decreased cost and general results would be marvelous, alike to you and the steel producers. But whatever may be your policy in the future the fact that of your present unpreparedness is manifest.

Period of Activity Entered.

We have just emerged from a season of rest into a period of unusual and, I believe, long continued activity. The farmer plows and plants at a time when there is no other work to do. You should have learned of him, and during the period of rest, prepared for the activity to come with as much certainty as that the harvest follows seed time.

The cry of car and motor shortage and delay in deliveries goes up from the shippers and manufacturers who increased their capacity last year, and would still further add to their tonnage this year, fear for the fruition of their increasing investments. You have forced private capital to provide transfer terminals and storage facilities. One company on the South Side is now spending millions in this direction, and doubtless their car ferries will soon connect the most distant parts of our manufacturing districts. You railroad farmers have not been featherwise.

I can see Farmers Dixon and Bates with long-handled scythes in their hands trying to reap the harvest in Pittsburgh, but alas, the handles are not long enough to reach more than a portion of the grain.

Farmer McCabe has loaded a fine big wagon of grain, but has lost a linch pin and cannot move it.

Farmer Schoonmaker is swinging a cradle vigorously, but when he must sharpen the blade, finds that he has forgotten his whetstone.

Farmer Wright's pitchfork is also too short, and so the rainstorm comes before the harvest is gathered.

But indeed the best evidence of Pittsburgh's greatness, industrially, can be found in this great gathering of railroad men tonight. I believe all the important systems are represented. You know where the freight is and come here to get it. I wish that each of your companies had its executive offices here, but presume that would be too much even to ask for Pittsburgh, and I would compromise by asking that executive powers might be conferred on the Pittsburgh Traffic club. This I know would remove all trouble about cars or motive power, for you would simply keep them here, and as for rates, Pittsburgh would be a law unto itself.

Are Rates Equitable Yet?

And this reminds me of the great reduction in freight rates in something more than a century.

I have told you of the rate from Philadelphia in 1784. I think we agree that a man who packed 100 pounds, and did not get killed by the Indians, was entitled to his 45 shillings a hundred weight. In 1837, 53 years later, hundreds of Conestoga wagons were crawling over the Allegheny mountains, and the freight dropped to $50 a ton. The canal later reduced costs very materially, but it remained for the steam railroad to make it possible for Pittsburgh to ship and receive yearly 86,000,000 tons of merchandise. The American railroads have the creditable record of making lower freight rates than the railroads of any other country in the world, but whether these rates are yet entirely equitable, based on a proper regard for cost, dividends and surplus, I do not propose to argue tonight. I am in too hopeless a minority. Besides, the president has expressed a desire to hear the argument, and he is not here tonight. It is certain, however, that the Pittsburgh manufacturers believe a reduction, at least on some classes of raw material, should be made, and they will hope to receive it.

Railroads a Great Power.

I shall fail of my purpose tonight if I have not impressed you with the tremendous power of the railroads for the commercial and moral good of the country. You can change the steel industry from a prince or pauper into a prosperous American citizen. You are the largest commercial and industrial factor. You own $12,000,000,000 of property and employ and support millions of your fellows. You cannot control the crops nor prevent unwise legislation; but in the broad and wise conduct of your affairs, you can prevent those sudden and violent fluctuations so marked in the past in this country, and bring about a stability in the consumption and a confidence in the future, so essential to the prosperity of a nation.

The future of Pittsburgh is undoubtedly in your hands to make or mar. Should I tell you the tonnage of Pittsburgh in 10 years, based on the relative increase in the last 10 years, it would only make you incredulous.

May Force New Railroads.

If the increase is only 50 per cent, nothing that you can do, I fear, will enable you to handle it. The railroad is the weakest link in Pittsburgh's greatness. She cannot increase materially without your active and persistent co-operation, or (perhaps I should say) and the building of new roads. Capital will certainly be found to build new roads if you continue to lag behind the development of industry. As you are great, be broad in your plans for Pittsburgh. Sow confidently; the harvest will be plenteous.

In a recent speech before congress Gen. Grosvenor of Ohio, said: "If there is one great industrial system in the United States greater than any other, and more conducive to the best interest of the people of the United States than any other, it is the railroads of the United States. Vast in their scope, splendid in their construction, intelligent, wise and wonderful in the magnitude of their purposes." That is a true statement, and a just tribute to those masters of transportation, many of whom have gone before, but whose work had much part in the upbuilding of the great and glorious country. Will such men fail to see the possibilities of Pittsburgh? I cannot believe it, and so with confidence look forward to that Greater Pittsburgh of which the present is but the foretaste.

TRAFFIC CLUB'S SPECIAL TRAIN AND ITS PASSENGERS

JUDGE GROSSCUP URGES CORPORATION SUPERVISION

Chicago Jurist Claims Modern Form of Ownership Has Come to Stay But Must Be Regulated.

Judge Grosscup's address dealt entirely with the abuse of the power of incorporation and the remedy indicated. It was delivered in response to the toast, "The Regeneration of the Corporation." He spoke first of the complete failure of 15 years' effort to annihilate "trusts," and insisted that the corporation is here to stay, as it is the sole means of uniting the wealth of the many under a single management. He referred to the abuse of over-capitalization, citing a New Jersey company with an authorized capital of $40,000,000, of which $10,000,000 was issued; then reduced to $2,000,000, and when the concern became bankrupt $25,000 of assets were found. He said:

But though overcapitalization is a cause, it is not the only cause in my judgment, not even the chief cause—of the sense of insecurity which has crept into corporation proprietorship. One of the chief causes is the trick that can be found in the priorities given to the corporation securities. The value of a security in any industrial structure depends upon its place of anchorage—the number and amount of the issues that precede it, and no one, not an expert, can tell where, in many of the greatest corporations of this day, any given security comes in. Another is the unrestrained liberty to insert into the administration of corporations personal purposes, schemes for personal advancement on the part of those who ought to be the corporation's trustees.

Geological Corporations.

There are corporations in this country—too many of them—built on lines like these, stratification on stratification, with secret seams through which are sapped the foundations on which the stratifications rest. They go on well for a little while. But the hour of reckoning comes, and when that hour comes, that which appeared solid as rock, crumbles under the stress of its own weakness. How can it be expected that under a public policy that winks at these things, the ordinary man can feel otherwise than that he is effectually excluded, except as a victim, from that large part of his country's properties?

He derided the claim that governmental regulation in such cases is interference with any honest industrial liberty. He spoke in the same vein of the claim that sympathy for those who lose is not deserved because no one is compelled to invest in such securities. He spoke of the corporation driving the individual man out of proprietorship of any kind and said:

The banks are corporations, and deposits essentially are a form of investment. The cause is not that we have lost the instinct of proprietorship. The wish to own something, on the part of every American, to be on the way to a personal independence, was never stronger than at the present day. The cause is the sense of insecurity that the career of the average corporation justifiably inspires. And the effect will be, in time, a government where power will be in the people, but property the concern of a few only of the people—a sea of incompatible conditions through which no government has ever yet successfully steered.

But you ask me, how can the course of things as they are be changed? How can the individual man be brought back into proprietorship? My answer is: Take the corporation at once and forever out of the list of suspects. Put the corporation, as national banks and trust companies are now put, under the supervision and control of law, to the end that it become a faithful steward. Make it, for instance, impossible for the promoters of the street railway, the case I have mentioned, to have diverted from replenishment the earnings that under any honest administration ought to have gone to replenishment. That would have been no stretch of supervision beyond what is exercised now over banks, insurance companies, and savings societies; and it would have saved the investor in these street railway securities from the financial morass into which he was led, and the public any cause for justifiable indignation.

Make it impossible to capitalize corporations at figures that can have no purposes other than that of artificial and temporary inflation—an inflation that on collapse leaves the victims holding the bag.

Make impossible the geologic capitalization—the capitalization laid in layers, one on top of the other, the last kept green for a little while only by dividends snatched from the air, or abstracted from the assets, and then, when the object has been attained, allowed to dry up and pulled from the earth.

The great heart of the world has always been with the man who works. To him now, more than at any time in previous history, is turning also the world's great brain. All over our country are springing up examples of labor taken into partnership with capital—examples of the men who create, and the multitude who carry out these creations, making common causes. Make it possible to give corporate form and governmental security to this kind of just and helpful industrial affiliation. In short, as I have just said, take the corporation out of the list of suspects. Make it medium of ownership into which the principles of justice enter, and the instinct of our people, always alert to help us, man for man, to an individual independence, will do the rest.

Public Must Be Shown Need.

In thus emphasizing, as the supreme object of corporate regeneration, the individual man and his re-admission into the proprietorship of the country, I do not wish to be understood as saying that the movement has not an economic as well as a human side. But I have not time tonight to pursue the economic side. My purpose tonight is to press the moral issue. I wish, if I can, to wake up my countrymen to the reality that right under their eyes a world drama is enacting—a republican people individually casting off their stake in republican institutions. Upon the specific measures that have been proposed, I have no word to offer now. Except that the power to be conferred must, so far as it relates to interstate commerce, be conferred upon the nation, the time is not ripe for the discussion of this or that measure as the better means to the end desired. First, let us clearly bring into the public consciousness what the end is that is to be desired. To do that the popular vision must be cleared up; we must kindle popular interest, bring our people back to the ideal that the first requirement of stable republican government is a country owned by its people as well as governed by its people.

PRESIDENT SPENCER SHOWS THE RAILROADS' ARGUMENT

Head of the Southern Railway Discusses Rate Legislation and Makes Recommendations for Future Action.

The railroad side of the rate question was presented by Samuel Spencer, president of the Southern railway and recognized as unusually well equipped to speak for the big interests. His discourse was entirely free from bitterness of any kind, its whole tenor being judicial. Mr. Spencer said in part:

The distinguished jurist who is your guest tonight has properly and pertinently said: "The railroad man has his hour of opportunity now. Let him join our president in establishing a tribunal through which the nation's power can be honestly, but at all times adequately exercised. That will bring peace with justice. No other peace would last."

At no time has the president's intention been to advocate governmental regulation of railways which would inflict injury upon the investments in the properties or impair the usefulness of the carriers to the public. He has never advocated, and he can be trusted never to advocate the adoption of any regulation which does violence to the fundamental principles on which the government is founded.

If a tribunal which will answer the description can be organized, or if methods can be found—and I believe they can be without the necessity of an additional and special tribunal for the purpose—by which the great railway questions of the day can be settled in accordance with law and equity, and in accordance with those fundamental principles of government which are guaranteed by the constitution, I speak with authority when I say that substantially every railway manager in the country will subscribe to that view, and aid in the accomplishment of the desired results.

Innocent May Suffer With Guilty.

The difficulties of adjustment, therefore, lie not, as has been so often claimed, in any obstruction or default in the railway manager. They rest fundamentally in the anomalous condition in which the carriers are placed under the law: in those suggestions of remedy which, failing utterly to reach the evils sought to be cured, would punish unwisely and unnecessarily the innocent along with the guilty; and in those suggestions which look to the separation of one particular class of property from all others, to be dealt with invidiously by special tribunal and by special methods.

It is not reasonable regulation to which the carriers object. It is to unwise and unfair regulation. It is not the regulation which seeks directly to remedy known and tangible evils, but it is the so-called regulation which, while ostensibly attacking one evil, or class of evils, inflicts unknown and unjustifiable injuries upon those who are not offenders, and that which undertakes unnecessarily to interfere with the legal and beneficial freedom of commercial action and enterprise, and thus to diminish the future usefulness of the carriers, and impede the material development of the resources of the country. It is not the regulation which improves, but it is the regulation which retards.

Townsend Bill Not Desirable.

The president, in his message to congress in December, announced in no uncertain terms that the rebate, the secret contract, the private discrimination must go," and that "the highways of commerce must be kept open to all on equal terms. The country as a whole, including the owners and the managers of railways properties, zealously supports him in this declaration of purpose. When the Elkins law was passed, as is well known that not a single carrier in the country raised the slightest objection, and not one objects now to any provision of law which will aid in accomplishing this declared purpose of the president.

But the Townsend bill, which passed the house of representatives at the last session, contained not a single provision for dealing with these or kindred abuses, nor was any bill presented or suggested which could be construed as having that most desirable end in view.

The president's specific recommendation that the commission be vested with power, where a given rate has been challenged and found to be unreasonable, to decide, subject to judicial review, what rate shall take its place, and to put the rate into effect, was most wisely qualified by the statement that "at present it would be undesirable, if it were not impracticable, to finally clothe the commission with general authority to fix railroad rates."

Means Control, Not Regulation.

And yet substantially every bill which has been presented in congress looking to granting increased powers to the commission has been so drawn that the intimate and necessary effect of its provisions, if enacted into law, would be to "finally clothe the commission with that general authority" which the president, in his conservatism, pronounces "undesirable, if it were not impracticable."

Such enactments would not be "regulation." They would mean incipient, if not final, control of the sources of revenue of all the carriers, and that, it is safe to say, the president never intended.

They might easily mean the taking of property or the diminution of its value without due process of law, or without compensation to the owners.

The effect of such regulation undoubtedly would be the curtailment of future railway construction and improvements, not only by reason of the impairment of railway credit, but also from the unwillingness of investors to offer or to enlarge properties, the revenues of which would be practically under government or political control and the expenses still be subject to the uncertainties of industrial conditions.

The railways of this country are chartered and exist to perform certain public services, and they represent, with a few isolated exceptions, the investment of private capital.

Would Divide the Functions.

If further legislation be necessary, and I do not say that it is not, let it be given the direction pointed out by the evils calling for correction, and along logical, not experimental lines for the removing of those evils.

Draw the distinction broadly and unmistakably between punishment for crime or misdemeanor, on the one hand, and the unnecessary and unwise governmental or paternal interference with legitimate and legal exercise of individual endeavor, on the other.

Separate widely the functions of government which detect, and arraign and prosecute, from those which sit in judgment upon complaints and offenses against the law.

Strengthen the laws in condemnation of rebates, secret devices and unjust discriminations to any extent that may be found possible, and provide, if such further provision still be necessary, for the prompt arraignment and prosecution of all offenders of the law in the duly constituted courts of the country, and for the unsparing punishment of those who are found to be guilty. If there are such offenders in the railway fraternity, their offenses should be exposed and punished, but it is un-American and unfair, not to say outrageous, that because it is alleged there are such, that every manager, every president and director, shall be subject to indiscriminate public condemnation, and that the innocent investors shall have their property jeopardized, and their rights infringed, because those to whom the prosecution of the law is entrusted fail to find the offender, and to punish him.

Reach Other Carriers.

Bring under the provisions of the interstate commerce act and the jurisdiction of the commission, those water lines which are engaged in interstate commerce in competition or in conjunction with the railways; place such restrictions upon the interstate traffic passing partly through foreign countries as will consist compliance with all the laws and regulations which apply to that moving solely within the United States boundaries; screen the mantle of its law and of the commission over the fast freight and private car lines doing interstate commerce, and institute, if needs be, such regulations in respect to industrial tracks and phantom railways as shall prevent such allowances to them as may breed insidious erosion of the law.

In a word—stop illegal abuses drastically, but avoid action which will affect savings put into railroads in good faith; avoid legislation which might impair security and efficiency and reduce the wages of our 1,300,000 employes, for to the wage earners alone among that number now go over half of the gross expenses of the American railroads.

Public Opinion Final Tribunal.

Thus far I have discussed the regulation of railways from the standpoint of practical operation, and under the provisions of law. I do not overlook the fact that there is in this country one final tribunal which, under free institutions, is the court of last resort. The carriers, as well as every other interest, must recognize that the great tribunal to which the final appeal must be made, is public opinion, and to the edict of that opinion, when pronounced, the carriers, of course, will bow. All that they ask, all that they have the right to expect, is that to that tribunal the case may be thoroughly presented, and they shall be fully and impartially heard, that the court of public opinion shall not sit hastily or passionately.

I for one have every confidence that when the great, complex and far-reaching question which is now being agitated shall be thoroughly understood in all its bearings—the experience of the past, its possibilities and its dangers for the future—that the verdict of that great jury, when made up, will be just and fair, and under it the industries of this country will continue to flourish, and the interests of the public, and the interests of the carriers, will be equitably protected.

Fair Decision Certain.

Our country has become the center of the largest enterprises that the world has ever known. Their stupendous size alone seems at times to obscure the vision not only of those who look idly on, but of those who carry the burdens of responsibility. We have apparently come to regard mere size and power and accumulation as an evidence of wickedness. This probably is a mere passing condition. We have grappled before with perplexing and difficult problems, and in every case the sound common sense and conservative character of the American people have ultimately overcome them all, and the nation has been guided safely through many dangers. We were pioneers in the establishment of the best government on earth. We were pioneers in the settlement and the development of the wealthiest of continents. We were pioneers in the creation of the most widespread and the most perfect system of transportation, over the largest area, at the lowest rates, and of the highest efficiency, that the world has ever seen.

I have no doubt, with the same success that has marked our course in other difficulties when the way seemed for a while not clear, we will find ways and means to deal with this great question justly and fairly; that the carriers will continue to be subordinate to a government that they will find understands and protects the government in wise and beneficial and equitable protection, with all their legitimate powers and privileges preserved, for the welfare of their owners, and their usefulness to the public unimpaired.

MEANS THE EXTINCTION OF THE INDIVIDUAL

Judge Grosscup Is an Opponent of Municipal Ownership—Dunne's Plan Difficult of Success.

Federal Judge Peter S. Grosscup of Chicago is not enthusiastic over the prospects for the success of Mayor-elect Dunne's program for the acquisition by the city of Chicago of the traction lines of the western metropolis.

"Municipal operation of street railways in Chicago is a long way off," he declared yesterday, "but in view of the indorsement by the people of the municipal ownership idea, I trust Mayor Dunne will be able to make some arrangement with the companies, permitting the city to own the lines, the companies to operate them as heretofore.

"The railway companies will sell their properties if they obtain their price. There is no doubt about that. But the difficulty is that Chicago has no money with which to buy. The city has gone to the bond issue limit prescribed by law. The city has no legal resource for raising the money, either. But there is one thing possible: By the provisions of what is known as the Mueller act the city is given authority to issue certificates, which will not be a debt against the municipality, but rather a lien upon the street railway lines. These may be offered the companies for their properties. Whether they will accept them is another question."

Judge Grosscup said that a recent official estimate of the value of the traction lines of Chicago was the figure at $35,000,000, exclusive of the value of the franchises. Judge Grosscup suggested as a reasonable course, that the city own the railways and allow the companies to operate them, with the understanding that the municipality can operate the lines upon the payment of the full value of the properties.

"But I am not in favor of municipal ownership," continued the judge; "it is a species of socialism that leads to the extinction of the individual. It has been a failure wherever tried. Some public service is always a natural monopoly. The street railway is one of them. The telephone service is another. Over all these enterprises, however, the city or the general government ought to have a close supervision."

Nine Barges Went Adrift.

The breaking of a cable on the sand boat Harriett in the Allegheny river at the foot of Thirteenth street, Sharpsburg, set nine barges adrift yesterday afternoon. The steamers Return and John Kline gave chase to the barges and the Return ran aground with two barges in tow. The John Kline and the Harriet managed to capture three of the runaways, but the remaining four ran fast aground at the riffles.

Turned Johnson Over to Detectives.

Walter Johnson, alias William Foster who was arrested as a suspicious character yesterday, was turned over to the bureau of detectives. It was alleged by Dr. H. G. Carmalt of 327 Grandview avenue, Mt. Washington, that Johnson had entered his house and that he had chased him nearly two blocks clad only in his night clothes. Inspector McKay said that Johnson is a member of a gang of robbers known as Yeggmen.

Driver Dies of His Injuries.

J. J. Ossman, aged 49, of 166 Climax street died last evening at the Homeopathic hospital from injuries received Thursday, March 30, at Second avenue and the Tenth street bridge. Ossman was driving off the bridge when his wagon slid on the car track and he was thrown off. His skull was fractured by the fall and his legs were fractured by being run over by the wagon.

Avalon Fire Company Entertained.

A large audience saw the entertainment given by the Avalon fire company last night in the Avalon borough hall. The performance included a stereopticon lecture called "Trip from New York to Liverpool," and a comedy sketch, "The Quarrelsome Servants," in which J. K. Henry, W. F. Hunter and James Swan, members of the fire company, took parts.

A Difference That Counts.

The difference between Three per cent, which is the maximum interest usually paid by country banks, and Four per cent interest, which the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings of this city pays and has paid for nearly 30 years of its 43 years' existence, means an addition of one-third to income. Those of our readers having money to invest safely and profitably should write this bank for a copy of their new Banking by Mail booklet. It gives a complete exposition of the system.

WILL WAIT UNTIL GOVERNOR SIGNS

Annexation Ordinance Will Not Be Introduced in Councils Monday.

ALLEGHENIANS GET HEARING

The city administration is waiting for Gov. Pennypacker to sign the Greater Pittsburgh bill before instituting proceedings in the councils petitioning court for an election on annexaton in the two cities. The governor will not be able to sign the bill by next Monday night and the ordinance authorizing the proper officials of the city government to petition court will not be introduced at the next meeting of councils. Both branches are scheduled to hold regular sessions on Monday.

It is the opinion of the city officials that it would be better to wait until the governor has signed the bill before introducing the ordinance in councils, even though the ordinance is not passed until after the governor has acted. This would not give the opposition to the Greater Pittsburgh the slightest chance to charge irregularity, as it might do if the initial step was taken by councils in advance of the governor approving the bill.

The action by councils will be in the form of an ordinance which probably will be referred to the finance committee, to which was referred to the ordinance annexing the borough of Elliott, now the Thirty-ninth ward.

It is regarded as a certainty that Gov. Pennypacker will sign the measure, because he is an enthusiastic advocate of the Greater Pittsburgh and was consulted in the framing of the bill. After the bill reaches the governor there will be a further delay in the signing owing to a hearing which the governor has granted to the opponents of the bill from Allegheny. The so-called "public defense committee" of Allegheny, of which W. C. Gill is chairman, will go to Harrisburg and present objections to the governor. It will ask for the vetoing of the measure on the grounds that it does not give Allegheny a separate vote and on the allegation that the bill is unconstitutional. How it expects to convince the governor that the bill is unconstitutional is a source of considerable perplexity to prominent attorneys, in view of the decision of the supreme court in the "ripper" bill of 1901, which held that the state, having created a municipality, has absolute power over it.

Mr. Gill said yesterday that if the governor signs the bill, the matter will be fought in the supreme court. If this plan is followed, it would delay a vote on the question of annexation and would also probably delay proceedings in the Pittsburgh councils, but an effort would be made to have a speedy decision by the supreme court, so that an election could be held not later than in the fall.

ALLEGHENY VETERANS WANT A SEPARATE VOTE

The Allegheny War Veterans' Republican club, at a meeting at its club room, 16 North Diamond street, Allegheny, last evening, adopted a resolution condemning the Greater Pittsburgh bill unless the people of the North Side are given a separate vote on annexation. The resolution provides for the appointment of three members of the club as a committee to examine the provisions of the bill, and if they are not satisfactory to take the matter into court and get a decision on the bill's constitutionality. There was also some discussion over the alleged attempt to keep the names of veterans off political tickets.

EAST END TO SECURE TWO COSTLY CHURCHES

St. Andrew's Episcopal and the Third United Presbyterian Secure Sites for Handsome Structures.

Two more costly churches are assured for the East End, as the result of deals closed yesterday by their trustees. St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal church purchased from Charles R. Miller, a site at Hampton and St. Clair streets, Nineteenth ward, for $33,000, the deal being handled by Baldridge & Watson. The property fronts 240 feet in Hampton street and 150 feet each in Euclid avenue and St. Clair streets. It is vacant and was bought by Mr. Miller last December for about $25,000. On the opposite corner is the Fulton public school and in the immediate neighborhood are a number of fine residences. Two weeks ago the trustees were seriously considering a site in the North Negley district, but this was abandoned as the locality chosen yesterday seemed to be more acceptable to the congregation as a whole. Plans will be drawn at once, it is said, for a $75,000 church building.

Final signatures were secured yesterday through the office of the Real Estate Trust Company to the purchase of a site in Northumberland street, Squirrel Hill, for the Third United Presbyterian church, full particulars of the choice of which were published in The Gazette a few days ago. The consideration for the two lots bought is $52,750, $2,750 more than the church has raised for the purpose, as reported at a recent meeting. One property belonged to Daniel H. Wallace and fronts 170 feet in Northumberland street, with a depth of 265 feet in Denniston avenue. This brought $22,750. The other lot, which was bought from J. P. McKinney for $30,000, faces 160 feet in Northumberland street and 200 feet in Shady avenue. The selection of this site was made after an extended canvass of East End properties, and the corner is much the most attractive offered to the trustees. The church to be erected will cost not less than $100,000.

CONFERREES NAMED.

Journeymen Carpenters and Master Builders Prepare to Adjust Wage Scale.

Two communications passed one another through the mails yesterday which may result in a settlement between the journeymen carpenters and the master builders. Each letter contained a statement that a committee had been appointed to meet a like committee and was ready to confer when called upon. Each side is apparently waiting for the other to call a conference.

The contention between the Builders' league and organized workmen has virtually narrowed down to two organizations—the carpenters and the plumbers. If the carpenters get together the plumbers will likely follow suit without any more delay. Everything points to a settlement of all disputes by the end of next week.

Death Warrants Read to Three.

Charles Jackson, Walter Obey and Charles Miles, the negroes under sentence to be hanged on April 27, yesterday listened to the reading of their death warrants by Sheriff Dickson. None of the men evinced unusual interest in the matter. All professed a readiness to meet death. Jackson said he was not afraid to die, but disliked to be hanged for a crime he did not commit.

Condition Remains Critical.

The condition of the Rev. Dr. David F. McGill, pastor of the Sixth United Presbyterian church of Allegheny, and stated clerk of the general assembly of that denomination, who is seriously ill at his home, 1508 Chartiers street, Allegheny, was reported last night as being unchanged. Dr. McGill is suffering from a complication of diseases.

M'KEESPORT HAS ONLY TWO YEARS MORE TO LIVE

Mayor Falkenstein Predicts That by That Time Tube City Will Be All Ready for Greater City's Protecting Arms.

"McKeesport has a new lease of life for two years only," said Mayor George J. F. Falkenstein of that city yesterday. "Greater Pittsburgh will get us in that length of time. The machine at Harrisburg is a wonder, and when the orders are issued at the next session of the legislature to take McKeesport in, we will have to go. There will be nothing else to it."

Mayor Falkenstein created somewhat of a sensation when he made these remarks upon his arrival home from Harrisburg yesterday morning. The mayor spent the last few days in that city working against the passage of any measure that might affect his home city, but left there firmly convinced that annexation to Pittsburgh cannot be staved off longer than two years. Many other prominent McKeesporters are of the same opinion as the chief executive, and sentiment in favor of going into the Greater City is growing.

It is believed that no opposition would have been put forward to coming in with Allegheny at the present time had it not been for certain officeholders and politicians. In another year Mayor Falkenstein's term will be out, and as he is a candidate for county commissioner he is expected to be strongly in favor of a greater city with McKeesport in it.

DIRECTOR MUST GET FULLY 500 WAIVERS

He Again Purposes to Ask the Taxpayers $2,000,000 for Hump Removal.

There are 500 different pieces of property that front on streets proposed to be regraded in the hump district, on which Director Bigelow says he intends to secure waivers of damages from the owners before again submitting to the people the question of removing the hump. Director Bigelow secured waivers on less than half of these properties when the question was submitted to the people last July 12, and there was a dispute about a number of the waivers which he claimed to hold.

There is said to be 12 pieces of property, for which waivers were secured, which have changed hands since the last vote on the proposed bond issue of $2,000,000 for the hump removal. Nearly all the waivers which Mr. Bigelow holds have expired, among them being that of H. C. Frick, who stipulated that work must start on the improvement before the first of January, 1905. A renewal of Mr. Frick's waiver will be very easily obtained, as his property will be the most benefited.

Director Bigelow has not changed his estimate of the cost of the improvement, and says he will again ask for a bond issue of $2,000,000, thus asking the taxpayers of the city to bear the entire expense, instead of assessing benefits against the property of H. C. Frick and others, who will be chiefly favored by the improvement. Neither will any change be made in the new grades which have been fixed for the streets.

It is still proposed to make a cut of 14.7 feet at Grant street and Fifth avenue, 18.1 feet at the court house, directly opposite the end of Wylie avenue, 13.4 feet at Ross street and Fifth avenue, 15.8 feet at Grant and Diamond streets, 5.8 feet at Grant street and Fourth avenue, 3.9 feet at Third avenue and Cherry alley, 18.2 feet at the jail at Ross and Diamond streets, 14.5 feet at Oliver avenue and Grant street, 7.4 feet at Grant street and Sixth avenue, 14.7 feet at Sixth and Webster avenues, 8 feet at Wylie and Sixth avenues, 16 feet at Tunnel street and Webster avenue, and 2.8 feet at Grant street and Strawberry alley.

WIFE COULD NOT TESTIFY.

Thomas Nugent and Mrs. Nora Magee were given a hearing before Alderman Groetzinger yesterday on a charge of larceny made by Mrs. Mary Nugent of No. 1724 Arch street. Nugent is the husband and Mrs. Magee a sister of the prosecutrix. She claimed that $26 had been stolen from under a mattress where she had hidden it Monday, and that her husband and sister were the only persons who had access to the room.

The alderman was obliged to discharge Nugent and under the law the woman could not testify against him. Mrs. Magee was also discharged and Mrs. Nugent said she was positive her sister would not steal from her.

Adjusting Coal Miners' Scale.

A conference began yesterday at the Seventh Avenue hotel between representatives of the coal operators and miners on the river and low-grade divisions of the Allegheny Valley district. About 30 mines in that field are in sub-districts Nos. 2 and 8 of the United Mine Workers. The miners ceased work March 31, pending a settlement of the scale. The conference will continue today and probably Monday.

To Investigate Tenements.

Superintendent Moore of the bureau of health yesterday issued orders to his inspectors to investigate the conditions in the tenement houses. Detective Eagan was recently detailed to accompany one of the state inspectors through some tenements in Basin alley. The officers reported the conditions to Superintendent Moore and the health inspectors will now make a thorough investigation.

From Oregon to Jail.

Paul E. Griffith, who was brought back to this city from Portland, Ore., where he gave himself up to the police and announced that he had embezzled $7,000 from the Tibby Bros.' Glass Company at Sharpsburg a year ago, waived a hearing before Alderman McMasters yesterday on charges of embezzlement, forgery and false pretenses. He was recommitted to jail in default of $5,000 bail.

Flatteners' Wages Increased.

A general advance of 10 per cent in the wages of the flatteners has been announced by the American Window Glass Company. The new rate will go into effect May 20 and continue until September 9. About 200 men are affected.

CLOSES AN IMPORTANT DEAL FOR RESIDENCE

W. P. Snyder's Shadyside House Purchased by E. V. Babcock for $85,000.

The most important residence deal made in Pittsburgh for months was the purchase yesterday by E. V. Babcock of the W. P. Snyder property at the northwest corner of Ellsworth avenue and Colonial place, for $85,000. The property is in the heart of the Shadyside district and is surrounded by some of the finest mansions in the city. For some years it has been kept by Mr. Snyder chiefly as a winter home, and is now vacant. During his stay in Florida Mr. Snyder practically agreed to the sale to Mr. Babcock, who was in Florida also, and the final papers in the deal were signed yesterday.

The property has a frontage of 120 feet in Ellsworth avenue, 140 feet in Colonial place and an extreme depth on one side of 247 feet. The residence, which is set well back from the corner, is a very handsome brick house of 16 rooms, expensively finished and provided with every modern improvement. The grounds are beautifully set and the place commands a fine view. Directly opposite the house is "Cairncarque," the costly home of Robert Pitcairn. Near by are the homes of James McCrea, John W. Hubbard and Joseph Wood.

Rumors of a deal for the Snyder house have been current for some time, but it was not suspected that Mr. Babcock was the prospective purchaser. Mr. Babcock is president of the Babcock Lumber Company, and a member of the firm of E. V. Babcock & Co. He now lives in South Negley avenue, but will move the latter part of this month to his new home.

TO SAFEGUARD JUSTICE.

Interest in the Caleb Powers' Fund Is Maintained by Believers in Equity and Fair Play.

Those who would sacredly guard the rights of justice and defend equitable process of law to the uttermost, are showing by material aid their interest in the future of Caleb Powers, who has been denied liberty for five years to satisfy a political conspiracy.

Three times he has gone through the formality of a trial by jury, but in no instance has a hearing been allotted him that men of honor would countenance. That this burlesque on justice should no longer prevail in his case or that of any other man under suspicion of crime, is the fixed determination of a great portion of the noblest and most patriotic of American citizens, regardless of political affiliation. The Gazette fund on behalf of Caleb Powers offers an opportunity to safeguard justice, while Caleb Powers is the unfortunate instrument who has been so long used in an effort to wreck a sacred constitutional right. That such base motives can be properly met in the coming fourth trial of Caleb Powers, contributions to this fund are needed at once, and any subscriptions made will be acknowledged in these columns from day to day. Subscriptions received yesterday:

F. C. S.	$ 10 00

PEOPLE ARE IN DANGER.

Director Moore Charges That a Council Committee Is Risking Life by Delaying Ordinance.

"The people of this city are daily walking on smoldering volcanos which may at any time kill them, yet measures to insure their safety are tied up in council committees which give the matter of danger no thought," said Director Moore yesterday in discussing the explosive ordinance which was referred to sub-committee of the public safety committee.

The ordinance is to regulate the manufacture, sale, storage and transportation of explosives. The director says the ordinance was held up at the instance of the transfer companies, who are interested in hauling explosives through the crowded streets of the city at all hours of the day. The storage of explosives of various kinds in large quantities in downtown stores is what the director refers to as "smoldering volcanos."

Yellow Row Now Vacant.

"Yellow Row," the notorious Second avenue tenement, is tenantless at last, and the police propose to see that it remains so. An Italian complained to the police yesterday that he had been robbed by women living in the house. Investigation resulted in the arrest of five women. They were sent to the workhouse. After the arrests the department of public safety ordered the police to visit "Yellow Row" and arrest any tenants there. But the place was empty. Hereafter a policeman will visit the row daily to see that no one uses it for a habitation.

Better store your goods in your own warehouses than have them grow shop-worn on the shelves of the retailer.

If your goods were stocked from ocean to ocean your manufacturing problem would not be solved by any means. If the goods were bought and paid for by the wholesaler or retailer and you had the money in the bank your problem would still be unsolved.

You cannot be successful or get rich in one order from each dealer. Every dealer must come back with frequent "repeat" orders. The goods must move from the dealers' shelves into the hands of the people in order to keep your business moving. That is your real problem—to get the goods into the hands of the customer and keep him coming back to the retailer for more.

There is no way on earth to do this except by advertising in mediums which reach the people who should use your products. Representative American people read The Saturday Evening Post every week. It is the favorite magazine in 800,000 families. It is read by 4,000,000 people. Its frequent appearance makes it an exceptionally strong and successful advertising medium, and its high character inspires its readers with confidence.

Spring Belongings of Men's Attire.

In our Men's Store we have any number of new requisites for men who like to dress well, including the very latest things emanating from Paris, those coming out of New York, and a good many of our individual ideas worked up into neckwear and gloves and shirts.

The fact is that whatever men have in mind in the matter of those things that contribute to correct dress will be found in our Haberdashery, and they will be found at the most reasonable prices consistent with quality. Quality and modest prices are the foundation stones of this store. Let us look over some of the new things we have for men.

From London—Foulard Scarfs—
Just received a lot of striking neckwear silks, solid color, twilled striped foulards.
To London for foulards every time. No other city equals them.

To Make the Price $1.00
we bought the silks (and that saved us a lot of duty), and can make them up into pretty Four-in-Hands.
They tie into a soft, graceful knot—four shades—navy, black, green, brown. Also a large variety of same foulards in figures and dots. Shown exclusively here.

Reynier Walking Gloves—
The finest gloves made. Unlike all other glove makers, Reynier produces only one grade and that the highest. His gloves are perfect fitting and every pair is guaranteed. Newest shades now ready.
Kid, Pique sewn gloves, $2.00 a pair.
Chevrette tanne, prix seam sewn, $2.50 pair.

Shirts of Latest Style—
The most varied and complete stock of negligee shirts we have ever shown, now ready for an early inspection.
Shirts from the foremost manufacturers in America, a splendid collection of their choicest productions in madras, oxford, silk and flannel.
Plain and pleated. Coat Shirts, attached or detached cuffs, price range $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 and on to $4.00.
Will you see our French Shirts? Do, if you please, at your earliest convenience. Quite sure you will be de-light-ed. Made in Paris by a French shirtmaker who is not represented in America save by this store. Therefore there are no duplicates in the country.
These shirts are hand-finished, and are the most perfect fitting shirts that it is possible to find, not even shirts to measure excepted. They are unequaled for style, comfort and satisfaction. $2.00 each and up to $4.00.

Today, Ladies, for Choosing the Easter Hat.

Our millinery floor contains entirely too many styles of hats and toques and bonnets, and entirely too much diversity of trimming, to attempt a clear description, let alone an intelligent one, of any particular line.

There never was more beautiful millinery. There never were so many bewitching styles. There never was such complete variety of trimming—variety predicated on the fact that every sort of taste must be met and must be satisfied.

Again, our very best efforts have been put forth to give the patrons of this department the most becoming hats for the least prices.

There is only one way to understand the scope of our Spring exhibit of millinery, and that is to come and look the collection over. It doesn't cost anything to go through a lot of styles, and there is any amount of satisfaction connected with the diversion. If you see a stylish hat that takes your fancy you can easily ask the price of it, and after spending an hour or so among this millinery, if there is nothing to your liking, it will simply have resolved itself into the fact that we haven't pleased you, and that's all there is to it.

Visit this department today and see what a collection we have, and above all, note our modest prices.

Some Inexpensive Hosiery Today for Women and Children.

The statement published by Baron Suyematsu, a distinguished Japanese statesman, shows that there is no disposition in Japan to let Russia down easily or to forego any claims for which Japan's military success affords her a solid basis. The baron would hardly express himself in such positive terms without warrant and his declarations may be accepted as evidence that Japan will insist upon an indemnity sufficient to cover the cost of the war. Her right to do so is certainly unimpeachable, and the only doubt which has been felt was whether she would think it expedient to press the claim in view of the invulnerability of Russia to attack in her own territory and the possibility that the war might be protracted so as to produce an intolerable strain. But it appears that Japan has counted the cost and is prepared to go on to the end.

Judge Dunne, who has been made nationally conspicuous by his election as mayor of Chicago on the issue of public ownership of municipal utilites, delivered an address on that subject in New York last night. It is more rhetorical than convincing. In the main the argument is that if European cities can make a success of public ownership American cities can do likewise. It does not follow, for very different principles of municipal organization prevail in Europe from those applied in this country. Nor is it quite certain that municipal ownership has been such an unqualified success there, although as a rule honestly managed. The increase in municipal indebtedness in England has become alarming. That is the only feature of the system about which there can be any certainty if it shall be adopted by American cities. Municipal regulation and participation in the profits promises better results.

The New York gas investigation has brought out some figures of which great use will be made by the advocates of municipal ownership, although they are really an argument against grants of franchises without public control over rates or public participation in the profits. There is nothing to show that public management would have produced such a margin of profit in the business and the probability is against it. The president of a gas company admitted that his concern produced gas at a cost of 32.5 cents per thousand cubic feet for which consumers were charged $1. The vice president of an electric lighting company admitted that his company charged consumers more than double the cost of production. The charges of municipal utility corporations are greater in this country than in any other, simply because they are not held in subjection to public authority as in other countries.

Heretofore the discussion of Mr. Rockefeller's gift to the Congregational Board of Foreign missions has been of the most serious character. It remained for Thomas W. Lawson to give it a decided turn toward the ludicrous. Being shown the elaborate defense prepared by Samuel C. T. Dodd, Mr. Lawson said: "I would give one word of advice to the wise old spokesman of old gentleman Rockefeller. * * * My advice is, 'Don't talk; it's a bad habit.'" Coming from a gentleman whose public statements fall, "thick as leaves in Vallambrosa," who has, as one might say, almost talked himself to death, this advice is intensely funny. It brings the laugh that is bound to break up the discussion. Who, now, can refer to the subject without remembering the talkative Lawson's advice and bursting into guffaws? It seems too much for even the sanctimonious gravity of Dr. Gladden. "It's a bad habit."

The opponents of Greater Pittsburgh will have their last innings in a hearing before the governor. This will delay action upon the bill a little, but no doubt exists as to approval, as Governor Pennypacker is a cordial friend of the movement. It is also announced that the bill will be assailed in the courts, the failure to provide a separate vote for Allegheny City being a point upon which constitutional objections will be raised. Inasmuch as every municipal corporation is the creation of the state and if it saw fit the legislature could annex Allegheny City to Pittsburgh by its own act without consulting the people of either city, it is not likely that the point about the separate vote will have any force. There was no separate vote or, indeed, any formal consultation of the people affected when Philadelphia county was annexed to Philadelphia. All that is wanted in the Greater Pittsburgh movement, however, is to give the people of the entire area a chance to express their desire.

Capital Punishment.

The Rev. E. R. Donehoo is well known to be an advocate of the abolition of the death penalty and we give him space this morning to have his say upon the subject, which at the same time gives expression to the purport of other communications received upon the subject. Some of his arguments seem to be away from the point, as, for instance, his remarks upon the demoralizing spectacle of public executions. That can be regulated without abolishing capital punishment. His reference to the old ferocity of the criminal code does not prove that capital punishment should not be retained in the case of deliberate murder, but it may be remarked that the cruel punishments of past ages are thought by some sociologists to have had much to do with the making of modern civilization by weeding out natures inclined to live by preying upon society instead of by industry. The case has been tersely stated by saying that civilized man is a caged animal; the untameable have been killed off. When the old Draconian codes have done their work and the security of society is established, then a tendency is developed to soften the criminal law so as to bring it into accord with the improved state of sentiment, which it has indirectly created. Then if the relaxation of the laws is carried to an extent which leaves no adequate punishment for atrocious crime a strong disposition is created to substitute private vengeance for public justice and lynch law becomes prevalent. The Mosaic code may be regarded as obsoleted by reformers and legislators, but society instinctively returns to it, and then makes a wild and dangerous application of its principles.

Mr. Donehoo's argument to the effect that capital punishment does not act as a deterrent upon criminal natures implies the doctrine that all punishment is useless, but we do not think that this is in accord with known facts. We are not speaking of crimes done in the heat of passion, but these are not in point for the law does not visit them with capital punishment. The element of deliberation must enter the crime to raise it to the first degree. Hence professional criminals are as a rule cautious to avoid bloodshed in their operations. They take burglary risks, but not murder risks. The case of the Biddle brothers and of like desperadoes is exceptional, and while capital punishment may not deter them it exterminates them, which is the main point. Remove the fear of hanging and make the incident of murder only the risk of longer imprisonment, and can it be doubted that encouragement will be given to murder?

We willingly agree that it is a terrible thing to take human life, but the law should be terrible to offenders. That is what it is for. The infliction of the death penalty can be stopped by stopping murder. The abolition should be deferred till then.

Excessive Facilities.

Before going to the dinner of the Traffic club, Judge Peter S. Grosscup of Chicago submitted to an interview. The judge has been prominent as an advocate of national control for the big corporations. He is so now. Yet his first declaration was that there is a great deal of nonsense talked about monopoly and competition, followed by the assertion that Chicago might be better served by half as many railroad systems as now enter the city. In short Judge Grosscup believes a corporation under proper control may render better service at less cost than a half-dozen corporations in brisk, uncontrolled competition for enough traffic to keep one busy.

There is more in the Grosscup point of view than readily appears to the man who has been brought up on the dictum that "competition is the life of trade" and who has never gone afield to see for himself. The mere fact that great combinations have occupied so much of the trade field during recent years is evidence in itself that they possess points of advantage. There is strength in union and there is economy in organization. Moreover, to put it in the technical phrase of the engineer, the full load is the economical load.

In the railroad world there are much better illustrations in the west than in the east of the disadvantages of too many systems to handle the limited traffic. Chicago has a large tonnage, possibly enough for all of the railroad systems it has, though Judge Grosscup does not think so. Farther west, in troubled Kansas, in Iowa, in Nebraska, in Missouri there are more railroads than traffic. Every small town has two or three railroads. A light passenger traffic is so divided that each road is limited to one or two trains a day which often are not profitable. Freight trains are few and far between on the long stretches of indifferent single track and accidents are of much too frequent occurrence. These conditions lead to "traffic agreements" intended to secure dividends on two or three investments where one would suffice and the result is burdensome rates. The opposite picture is reckless competition that leads to bankrupt properties or physical ruin.

Wise regulation is essential to prevent abuses of monopoly, such regulation for railroads as President Roosevelt desires. It will be a much better protection to the public than unbridled competition in fields where the investment is already vastly in excess of legitimate earning capacity. In fact a large share of the unrest that has characterized the west may be traced to the fact that railroad building has been in advance of the development of the country, resulting in excessive charges upon the light traffic.

The Business Situation.

The most prominent feature of the stock market this week has been the rise in the value of industrial stocks. United States Steel preferred advanced to the highest price ever quoted, and a number of other prominent stocks established new high records. This class of security was relatively more active and stronger than railroad stocks. Making due allowance for manipulation and for the highly speculative character of some of the dealings, it is, nevertheless, a reasonable inference that the rise in market value corresponds with the rise in sentiment which has reached the stage of buoyancy in some branches of trade. This is particularly noticeable in the iron and steel trade. Since the organization of the United States Steel Corporaton an immense addition has been made to the productive capacity of the industry, and yet this week that corporation was again forced into the market to purchase raw material, and its finishing mills are taxed almost to their full capacity. It is stated on good authority that the orders booked ahead are now larger than ever before, reflecting the confidence of consumers. The report of the bureau of statistics made public during the week showed that for the eight months of the fiscal year our exports of iron and steel products approximated in value $85,500,000, the largest total for any corresponding period in our history. The iron and steel business cannot be active without stimulating activity in other industries, and the circle is constantly enlarging.

Another favorable feature of the situation is the relative ease in the money market. Quarterly settlements have been proceeding rapidly without causing any disturbance in money market rates, and large borrowers have no difficulty in disposing of new securities for the prosecution of plans of extension and betterment. Even the announcement that the treasury department would withdraw $27,000,000 government deposits, which at present constitute a portion of the available loanable funds of the national banks, caused no uneasiness and had no effect upon rates. This withdrawal will take place between now and July 1, and will be made payable in two installments.

On Monday the first government crop report of the season will be made. Its chief point of interest will be the figures reporting the average condition of winter wheat. Reports which have already been published by the agricultural department in some of the principal winter wheat states warrant the conclusion that the government report will be extremely favorable as compared with that for the same date last year. There are also indications that the acreage planted will be larger, owing to the relatively high price that has prevailed for the 1904 crop. The only thing that is needed to strengthen general business confidence in the future is assurance of bountiful crops, and so far as the first government crop report is concerned, this assurance is likely to be given.

Kansas a Huge Joke.

Gov. Hoch of Kansas declares his suggestion to christen the battleship Kansas with a bottle of crude oil was a joke. Because the Kentucky was christened with water from a spring where Lincoln drank, Gov. Hoch now proposes, in deference to the temperance sentiment of his state, to have the ceremony performed with a bottle of water from a spring where old John Brown was wont to quench his thirst. He opines there may be several such springs about Ossawatomie and that water from either would do.

Gov. Hoch may be joking again, who knows? He appears to be a humorist of no mean ability. Some time ago he declared it would be better to not have any court opinion on the state refinery bonds, because it would strengthen the patriotism of the people of Kansas to subscribe for them under a cloud of doubt about their validity. As a bit of delicate humor that conceit of the Kansas executive surpasses the suggestion of crude oil for a battleship christening.

Edward Hoch, governor, is not the only humorist in Kansas, however. In fact, humor is a Kansas specialty. Already there have been suggestions to have the new battleship christened with corn meal, with water from the salt wells, with ox-blood, with a bag of vitrified brick and with a batch of zinc spelter, representing the industries of the Sunflower state, aside from that which it accuses Standard Oil of trying to corner. There is so much humor in Kansas and a threat of so much more that it is an open question whether it should be taken seriously under any circumstances.

Eugene F. Ware, former poet and late pension commissioner, once pictured his state as a stage, relieving the remainder of the country from the task of sustaining Shakespeare's dictum that "All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players." He advanced the proposition, however, that all the principal actors were imported from beyond Kansas borders, beginning with the strolling troubadours from Missouri and ending with the "hatchet woman from Texas." He included in the list old John Brown of Ossawatomie and the statesman from West Virginia, through whose whiskers "blew the wild winds of the Panhandle," who "looked like a sage and talked like an Osage," but that was before Hoch came before the footlights to enact the drama of ousting Standard Oil with the aid of a state refinery and an army of heavy villains from the state penitentiary.

We are inclined to partly agree with Mr. Ware. In Kansas "the play's the thing," all right, all right. It goes on for longer and with more realistic accessories than the Chinese drama in seven books. The stage thunder at Topeka reverberates from Wichita to Nemaha and from Cherokee to Cheyenne. At times the Kaw river seems to run red to the borders of "rum-soaked Missouri." But it is all unreal. It is only make-believe. The tragedy conceals a farce. It is all so full of humor, or humors, that Kansas is a joke.

Director Moore speaks some truths about the transportation and storage of explosives in the city. These things ought to be kept outside of populous districts.

From comments of the Leader and Dispatch one may infer the Goehring retraction bill has not been given the stamp of approval by Director Bigelow.

Mayor Hays is urged to take charge of the Greater Pittsburgh celebration. He should, indeed, and should make the principal address on that great occasion.

A "Jack the Ripper" has appeared in New York, but as the police have caught him there is no excuse for him having a "career."

On the question whether there should be one or two postoffices in Greater Pittsburgh there should be the answer, "one."

"Tape worms for consumption." Doctors have long held the power of the tape worm for consumption of food is great.

Col. Ridgway is all right. He is sticking to "fair and warmer" with a courage that is bound to win in the course of time.

One of the objects of Greater Pittsburgh would be lost if the Allegheny postoffice remains intact to divide the business.

A device that would work as a good uphill and a good downhill fender would fill a long-felt want in Pittsburgh.

Juvenile Courts.

The time for pity, sympathy and sentiment on the part of the justice comes when he pronounces the defendant guilty. Then the character and attitude of the man upon the bench undergo a complete change, for a duty far transcending that of weighing facts and reaching conclusions now devolves upon him. This duty is to determine what to do with the youngster who has been convicted, and upon this question the greatest mistakes may be made; it is the one that weighs most heavily on the conscience of the court and is the most perplexing to the judicial mind. The controlling principle in the solution is, what is best for the boy is best for society; he must either be committed to some reformatory presided over by persons of like religious faith as the parents, or he must be permitted to return home. Either course may be dangerous. To commit may blast his future; to release may be iniquitous to him and a positive menace to others. In order to decide the judge must learn all that is possible about the individual; his habits, disposition, associations, reputation, home environment and previous record. If the boy attends school his record there is obtained; if at work the opinion of the employer is sought, but in a way not to produce injury. Happily the law upon this subject permits the court to get information through any channel, not even gossip, rumor or hearsay is excluded. In many cases several days are necessary to gather the material upon which the court finally acts. The majority of the cases do not require postponement for this purpose. The records of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children are so complete and instantly available as to enable us to know at the close of the trial whether there has been a previous conviction, which is of the first importance. If there be none, a suspended sentence or a parole generally follows, for it is believed that with the majority better results are obtainable through fear under freedom than by discipline under restraint.—Watson's Magazine.

THE DEATH PENALTY

Editor Pittsburgh Gazette: Your editorial of this morning entitled, "A Bill to Encourage Murder," is an unkind reflection not only on those who have been instrumental in bringing the bill to abrogate the death penalty, before our state legislature, but as well upon a very large class of our best people who are in full accord with the purposes contemplated by the bill. Your intimation that this matter has not been seriously considered by the people at large is very wide of the fact, since it is a question that has been extensively discussed in the press, the pulpit, in public assemblies, as well as in family and social circles, as long as I can remember. The literature on the subject is abundant and exhaustive. It has been before our legislature for years, and, like the old question of slavery, it will not down despite the slurs and insinuations heaped upon those who have reasoned and argued and pleaded for the abolishment of this utterly barbarous and wholly indefensible punishment. The stereotyped charges of sentimentality and soft-headedness and other complimentary epithets, against those who have opposed the infliction of the death penalty, have grown so trite in the course of years, since they were originally applied to those who pleaded for the doing away with capital punishment in the case of larceny and other offenses of that class, that they have come to be regarded as harmless by those to whom they are applied. No man ever yet under took any social or civic reform who was not branded on the spot with "sentimentalism," since it is about the cheapest and readiest weapon that one can find to fling at the man whose arguments are answerable.

The charge that murderers are made the objects of sympathy by the class at whom you sneer has been so often made that it is now about time that a fact or two was presented to sustain the statement. In all my experience with criminals who have been executed I have never yet known of a single one to whom any such charge would justly apply. It is true there have been many and earnest pleas for a change in the punishment to life imprisonment by those who revolted against the death penalty. But in cases where such intercession prevailed, and the prisoner was sent to the penitentiary from the moment he entered upon his sentence, he became a dead man so far as any sympathy from the public was concerned. There are today in the Western penitentiary 19 men serving life terms, and out of that number I do not believe there is a writer on your force who could so much as name three of these men. They are forgotten, out of mind absolutely. No maudlin sympathy is exhibited for them, and no one is clamoring to have them released that they may continue their murderous work. The only possible hope for the release of any of them lies in their utter breakdown in health eventually, with the certainty of death immediately on their return to their friends.

As to the death penalty deterring any man from committing murder, through fear that he will be made to suffer it, my careful study of a multitude of actual cases of murder in this county has led me to the conclusion that when a man is about to commit murder the thought of punishment is farthest from his mind, insomuch that if our law was made such that any man who commits murder shall be burned at the stake on the instant, I honestly believe that there would not have been one murder less to be recorded. Men are just as afraid today of committing murder in Massachusetts or in Italy, where the death penalty has been abolished, as in Allegheny county. And as long as the human heart remains as it is men will go on murdering one another whether the penalty be the gallows or the prison cell.

And now a word as to the effects of these hangings in our jails on the public at large. Instead of the title which you give to this bill my experience prompts me to suggest this as the more fitting title, "A Bill to Discourage the Horrible Spectacle Presented Every Time a Criminal Is Executed in Our County." For 35 years I have known how these executions were conducted and have been an unwilling witness of many of them. Here is my deliberate judgment: In every single instance the brutalizing influence of the scene upon those who so far enjoyed a pull upon the sheriff as to obtain the much-sought-after card of admission has been a hundred times greater than was the murder itself with all its accompanying atrocities upon the community at large. Take the last case in point which occurred within the past month. Our law provides only for the admission to the place of execution of certain officers of the law and a jury of 12 citizens. Had the newspapers written up that scene as it acually occurred with its clamoring and cursing crowd of a hundred frenzied men, each determined to be in the front line to witness the agonies of the poor wretch who was bunglingly hung up before their gaze only to be hurled to the ground, and again strung up after being revived for the purpose, I think that the public would feel as I have felt for many a long day that hanging is a barbarity that should be abolished in the interests of civilization, decency and the wellbeing of society.

I am fully aware that in advocating the doing away with these executions I will incur the censures of a great mob of ward heelers and political tools and court officials' favorites who have the promise of getting in to witness a hanging in their turn, but all the same I say, all honor to our wise, patriotic and fearless governor who is not afraid to assert his will at the cost of wholly unworthy criticism from any quarter, who is largely responsible for the present humane and just measure.

E. R. DONEHOO.

Power Plants at Niagara.

That great power plants are being constructed on the Canadian side of Niagara falls is well known, but probably not many recognize the stupendous character of the work now going on, nor appreciate the relation of the new plants to the total hydro-electric development of the world. The three great power stations now being built will have an aggregate output of 285,000 horsepower, distributed as follows: The Canadian Niagara Power Company, 110,000; the Toronto and Niagara Power Company, 115,000, and the Ontario Power Company, 60,000. The last named company intends increasing its stations ultimately to 180,000. Comparing the total for the present plans of 285,000 with the grand total for the world, which is given by the Engineer (London), as 1,483,000, shows what an important addition to the world's water power the Canadian plants will form. But this is not the whole story, for adding in the additional 120,000 planned for the Ontario Power Company, gives a total of 405,000 horsepower for the new Canadian stations—more than 27 per cent of the world's present hydro-electric power—Electrical Review.

Taxation in New York.

The New York legislature has passed a law imposing a tax of $2 on every 100 shares of stock traded in on the exchanges and also one placing a tax of one-half of one per cent on mortgages which may be drawn in future. These bills have been attacked with great virulence and from different points of view. It is understood that the governor will sign them and that they will soon be in operation.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By Frank A. Parker.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—Prospective borrowers on real estate in this city have already learned what the mortgage tax bill just passed by the legislature really means. They have been warned that on June 1 interest rates on loans will be advanced one-half of one per cent—the amount of the tax levied in the bill. Without waiting for Gov. Higgins to attach his signature to the measure, which has passed both branches of the legislature, several large institutions in this city anticipated the effects of the bill by pushing up the rate for loans. In several instances negotiations that were practically completed for building loans were declared off, and announcement was made that while the present uncertainty as to the tax on mortgages continues no loans will be placed.

Real estate men and builders who are in a position to speak with authority say the bill will check the expected activity in the building trade, and that in addition to the slight advance in rates which the tax will naturally cause, the scarcity of buildings will result in a still greater advance. In other words, the new tax will not be borne by the capitalist who loans money or the landlord who rents houses, but by the poor man who borrows and the workingman who rents apartments.

The "Home Side" of a Millionaire.

While so many unpleasant things are being printed about John D. Rockefeller just now it does not come amiss to speak of his home life. Showing that building up great corporations is but one of his accomplishments, Mr. Rockefeller busied himself today helping his grandson and grad-daughter, Fowler and Muriel McCormick of Chicago, make sand forts at Point Pleasant. The millionaire entered into the fun with great zest and went down on hands and knees while constructing the miniature battlements.

Mr. Rockefeller first took the children to Point Pleasant in his automobile. As soon as the seashore glade was reached he sat down to watch the children build forts. Muriel McCormick built up a big sand pile which her brother attacked and destroyed. Then their grandfather began molding the sand into a much more elaborate fort. When finished the children refused to attack it. When last seen the moat around the fort was filled with water from the rising tide, and Mr. Rockefeller's latest achievement was apparently doomed.

Plans for New Women's Clubhouse.

Plans have been filed in the bureau of buildings for a six-story and basement house to be built at Nos. 120, 122, 124 Madison avenue, for the Colony club. Mrs. J. Borden Harriman is president of the club. As planned, the house will be in the colonial style with a mansard roof and a balcony porch across the front. The facade will be of ornamental brick, with marble at the first story. The main floor will contain the club parlor and tea room, the reading and lounging rooms and a spacious veranda. The second story will be fitted as an assembly chamber with an oval-shaped gymnasium in the rear, each having a mezzanine story. The fourth floor will contain sleeping chambers, and the fifth the club's restaurant and private dining room. There will be a pretty roof garden also.

Parasol Handles Latest Fad.

Here's another tip from the woman's page: "Collecting parasol handles will become a fad equal to the souvenir spoon or post card craze if manufacturers continue to turn them out in such fascinating variety. A complete zoo in wood can be had from among the designs, which number every animal that ever came out of the ark and some which are grotesque enough to lack that respectable origin. An elephant's head with curved tusks does duty on a dull ebony handle. A saucy French poodle sits upon a pedestal-top handle of polished wood of the same kind. The bulky body of a carved bear adorns a handle of natural briarwood and the outstretched head and neck of the animal afford the necessary 'crook' for grasping."

Minister Fathers Baseball League.

The Rev. David Brewer Eddy, assistant pastor of Trinity Congregational church, East Orange, N. J., has rather startled a few of the old-style parishioners by beginning a sort of Christian baseball revival. He not only has organized the young men of Trinity into teams, but is coaching a local Young Men's Christian association team. Although he has not met any opposition on the part of the old school of church-goers, his athletic work is watched with interest by many. Several church baseball clubs are now training under the young minister, and if he succeeds in carrying out his idea, East Orange will turn out a startling crop of ball players in the coming season. Mr. Eddy is the youngest minister in the community, having been ordained about a year ago.

Just a Matter of Precaution.

Within a few weeks the State Railway commission's experts will make a thorough-going inspection of the subway rapid transit system, with a view to determining the safety of the road and its appliances. In making this inspection the State Railway commissioners do not start out with the idea that there is any lack of safety, but it is the opinion of the board that it has supervision over the subway, and the issue between it and the rapid transit commission will be forced in this way. Steam Railway Inspector Schultz and the commission's electrical expert, S. R. Barnes, will together begin the inspection just as soon as an inspection of the elevated lines which is now in progress is concluded.

Great Season for Icebergs.

Icebergs of great size and in unusually large numbers are reported by transAtlantic steamers which arrived today. The Steamship Silvia, which arrived from Hamburg on April 2, passed 50 icebergs extending over a distance of 20 miles. The weather was intensely cold, indicating that there were many more bergs in the vicinity. Several bergs, one of them more than a mile long and rising 100 feet out of the water, were sighted on March 31, by the British steamship Bora, which came in today from Huelva.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By Erasmus Wilson.

"The play's the thing wherein I'll catch the conscience of the king."—Hamlet.

It is the thing provided it holds the mirror up to nature and shows us in all truth what manner of people we are.

Does the modern play do this?

There are those who contend that it does not, therefore unsure to its mission and worthless as an instructor, or as a means to a worthy end.

While the modern play as a rule inferior to the standard play of two score years or more ago, may it not reflect the tastes and satisfy the desires of modern people?

The stage caters to the tastes of its patrons, otherwise it could not exist; at least it would not draw barrels of money and make rich those who manage and control it.

Older time managers did not make great fortunes, but they did give excellent plays, as a rule. Possibly this is the secret of their failure to accumulate fortunes and build palatial theaters. They were generally men of good taste and gave the people that which they thought was good and wholesome.

It is most encouraging to find that at least a few of the higher class actors and managers are still left among us, and that they are making the same vigorous effort to give people good and wholesome plays.

Among the more conscientious and intelligent of these is Mr. E. S. Willard, whose coming to our city is always hailed with delight by a large number of people whose tastes run to clean, wholesome stage productions rather than to problem and picture plays.

And yet, notwithstanding he offered a most excellent repertory for the present week consisting of clean, sensible, helpful plays, the business, from a box office point of view, does not compare at all favorably with some plays that could hardly be classed higher than picturesque tommyrot.

This is no fault of Mr. Willard, for he is a rare good actor, a clean, intelligent, cultured gentleman, and his company is composed of as clever and worthy people as are to be found in the profession. And as for as the theater and management nothing better could be asked.

Who, then, is at fault?

If not on the play, the actor, the company, nor of the theater or management there are none left upon whom to place the blame but the people.

In order to succeed in a business way the stage must offer the people that which they want, for they will not pay for that which they do not want.

Therefore, to learn the tastes of the people, and to see what they want you have only to look in upon a show that is drawing full houses and making lots of money for the players and managers.

And what is the style of these plays?

As a rule they are tawdry, flimsy and more or less inane, with plenty of stage effects, while the players are shapely in form and figure, dazzling in manner and word perfect in slang.

This doesn't speak very well for the people, but the fact remains that the light and more or less silly show pleases by far the greater number.

And yet we must not conclude that all the people are becoming hair-brained, nor that the tastes of the more cultured are becoming grossly perverted. Not at all, for there are still many, very many, who have not fallen into the swim.

And the fact that these do not turn out stronger when a good show comes along must not be taken to mean that they have lost their taste for good plays, but rather that on account of the prevalence of bad ones they have gotten out of the habit of going to the theater.

Is the theater being given over to the rabble, or does its decadence indicate decadence of taste and culture on the part of the people?

This is about the form of the question that is presented to the public.

If it be true, and it probably is, that the stage is a faithful index of public taste, what must the conclusion be? It surely cannot be that the taste for high-class plays is improving, or if it is it is not keeping pace with the development of lower and coarser tastes.

There is, however, an important element of this problem that must be taken into account by those who would solve it, and that is the increase of the uncultured class.

On account of this being a city of mills, shops and factories its population necessarily includes uneducated and uncultured people to a greater extent than that of any other city on this continent. Many of these are foreigners who had rarely, if ever, attended a theater on account of the small wages paid in their own country.

Things are different with them now. They have money to spend on amusement, and it is but natural for them to seek such as correspond with their tastes. And in addition to the foreigners we have a lot of home-grown people whose tastes are far from being refined.

The thrifty young man of refined tastes can find better use for his money than throwing it away on trashy plays.

What then is left for the managers of theaters to do but to cater to the tastes of those who have money and will spend it? The manager is not in the business for his health, not extensively, nor for the health of the people, morally speaking.

With syndicates controlling plays and theaters that are out for the boodle, playwriters who are anxious to make financial hits, and players who measure histrionic success by the salaries they command, what more can reasonably be expected than what we are getting?

The present season seems to be longer than others, but it is extended well into the spring season when theatrical business begins to grow dull, or at least to resemble spring weather, cloudy, with occasional showers.

But in spite of all these causes Mr. Willard, and actors of his class, should never find business dull.

And yet the fact remains that the uncultured has money to spend, and they will spend it freely for that which suits their tastes. The rich also have money to spend, but they are hard to please, besides they are fewer in numbers. The middle classes have money and good taste, but they do not care for sandy, sensational plays, nor will they pay big money for the privilege of going to the theater.

So there you are.

The People Waking Up.

The men who control the public service corporations of the United States are blind and deaf to the fact that they are promoting a movement toward state socialism which may change the whole character of republican government. The American people have been patient and long suffering, but they are tired of being exploited. They are tired of having their heritage stolen. They are tired of having their servants corrupted and their government debauched. They are tired of seeing public interests forever sacrificed to the interests of organized capital. —New York World.

KINDRED SOULS.

The following is a recent poem by Miss Rose Pastor, the fiancee of James G. P. Stokes of New York:

Naught but a soul can know a soul.
A heart a heart awake;
A noble thought draw forth the light,
A kindness kindness make.

A friend is sure to make a friend,
A foe will make a foe;
And love shall win love in the end,
As seed a plant will grow.

The truth shall ever meet the truth
And every sweet word spoken
Shall call forth words as sweet.

DUNNE SOUNDS HIS KEYNOTE

Mayor-Elect of Chicago Tells Gotham His Street Railway Plans.

WILL LOSE NO TIME

ANTICIPATES NO TROUBLE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—Fresh from his triumph in the recent municipal election Mayor-Elect Edward F. Dunne of Chicago came to New York today and tonight addressed a large meeting in Cooper Union under the auspices of the Municipal Ownership league. He told how he expected to carry out his pledges made in his recent campaign in Chicago to attain municipal ownership, and of the benefits, as he conceived them, of city control of public utilities.

Recent agitation in New York for municipal ownership added interest to Judge Dunne's utterances. James Graham Phelps Stokes, vice president of the league, presided and introduced Chicago's mayor-elect. Judge Dunne said in part:

Men of the East: We bring you tidings of great joy from the men of the west. The exploitation of public property by private capital, with its attendant greed, extortion and corruption, has had its day in American cities, but that day is about to end. Next Monday Chicago starts upon her mission of dislodging private capital from the control of our street car systems.

She has succeeded in the operation of her water works system, in paying some $30,000,000 for its equipment; has loaned $5,000,000 from that department to the sewer system; is today giving the cheapest water of probably any city in America, and has a cash surplus of nearly $1,000,000. She has so managed her electric light plant that she has reduced the cost of arc lamps from $125 to about $54 an arc lamp per annum.

She is operating both departments as well as her police, fire and educational departments, without scandal, graft or corruption, besides cheapening the cost of utilities furnished to the public. She will have the same record of success in relation to her street car system.

You men of New York may surpass us in wealth, and, it may be, in culture, but Chicago, in our judgment, is the nerve center of America and the leader in economic thought and action. Chicago is the only city in America that has declared by an overwhelming majority in favor of the municipalization of her street car system, and what Chicago wills she does.

History of Struggle.

The history of the struggle is interesting. It commenced ten years ago. Private capitalists, who had possession of our streets at that time, not content with the franchises they had already, limited to 20 years, went to the state capital and by the most shameless corruption induced the legislature to permit the grant of 50-year franchises. The people were taken unawares and the law was passed.

But the public spirit of Chicago at once revolted, and before the private capitalists could have an ordinance passed in the city council, pursuant to the terms of the act passed by the legislature, the people were upon their feet with fire in their eyes and determination in their faces. The next legislature was compelled to repeal this infamous law. From that time to this the people of Chicago on one side and the capitalists who have been in charge of this business on the other were in a life and death struggle for the possession of our streets.

The citizens of Chicago have been educated up to the fact that a municipality can operate any of the public utilities with much greater satisfaction to the people than can the same utilities be operated by private capitalists. They have learned wherever a city in any portion of the civilized world has taken over its public utilities in every case when fairly tried the cost of these utilities to the public has been reduced, the wages of the men who operate them increased, the hours reduced and more efficient service rendered.

Objections Disposed Of.

The only two serious objections raised during the recent struggle in Chicago against public ownership of the public utilities are: First, that it would tend to build up a great political machine. None of the friends of municipal ownership in Chicago or elsewhere advocate the ownership and operation of any utility by municipalities, unless in connection therewith there is a civil service law under which all applicants for position, irrespective of politics, will be treated exactly alike, and under which just and reasonable tests will be applied to public servants to ascertain their fitness to perform the work entailed upon them. We have such a law in the city of Chicago under which for several years it has been practically impossible for any man to place a friend upon the police, fire or water department.

The other serious objection urged was that the municipality had no money. There is no force whatever in the objection. The operation of these utilities, either by public or private persons, is a valuable privilege. We propose to raise all the money necessary to purchase an up-to-date street car system upon certificates, which are special or limited promises to pay out of the income collected from the system.

Plan of Financing.

Under the law of the state of Illinois these certificates are termed street car certificates and are secured in three ways: First, by the pledge of all of the income of the municipal street railway plant, this income being unlimited as to time. Secondly, by a mortgage, which conveys all of the tangible property in the transportation department of the city, both real, personal and mixed. Thirdly, these certificates are secured by 20-year franchise; in other words, there is a provision in the law under which, if default be made in the payment of street car certificates, or of interest thereon, for the period of one year, then the holders of the certificates may apply to court of chancery to foreclose all of the tangible property used by the city in its transportation department and at the foreclosure sale there shall be knocked down to the bidder the franchise, commencing to run upon the date when the purchaser buys the property and running 20 years thereafter.

This security, in my judgment, is much better security than the private companies in the past have been able to offer, either to their stock or bondholders. Private companies in the past have been able to sell stocks and bonds aggregating in value $117,000,000 when their tangible property was worth less than $27,000,000. If they could raise four times the value of the tangible property upon an expiring franchise, can any sensible man for a moment hesitate as to what amount of money the city of Chicago can raise upon the security hereinbefore mentioned?

Gilt-Edged Securities.

I have no hesitation in predicting that if these street car certificates secured in this manner are offered upon the financial market, the financial syndicates of this nation will be tumbling over each other to get possession of these securities, and even if the financial powers that be should combine to discredit them, the savings bank depositories of Chicago, if they are offered these street car certificates secured as I have detailed, will be very glad to take their monies from the savings banks, where they are obtaining only 3 per cent, and invest them in street car certificates secured by a mortgage and a 20-year franchise.

As to the legality of these certificates in my judgment there is no possible doubt. Some of the best lawyers of Chicago have already declared in favor of their validity, and we can have a test case made which will reach the supreme court of the state inside of three or four months which will forever set at rest the question of the legality.

The operation of public utilities by municipalities is no untried theory. Wherever a municipality has taken over a public utility, as to this utility corruption and bribery cease. There is no motive for the corruption of an alderman in case of a utility operated by the public.

Inspiration from Abroad.

If good results have been secured in the cities of Europe and Australasia, why cannot they be secured in the cities of New York and Chicago and the other cities of America? The men or party who charge the citizens of Chicago, or of New York with being so inefficient, incapable or dishonest as to be unable to own and operate their own utilities, frame an indictment against the citizens of these communities which our people will answer at the polls with a verdict of "not guilty."

The movement in favor of municipal ownership of all public utilities has taken deep root among the intelligent people of this country. It is no passing sentiment. It is here to stay. Municipal ownership and operation of these utilities and governmental ownership of the railroads, telegraphs and express transportation is a practical question upon which the people must pass within a very short time, and the politicians and parties who ignore this sentiment must be prepared for a short-lived career before the people.

We in Chicago have no fears as to the results of municipal ownership. We are confident that the will of the people can be carried into effect, and that, too, without the imposition of a single dollar's worth of taxes; and we say to you men of New York, that you can, by the exercise of the same determination, bring about municipal ownership in your city of any public utility that you may desire furnished by the people of your city without an increase of taxation upon your citizens.

Ownership in Two Years.

In an interview after the meeting, Judge Dunne said:

"In my judgement in the second year of my term we will have real municipal ownership in Chicago."

Asked what tactics would be used in acquiring control of the railways, he replied:

If it cannot be done by fair and just bargains, we will be compelled to resort to the courts for condemnation proceedings, and they will be compelled to surrender the utilities for the price that will be named in the verdict.

If within a reasonable length of time after the trial, verdict and judgment the railway corporations do not surrender the utilities, the people of Chicago will confiscate their property, run it in their own interest, and the railway corporations can resort to the court of appeals, but in the meantime the people will have possession.

There are 32 Democrats in the common council and 38 Republicans. Six of the latter having openly declared themselves as favorable to my policy, I shall have the majority. The forces of corruption in the city of Chicago are on the run, and Chicago has set an example for every other city in the country.

JACK THE RIPPER AT WORK IN GOTHAM

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—Elements of mystery, recalling the stories of "Jack the Ripper," who terrorized the Whitechapel district of London years ago, lend sensation to the stabbing today of a young woman in a One Hundred and Thirtieth street hotel. She died in a hospital a few hours after the stabbing.

The woman, whose name was Mamie Wilson, was stabbed in the abdomen. The wound was made by a very long knife, and the character of the cut was similar to that made on the victims of the London "Jack the Ripper."

The police have under arrest a man named James Boyne, a club steward, who told the police he was with the woman last night, but said that she had left him and he did not know how she was stabbed. When he was arrested it was found that seven of his teeth had been knocked out and that one of his eyes had been blackened by a blow.

According to the detectives who took the man to the bedside of the dying woman after she had been removed to the hospital, Miss Wilson identified Boyne as the one who stabbed her.

"He crept up behind me," she told the police, "put his arm around my neck and stabbed me."

WESTINGHOUSE OUTFIT FOR CHINA'S FIRST STEEL MILL

Plant Is to Be Built in the Vicinity of Shanghai—Firm Gets Two Japanese Contracts Also.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Westinghouse equipment is to be installed in the first iron and steel plant to be built in China, the contract for a large portion of the machinery, including a big electric charging outfit for the blast furnaces, having been undertaken by the Wellman-Seaver-Morgan Company. Westinghouse motors will operate the plant throughout. The works are to be built in the vicinity of Shanghai. They will be operated by the Hangyan Iron and Steel Company.

A large steel wire drawing mill to be constructed in Japan by the Wellman-Seaver-Morgan Company will also have Westinghouse electric apparatus. The contract was placed by the New York office of the Japanese government contracting firm of Okura & Co.

The Japanese firm of Takata & Co. has allotted an interesting contract to the Wellman-Seaver-Morgan people for the equipment of a rolling mill to be constructed in connection with the government arsenal at Kure. The plant will be driven by electrical machinery of Westinghouse build.

ORATORS FOR GRANT DAY.

Speaker Joseph G. Cannon and Two United States Senators at Americus Club Banquet.

The list of speakers for the annual Grant dinner to be given by the Americus club at the Hotel Schenley on April 27, has been completed, and a number of distinguished men have given assurances that they will be present. The committee of the club announces that the following persons will grace the board:

Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the national house of representatives; Senator Penrose, Senator Knox, J. Hampton Moore, president of the league of Republican Clubs of the United States; Willis L. Moore, chief of the United States weather bureau, and the following members of congress: J. Adam Bede, James E. Watson, James H. Southard, Frederick Landis, George Shiras III, John Dalzell, James Francis Burke, A. J. Barchfeld, W. H. Graham, H. Kirke Porter, James W. Brown.

Gen. S. B. Warner, of Washington, D. C., will be another of the prominent guests and speakers.

WAGE SCALE CONFERENCE.

Blast Furnace Workers' President Meets Operators to Adjust New Agreement.

President James McMahon of the Blast Furnace Workers and Smelters' union came from Youngstown yesterday to confer with the blast furnace operators of the district upon the wage scale, which has expired. The union has been trying for the past few years to get an eight-hour day, but at a special meeting, held a month ago, decided the time was not ripe to enforce the shorter work day.

The blast furnace operators have announced that the men will be given an advance on May 1. What that will be has not yet been given out. President McMahon feels confident that the advance will be sufficient to warrant the men accepting it without dissension. All the blast furnaces are operating at present, with bright prospects for a good season.

Balloon Crosses the Channel.

CALAIS, FRANCE, April 7.—Jacques Faure's balloon, which left Folkestone, England, at 11 o'clock last night, made a successful passage of the channel and landed near Calais at 3 o'clock this morning. The balloon encountered a severe storm but was not injured, and its three occupants were in good health and spirits when they landed.

St. Louis Prisoner a Mystery Here.

A telegram was received at police headquarters from St. Louis, last night, stating that Edward Mead Whippoli was under arrest there and was wanted in this city. It also stated that he would come back without extradition papers. No one at headquarters last night knew what the man is wanted here for.

THIS NATION AS A WORLD POWER

SETH LOW AMONG SPEAKERS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, April 7.—Many men prominent in the field of social and political economy are attending the ninth annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science which began here today. The general theme under discussion is "The United States as a World Power." The various aspects of this main question were taken up, and will be further discussed tomorrow.

Two sessions were held today. The annual address, which is the feature of the meeting, was made tonight by Seth Low, former mayor of New York, who took for his subject "The Position of the United States Amongst the Nations." The president's address by Prof. Leo S. Rowe of the University of Pennsylvania was also deliver d tonight.

At the afternoon session the subject was "The Position of the United States on the American Continent." Those who spoke were Francis B. Loomis, first assistant secretary of state; Tulio Larrinaga, Porto Rican commissioner at Washington; Prof. E. R. Johnson of the University of Pennsylvania; Prof. Lindley Miller Keasby, Bryn Mawr college, and Talcott Williams and Henry J. Hancock of this city.

Ex-Mayor Low said in part:

From the beginning the United States has been a world-power, in the sense that it has profoundly affected the movements of thought and of action outside of itself. Its reaction upon the political thought and institutions of Europe has been important and great. The United States has been a world-power also in the sense that it has offered an outlet to the overcrowded countries of Europe for their surplus population.

Those who fancy the United States has been suddenly smitten with imperialism, because of its attitude toward the Philippines, seem wholly mistaken in their view. In the Philippines the United States has not hesitated to carry out its ideals as rapidly as they seem practicable. Rightly or wrongly, the United States has not hesitated to try to solve the problem there, not only on the lines of personal freedom and generous civil rights, but also on the lines of popular education and of popular participation in government, that are natural to us but strange enough in the orient.

By the Monroe doctrine the United States has preserved both of the American continents from European complications for almost a century, except for the brief and unhappy episode of Napoleon III. in Mexico. Its presence in the Philippines is almost certain to make for interests and peace in the far east, because it throws actively into the scale, as a factor making for peace there, on the basis of justice, the great moral force of the United States. The present war in the far east is not so much a struggle to determine whether Russia or Japan shall be politically dominant in Manchuria as it is a war waged for the markets of Manchuria and the regions affected thereby. The United States stands for the "open door" in the far east with an emphasis that has already been greatly influential. It is likely to stand for that idea as earnestly and persistently as may be necessary.

The United States has been, and is, and may hope to remain an immense force among the nations of the earth, making for individual freedom, larger civil rights and freedom of opportunity. No one begins to understand America who does not appreciate its earnestness and its idealism. The old Puritan doctrine may have been modified, but the Puritan spirit still remains. In a thousand ways it affects and permeates the great mass of newcomers, almost unawares.

It is a spirit to which men are of more moment than things; before which there shines always the ideal of a nation built upon righteousness; of a nation whose aim in the world it is to stand for justice and liberty, at home and abroad.

That same free spirit that has changed the conception of citizenship till a man is free to choose the country of his allegiance; that has set the sailor free upon the high seas, so that he can be no longer taken by force to fight under a flag that he loves not; that has redeemed Cuba from being a second Crete, and has given to it its own independent life among the nations; that same free spirit of justice which has led it to arbitrate international disputes more freely than any other nation; that has led it to pay for territory conquered in war, instead of holding it as the spoils of victory; that has led it to return to Japan money that it felt was not justly due; that has led it to buy the friars' lands in the Philippines, in order to settle justly an agrarian dispute; these are the forces, this spirit of justice and this spirit of freedom, certain to control the United States in all its international relationships, so that men may fairly expect of it, in its role as a world-power, that its vast power and resources will make steadily one may even hope uniformly, for international happiness and international peace.

Mr. Loomis said among other things:

"The position of the United States in the new world is ever in the process of determination. The question presents itself to us from time to time in direct and practical ways that cannot be avoided. So it will be found, I fancy, that the degree of our influence, the importance and power, if you please, of our position will be determined by the manner in which we deal with these questions as they come before us in an intense, practical way.

"If our relations with the other nations of this hemisphere are conducted in a spirit of justice and generosity, with a kindly regard for the interests of humanity; and if it be felt and understood we are not wanton aggressors; that we have no irresistible cravings for territorial aggrandizement; that we ask only for the just treatment of our citizens and for our share of the trade of the world, we cannot fail to become a solid factor or element in the international problem on this hemisphere, which shall continually make for universal prosperity and long years of productive and happy peace."

RUSSIA MUST PAY FAIR INDEMNITY

Japan Will Not Sheathe Her Sword Until This Concession Has Been Gained.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, April 7.—Baron Suyematsu, formerly Japanese minister of the interior, has written a significant article for the Outlook under the heading "War and Indemnity—the Japanese Claim." The whole trend of the article is intended to show Japan will carry on the war until Russia consents to pay indemnity. The baron says:

A canon of the Japanese Bushido is "One should not unsheath the sword unless in case of absolute necessity, nor restore it to its sheath unless one is totally overcome or has secured equitable satisfaction for one's cause." This is our ideal of international intercourse. The sword of Japan is drawn and the aim for which it was unsheathed has scarcely been attained. We want a peace which will secure tranquility in the far east for at least a generation or two.

The world should know that in the present war Japan staked her very existence, whereas with the enemy it was a mere war of caprice. Why, then, in case of defeat should not Russia be made responsible in equitable accordance with the nature of the affair? I believe, therefore, that in case of the adversary asking for peace the satisfaction she will have to make to Japan should include making good the material loss of Japan; in other words, indemnity.

Japan has not formulated definite terms of peace, because she might be accused of eliminating the bear before it is shot. We have, however, outlined our idea.

The article argues out the righteousness of Japan's position in demading indemnity as a basic condition, and controverts the idea which, he says, he finds prevalent outside of Japan, that Japan is willing to make peace at any price. It continues:

Some say that for humanity's sake an armistice should be concluded with a view to negotiating peace. It is all very well to talk of humanity, but no injustice must be perpetrated in the name of humanity. If a proposition arising out of the question of humanity gives more advantage to one than another of the contending parties it cannot be justice.

Baron Suyematsu treats sarcastically the special plea that Russia should be allowed to "save her face," compares Japan to a dwarf fighting a giant, and says:

The public at large seems to have gauged the relative value of Russia and Japan. They are glad the large bubble, which had been causing a nightmare to so many people for so long a time, has been pricked. They have seen it was no use to suppress Japan's aspiration by the combined force of western powers. Yet there seems floating in the air some sort of compassion for our adversary. This I deem an inconsistency arising out of some psychological instability.

Baron Suyematsu refers to the announcement of St. Petersburg, early in the war, that an enormous indemnity would be demanded, and that the terms would be dictated in Tokyo. "We are far from assuming such an attitude," the writer says; "but we believe justice ought to be done us. No mere sentiment shall be allowed to decide the merits of the case."

In conclusion, Baron Suyematsu says:

Some say Japan might be induced to forego a claim for indemnity provided England and America gave good assurance for future peace. We appreciate, of course, the generous sentiments of England and America. We are anxious to maintain the best friendship with these two countries, more particularly than other countries. We would, therefore, be very sorry if we were to be told we should forego, on account of that friendship, any claim to what we deem justice entitles us to demand.

This article is followed by one under the heading, "Russia's Alternative," by Archibald Ross Colquhoun, author of "Greater America," who has traveled extensively in and written voluminously regarding the far east. He scouts the possibility of intervention, and says the only possibility of peace is indirect negotiations and the payment of indemnity of at least $500,000,000, either in money or in kind. He describes Sakhalin and Vladivostok as of small monetary value to Japan. This article concludes:

"If Russia will not retire from the position she has striven gallantly but unsuccessfully to hold and, finally, will not accede to a proposition in which there is nothing degrading, but which merely follows time-honored custom, the alternative is simply continuance of the war."

ST. PETERSBURG, April 7.—The Japanese insistance upon an indemnity rather than indisposition to conclude peace at this time, later information indicates, wrecked the recent attempt to bring the warring powers into negotiations. Another effort in different lines to bring Russia and Japan together is believed to be under way, the movers now being French and English financial interests with heavy connections in the two countries.

WATKINS EXPERIENCED A STRENUOUS MORNING

NEW YORK, April 7.—(Special.)—A rabbit's foot and a hearty breakfast of cornbread combined to save the life of Grant Watkins, a 21-year-old negro, who was able to sit up and take notice after a mule had kicked him and a 700-pound work car in the subway had run over him. These things happened to Watkins at 6 o'clock this morning.

Boys Narrowly Escape Drowning.

While playing about a pond at Center and Melwood avenues, yesterday afternoon, Martin Conley, aged 13, of 3100 Ridge street, and John and Morris Lynch of 2600 Grant boulevard, narrowly escaped drowning. One of the boys fell in and the others were drawn in while trying to get him out. A patrol wagon was called and took them home. The pond is about seven feet deep and is in private property.

RIGA AND LIBAU ARE IN A PANIC

CZAR'S SQUADRON SETS SAIL

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BERLIN, April 7.—The inhabitants of the Russian cities Riga and Libau are in a panic at a rumor which has been spread there that part of Admiral Togo's fleet is on the way here and will bombard Russian ports on the Baltic. Twenty-six vessels loaded with coal made prizes by the Japanese while on their way to Vladivostok are said to accompany the Japanese squadron.

JIBUTIL, (GULF OF ADEN), April 7.—Vice Admiral Nebogatoff's division of the Russian second Pacific squadron sailed this morning.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 7.—Chief-of-Staff Karkevitch in a dispatch to the general staff today says:

"One of our detachments on arriving on the morning of April 4 at Talintsatun engaged the enemy who had 6,000 Chinese bandits with them. I have not received a report of the results of the battle."

GUNSHU PASS, April 7.—Important operations are thought to be out of the question for some time to come, rain, snow and thaw having spoiled all the roads and created impassable mud.

HERBIN, April 7.—By a collision of military trains west of Harbin eight soldiers were killed and 26 men wounded. The accident was due to the engine crew, who were worn out with excessive hours of continuous work, failing asleep and running past signals.

"DEATH TO THE CZAR, THE ASSASSIN," THEIR MOTTO

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 17.—The workmen of the village of Smolensk made a demonstration today, the occasion being the burial of an employe of the Pahl factory who was killed by policemen a few days ago. Six thousand persons assembled. There were red flags everywhere, and a wreath deposited by Socialists on the coffin was inscribed, "Died an innocent victim in the struggle for victory." After the interment revolutionary proclamations were scattered among the people and a procession was formed headed by a Socialist carrying a banner inscribed, "Death to the czar, the assassin."

A large force of military and police dispersed the mob and seized the wreaths and banners.

The annual parade of the horse guards, always heretofore one of the most spectacular military ceremonies as well as social functions of the year, was chiefly notable today by the absence of Emperor Nicholas and the imperial family, owing to fear of a Terrorist outrage.

THE SIOUX TURN CITIZENS.

FORT YATES, N. D., April 7.—In a great council called by Major McLaughlin, the Sioux Indians of this reservation have decided almost unanimously that they are ready to have their lands allotted. Each head of a family will have 640 acres. Each Indian over 18 years will receive 320 acres. In addition he will get a span of good mares, two cows, a wagon and harness, a plow, a harrow, some other tools and $50 in cash. Indians under 18 get 160 acres.

After the allotments have been made there will be a big surplus of land which the Indians are bitterly opposed to selling. Each head of a family will be worth $1,000 in addition to his 640 acres when Uncle Sam relinquishes guardianship and turns the Indians over to the states of North and South Dakota, as full fledged citizens. Between 1,000 and 1,200 voters will be equally divided between the two states.

MISS ROOSEVELT PICKS PRETTY BUT SLOW HORSE

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Miss Alice Roosevelt can't always pick the winner at the races. Miss Roosevelt watched all of the races today at Bennings until the sixth, in which was a showy-looking steed whose name is Black Dick, a 20 to 1 shot. Miss Roosevelt and some of the ladies declared that he was undoubtedly a black beauty and ought to win.

She promptly and enthusiastically pulled out a fiver from a blue pocketbook, which appropriately matched her blue outing skirt and white sailor collar. One of her gallant attendants put it up according to orders on Black Dick. This made Black Dick popular at once, but it didn't give him any more speed. He started out all right, but he didn't even come in one, two, three. Miss Roosevelt had implicit faith in Black Dick and she watched him all the way through the seven furlongs, until he got lost in the number of the other beauties that also ran.

Today, as yesterday, Miss Roosevelt was much admired and is becoming well known. Today she made the promenade from the club house as far as the free field. She stood by the barrier on a very steep incline to watch the start in the last race, at a mile and 100 yards. It is believed that on this race she had really picked the winner.

Boy Wandered from Home.

After wandering five miles from home and spending the night in the West End police station, Edward Tiphaer, aged 8, son of Julius Tiphaer of 228 Marion street, McKees Rocks, was found yesterday by his father. The boy disappeared from his home Thursday and his father hunted all night for him in vain.

THESE PIANOS ARE REDUCED IN PRICE

The Sacrifice Is Necessary on Account of Building Operations Which Have Been Delayed.

Persons looking for rare value in pianos cannot afford to overlook these remarkable bargains.

Extensive alterations to buildings in Oliver avenue are under way. Building operations on the Oliver avenue entrance to the warerooms of Mellor's well-known music house have been much delayed. The Mellor Company has been put to much inconvenience, as the alterations to the building are on a large scale, and it will be two or three weeks before order has been restored.

The Mellor Company makes the announcement that it is so cramped for room that it is obliged to sacrifice a number of good used pianos. Ridiculously low prices have been placed upon these in order to make them sell immediately.

Among the used upright instruments which must be closed out are several which have been reduced to $125. These include a Gorman, a Gilbert, a Decker Bros. and an Emerson.

Several well-known upright pianos, your choice for only $185, including

Cambridge,
Thayer,
Rudolf, Kranich & Bach,
Chauncey,
Kayton,

And at $235 the following uprights must go:

Chauncey,
Hardman,
Kingsley,
Hatnes Bros.,
Sterling,
Mellor.

These remarkably low prices will soon give the Mellor Company the desired room.

DRUNKEN ORGIES BEFORE BATTLE

KISS THEIR CONQUERORS

By FRANCIS McCULLAGH.
[Special Cable to The Gazette.]
(Copyright, 1905, by New York Herald Co.)

SHANGHAI, April 7.—The Russians were demoralized at the outset of the battle of Mukden, by the destruction of their stores on March 3, when a large amount of supplies was destroyed around Mitusan, the headquarters of the army on the extreme right. Vodka casks were opened with swords and hatchets, and the men knelt down to drink the muddy liquid, which was flowing ankle deep.

Some used as goblets cases of the Japanese shells which fell around them. Sometimes firearms were discharged accidentally, and sometimes the report was spread that the Japanese were but half a mile away. This caused a commotion, but the soldiers soon resumed their orgie, disobeying the officers.

Wounded soldiers were lying around, and even wounded officers crawled about unaided. A big storm enveloped the scene, slying the frenzied crowd the appearance of alcoholic demons bathing in a hell of smoke. The soldiers developed anglophobic sentiments that were dangerous for me, but M. Rikacheff, a Russian newspaper correspondent, helped me to escape.

Saw Mounted Hunhuses.

I returned to Mukden, where I saw a remarkable assemblage of armed and mounted Hunhuses in the Russian service. They were all young men, gorgeously dressed and fierce as tigers. They drew their swords on spectators on the slightest provocation. The terror-stricken citizens of Mukden gazed at them from afar. I do not know why these men were assembled, or what became of them.

The dust storm on March 9 was so great that it was difficult to ride 100 yards without losing one's way. In this storm Gen. Kuroki crossed the Hun. Friday morning March 10, I found the city had been evacuated. I rode northward along the railway.

Several miles to the north I found 5,500 men, the debris of seven regiments, lying behind a railway embankment under heavy fire from the east. Many corpses were lying about.

The wounded were neglected and the fields were strewn for a dozen miles with provisions, rifles, cartridges and dead horses. The leader of this force told me he had been further north, but the Japanese had driven him back. Everybody was dispirited. The soldiers knew they were surrounded.

Pleas of the Wounded.

In the evening I marched east with the intention of making a wide detour to avoid the Japanese. Wounded men were strewn thick on the ground, wailing, "Brothers, do not abandon us." I gave my horse to a wounded man who had lost his own in the confusion. I helped to place wounded soldiers on gun carriages until there was no room for more.

I walked all night over rifles and cartridges. Tormented by thirst, the soldiers ate lumps of ice with their bayonets from a dozen streams. Frequently I fell over corpses.

At brief intervals a Japanese searchlight swept the horizon toward the north. The Russians always tried to hide from this searchlight. All the men in the detachment shivered whenever they saw the light fixed on them, like the gaze of a gigantic eye.

Several villages were blazing afar off. Some Japanese scouts fired a few shots at close range toward midnight. Dawn found me in a hilly country near Talienpu, 18 kilometres north of Mukden. The enemy was invisible and we thought we were saved.

When we were entering a wide valley, firing began from a grove to the south. We rushed wildly northward like frightened sheep, but were soon stopped by a sharp fusilade from an unseen enemy in the north. We were also fired upon from the east, and shelled at close range from some heights westward, shrapnel bursting among us.

Russians Panic-Stricken.

The soldiers rushed to and fro panic-stricken. They seemed to imagine they were being fired upon by their own men, and raised loud cries of "Voi, Voi!"; also inarticulate wails, the most dreadful sounds I ever heard. The officers finally succeeded in getting the men lined up in two shallow furrows, but, being absolutely against the enemy's fire, the men threw away their rifles and waved white handkerchiefs, while the buglers sounded to cease fire.

It seemed hours before the Japanese ceased firing. Meanwhile the Russian commander was killed, and many officers and men were wounded. The Russians became convinced the Japanese intended to give no quarter. The soldiers had hitherto suspected me, but now a deputation of them, weeping hysterically, asked me, being a British subject, to go and beg the Japanese to spare them. I replied this was impossible.

Suddenly the firing ceased, and from the right and left two detachments of little Japanese infantry seemed to rise out of the ground. They advanced rapidly. When they were very close I saw that they wore the uniform of the Imperial Guard.

Like meeting long-separated brothers, the Russians heartily shook hands with the Japanese, who objected, however, to kisses, fearing the Russians wanted to bite them. Then the Japanese and Russian soldiers conversed joyfully in broken Chinese.

ABATEMENT NOTED IN NEW YORK EPIDEMIC

NEW YORK, April 7.—The board of health sees for the first time signs of abatement of the epidemic of cerebro spinal meningitis. From the third week in January to the week ending last Saturday, the weekly death rate claimed steadily from 224 to 131. This week it promises to be some 20 less than last week, or about 110. The death rate for the last four days is as follows: Tuesday, 20; Wednesday, 18; Thursday, 17; Friday, 14.

LANSING, MICH., April 7.—Secretary Shumway of the state board of health has received a report of an outbreak of cerebro spinal meningitis in Star township, Antrim county. There have been eight cases with seven deaths. Secretary Shumway will urge upon all the health officers of the state restrictive measures.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 7.—Two deaths from cerebro spinal meningitis have occurred in this city in the last week.

BERLIN, April 7.—A workman was taken ill with spotted fever at the railroad station here today and 40 others, who had arrived with him from Saxony, were placed in quarantine.

SUES TO RESTRAIN MUTUALIZATION PLAN

Stockholders of Equitable Will Test in Court Agreement Entered Into by Directors.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—Legal action which may have for its purpose the defeat of the recently determined upon plans for the mutualization of the Equitable Life Assurance society was taken today, when Franklin B. Lord of the law firm of Lord, Day & Lord of Wall street, the owner of a few shares in the stock of the society, made an application to the special term of the supreme court in Brooklyn for an injunction restraining the society from amending its charter on the lines agreed upon at the meeting of the board of directors held yesterday, that agreement being that the policy-holders should have the right to elect 28 of the 52 directors and the stockholders only 24 directors, instead of the whole board of 52.

It is claimed by Mr. Lord that as the plan deprives the stockholders of the society, an injury would be inflicted on the stock. Mr. Lord's suit puts him in the position of a non-assenting stockholder to the plan to mutualize the Equitable Life.

Argument on the petition for the injunction will be made tomorrow in the special term of the supreme court of Kings county, probably before Justice Maddox. Should a temporary injunction be granted, the mutualization plan of the Equitable will be fought out in the courts.

Mr. Lord's suit is based on section 529 of the state insurance laws, which defines the methods by which the charter of an insurance company may be amended or changed. Part of this section says:

"And the officers therein (of the corporation whose charter is being amended) which shall be continued, shall be filled by the respective incumbents for the periods for which they were elected."

The amendment of the charter agreed upon at Thursday's meeting of the directors terminates the official life of 39 of the 52 directors far in advance of the dates for which they were elected.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 7.—Charles D. Seymour, a Rensselaer insurance agent, has sued Gage E. Tarbell, second vice president, and Frank A. McNamee, local agent of the Equitable Life Assurance society, for $25,000 damages for libel, alleging they unjustly discharged him and conspired to keep him from being employed by any other company by falsely charging he took part in the distribution of certain scandalous circulars attacking the memory of Henry B. Hyde, founder of the Equitable.

MRS. SPAYD GETS DIVORCE.

Former Confidential Secretary of Charles M. Schwab Agrees Not to Contest.

NEW YORK, April 7.—(Special.)—When it was announced today in the suit for separation brought by Mrs. Kate E. Spayd against Clarence E. Spayd that Mr. Spayd had entered into an agreement not to contest the case, Judge Maddox in the special term of the supreme court, Brooklyn, this morning granted her a decree, with $250 counsel fee.

Mr. Spayd was at one time confidential secretary to Charles M. Schwab.

British Minister Will Stick.

LONDON, April 8.—Apparently the government has decided to take no action as the result of defeats in the recent bye-election at Brighton. Gerald Balfour, president of the local government board, speaking last night at Leeds, declared that the government had resolved to retain office so long as it possessed the confidence of parliament.

Mrs. Nancy Walton, widow of Joseph Walton of Belmont, died Thursday evening. She was 87 years old. Mrs. R. B. Bowman of Wilkinsburg is a daughter.

Mrs. Mark Cohen, for many years a leading business woman of Sharon, died yesterday, aged 65 years. She is survived by five children—Henry, Reuben, Emanuel and Rose of Sharon, and Mrs. Philip Kiefter of Youngstown.

Mrs. Margaret Weil, aged 47, wife of Gottlieb Weil, died at the family home in Holland avenue, Braddock, at 8:45 o'clock yesterday morning. She was born in Beaver county. She is survived by her husband and five children—George, Florence, Grover, Edgar and Carson, all at home. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church.

GETTING AT ROOT OF BEEF TRUST

Former Private Secretary to Edward C. Swift Gives Testimony.

HIS EVIDENCE IS DAMAGING

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, April 7.—The federal grand jury, which is investigating the methods of the meat packers, had before it today Myron C. Baker of the Boston Elevated railroad and for two years private secretary of Edward C. Swift, vice president of Swift & Co. Mr. Baker was questioned for nearly two hours and is said to have furnished a great deal of information concerning the inner workings of the big meat packing firms. In answer to questions, after leaving the jury room, Mr. Baker declared he had told the truth and that from the action of the jurors it was apparent to him that they had already decided on what action would be taken against the packers. It was also persistently rumored about the federal offices, where the jury is sitting, that preparations were being made to return indictments within a short time, but whether the indictments would charge violation of the anti-trust laws, perjury or interference with witnesses, could not be ascertained.

"I believe the jurors have made up their minds in this matter," said Mr. Baker, after he left the jury room. "They seem to understand the situation thoroughly and we got along very well together. I was not asked if any one had approached me or anything along that line, so I suppose they know what I have been doing since I came to Chicago."

"Did you tell anything that might injure the cause of the packers?" Mr. Baker was asked.

"Yes, I think I did. I told everything I knew and it was the truth. I testified for almost two hours."

"Did you present any documentary evidence?" he was asked.

"No, I did not," was the reply.

The demurrer to the indictment against T. J. Connors, general superintendent for Armour & Co., on charges of interfering with witnesses, will be called tomorrow morning and argued before United States District Judge Landis. The argument will be on the demurrer for the quashing of the indictment. District Attorney Morrison said tonight that if the defendant could show that the indictment should be quashed, the government had no objection.

WOULD BUILD A CATHEDRAL.

Justice Harlan Starts Movement for Imposing Church Edifice at the Nation's Capital.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Justice John M. Harlan of the United States supreme court has started a movement in support of the establishment in the capital city of a "Presbyterian cathedral," by sending identical letters to all the leading Presbyterian ministers in the United States, inviting their advice and co-operation in the project. In this letter the justice says in part:

"Twenty-seven years' residence in this city has brought me to the conclusion that the time has come when the Presbyterian church as a whole ought to establish in Washington a church which would represent our denomination at the national capital in a more impressive way than could possibly be done by the ordinary parish church."

DECISION FOR O'BRIEN.

Quaker City Fighter Had All the Best of Young Peter Jackson.

BALTIMORE, April 7.—When, at the conclusion of the schedule, 10 rounds, Referee Charlie White of New York tonight gave the decision to Philadelphia Jack O'Brien over Young Peter Jackson, the moderate crowd present gave unmistakable evidence of concurrence in the verdict. The agreement to break clean when ordered was not lived up to by either man. Both began so cautiously as to cause cries of fake, but after the first round the fight was hot, with nearly every round in O'Brien's favor.

The Philadelphian scored first blood in the sixth round and had Jackson groggy in the ninth, but was unable to land a knockout blow.

King Buys Surrender of Child.

DRESDEN, April 7.—King Frederick Augustus has given his consent to the raising of the yearly allowance of his former wife, the Countess Montinoso, to $15,000 in return for the surrender of their daughter, Princess Anna Monica Pai. It is believed that this will settle the controversy between the king and his divorced wife.

EXCOMMUNICANT SUES MORMON PRESIDENT

Seeks Restraining Order to Prevent Smith from Speculating With Tithes of Church.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, April 7.—An injunction suit was filed today asking the court to restrain the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints and Joseph F. Smith, its president and trustee in trust, from investing the tithings of the church for any other than church purposes. The petitioners are Charles Smurthwait of Ogden, who recently was excommunicated from the church, and Don C. W. Musser, a member of the church who yesterday voted against sustaining the 12 apostles.

The petition, after setting forth that the tithing paid by members of the church amounts to $1,000,000 a year, and that Joseph F. Smith, as trustee in trust for the church, has each year since his elevation to the presidency invested fully $500,000 in sugar factories, woolen mills, banks and other secular enterprises, and also "to establish estates and residences for the church leaders and their favorites," which action, the plaintiffs aver, is in violation of his trust, prays the court to declare the legal duty of President Smith with respect to the tithing and other funds entrusted to his care, and the purposes for which they may be used.

BROKER E. MEAD WHIPPO ARRESTED IN ST. LOUIS

He Is Wanted in Pittsburgh to Answer a Charge of Alleged Embezzlement.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, MO., April 7.—E. Mead Whippo, a young broker of Pittsburgh, Pa., was arrested as he was leaving his stopping place, 3208 Lucas avenue last night. The arrest was made on the strength of a letter received from the police of Pittsburgh, where, it is alleged, he is wanted to answer an indictment charging embezzlement. Whippo admitted, the police say, that he is in debt nearly $4,000 in his home city, but that the embezzlement charge is for an amount slightly over $1,000.

According to the young man's story, his fall from grace followed unfortunate speculations in mining stocks. A month ago Whippo says he came to St. Louis hoping to remain long enough to earn money with which to settle all his accounts and return to Pittsburgh. As soon as his creditors learned he had left Pittsburgh, however, they clamored for his apprehension. A friend in St. Louis, to whom he had confided his secret, left Thursday night for Pittsburgh in an effort to induce Whippo's creditors to give him an opportunity to make good. The letter from the Pittsburgh police was received two weeks ago and the police have been searching for Whippo since.

By an address on North Broadway where he had his mail delivered, detectives traced him to the Lucas avenue place. Whippo had sent a young woman to call for his mail and the detectives followed her. Whippo had shaved off his moustache since his arrival in St. Louis.

E. Mead Whippo is the president of the Whippo Company, dealers in stocks and bonds, in the Keystone building. Kil Edmunson, of the company, said this morning that he had no knowledge of any trouble in which Whippo was implicated.

The Deadly Trail

Of disease is often the trail marked by a woman's gown. A recent investigation showed a horde of microbes, including those of influenza, consumption and a dozen other varieties, gathered in the trail of a woman's dress.

The microbe is everywhere, but its prey are the weak and feeble people whose blood is "poor" and digestion "weak." Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition and purifies the blood. It strengthens the body by increased nutrition to resist or throw off disease.

"Please accept my thanks for the good Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has done for me," writes Mrs. N. Cheley, of Cleveland, Cuyahoga Co., Ohio. "I was troubled for over a year with what the doctor pronounced indigestion. I had nervous headaches, an unpleasant taste in my mouth in the morning, and my blood was very poor. I tried different medicines but to no avail. My parents insisted on my taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I did so, am now on the fourth bottle and feel stronger than I have for ten years. I cannot speak too highly in its favor."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are easy and pleasant to take. A most effective laxative. They do not beget the pill habit.

The Foot Pores Now Made to Yield Up Acid Poisons From the Blood by Remarkable Discovery Which All Can

TRY FREE—PAY WHEN SATISFIED

Send your name today; you will get by return mail, postpaid—FREE To Try—a pair of Magic Foot Drafts, the great Michigan Discovery, which has proven such a remarkably safe and sure cure for rheumatism of all kinds that they are now being extensively imitated abroad as well as in this country. In England infringement against Magic Foot Drafts has recently been enjoined by the courts, thus protecting rheumatic sufferers against imitations liable to be injurious.

Magic Foot Drafts are worn inside the stocking (without the least inconvenience), and they cure rheumatism, chronic or acute, in every part of the body, by absorbing uric acid and other impurities from the blood through the large foot pores. Thousands of letters from cured rheumatics—some of them the toughest old chronics in the country, can be seen by anyone calling at our offices. If the Drafts cure all these people, why shouldn't they cure you? Write today to Magic Foot Draft Co., AD 8, Oliver Bldg., Jackson, Mich. You will get the Drafts by return mail. If you are satisfied with the relief they give, send us one dollar. If not, send nothing. You Decide. A valuable new book (in colors) on rheumatism comes free with the Drafts. Send no money, only your name.

clothing values

Which is the best value—low price Clothing of a class majority of men would not wear, or the finest, choicest and best on a fair considerate basis?

We don't go in for cheap clothing.

Devote every effort to secure the pink of perfection—nag the makers, in fact, to give us certain things a certain way—sticklers for superiority.

Now we do this thus diligently for a purpose—to win the regard of self-respecting men.

We try first to please you—to offer you Clothing of a class you can't ignore.

Then offer it to you at prices you can see for yourself afford you the greatest amount of merit for what you pay.

That's what you want, isn't it?—merit.

Style, quality, workmanship.

Let us indicate to you in a few paragraphs how little our Better Clothing costs.

New Spring Suits—single and double-breasted, for men of all proportions—Clothing lacking the ready-made look—$20.00.

Other choice new Spring Suits, $10.00 to $35.00.

Special fast Black Thibet Suits—a model of style—an example of merit—$20.00.

Men's Prince Albert Coats and Vests of the highest grade of tailoring and material—$30.00 and $35.00.

Choice Cutaway Frock Coats and Vests, $28.00.

Surtout or Paddock style—Black, Tan and Gray—the smart coat for young chaps—$25.00.

Others $20.00, $30.00 and $35.00.

Our Young Chaps' Clothing, sizes 30 to 36 chest—has all the new dashes—not small men's sizes, but young chaps' sizes, made for them—Coat cut extreme long and deep, center and side vents—wide lapels and collars—peg Pants—far in advance of regular ready-to-wear clothing—$10.00 to $25.00.

men's hats

An abundance of the newer shapes and colors—soft and stiff hats—that positively assure a thoroughly satisfactory Hat for any face or size.

We give facial contour and stature very careful thought, and for several reasons won't, if possible, let a man go from our Hat Department with a Hat not suited to him in every way.

Then we pay more money for Hats to sell at a given price than Hat stores usually do.

We buy most of our Hats from a celebrated maker in the East, who stands for the same in Men's Hats that Worth in Paris does for women's stylish costumes.

Stiff hats for the youth, the young college man, the conservative middle-aged man, and the dignified elderly man, $2.00, $3.00, $4.00 and $5.00—all shades and Black.

Soft Hats, $1.00 to $5.00.

The stress of the effort to do the Hat Business better is planned on the $3.00 Hats—those we sell at that price costing us several Dollars more a dozen than others' $3.00 Hats.

Several lines at $3.00 and $4.00 that are radical—intended for the young fellows who have the nerve to wear something different from the prevailing shape.

Boys' Caps, 25c to $1.00.

Opportunity for nice Coats for little ones 2 to 6.

Tan and Colored Pongee Coats nicely made and trimmed—$2.50.

We won't say all we're warranted to about their betterness, but ask you to see them—then you'll understand the full importance of the occasion.

Finer and fancier ones, $3.50.

Dark Silk Coats—Brown, Blue, Red and Green—plain and changeable Taffeta—all fancy trimmed, $5.00.

All bought under same conditions, and with the same advantages.

Girls 6 to 14 will please see the new showing of Check and Fancy Mixed Three-Quarter Coats, $5.00 to $10.00.

women's neckwear

This department doing something we think is extraordinary, viz:

Offering 3 charming styles fine White hand-made Top Collars at 25c that are worth 75c and $1.00.

Another dainty offering all women will appreciate is special nice White hemstitched Top Collars, 5c—value 10c.

Charming Lace, Embroidery and Embroidered Chemisettes, 15c to $9.00 each.

Special value at 25c and 50c.

Lace and Embroidery Collars and Cuff Sets, 25c to $10.00 each—very large assortment now, in full preparation for Spring dresses.

Washable Stocks of Lace, Embroidery and Linen, 15c to $4.00 each, that women will like—all pretty and stylish.

waists, $1.00, $1.50, $2.25

Never since the store has been selling Waists have so many excellent opportunities been presented to buy new Waists at special values—especially White Waists.

One reason is that the White Waist is so tremendously popular this season that makers are vieing with each other to get the cream of the business—that is, to sell those stores that have a very large selling capacity and sell only choice goods—makers don't make any money on poor goods.

That accounts for the special things we had for you last Saturday, which brought more business than the Waist Department ever did on a corresponding Saturday.

These today are just as special and we expect to further increase the business with them.

Dotted Swisses and Persian Lawns—made in the stylish manner of the time—full sleeves, deep cuffs and plentifully tucked, pleated and neat insertions of lace and embroidery.

About twenty-five different styles at the three prices, $1.00, $1.50, $2.25.

Special showing of Lingerie Blouses at $5.00.

Silk Waists, $3.50 to $45.00.

Hand-made French Waists, $15.00 to $48.50.

"tile-like"

Today and for several weeks after, an expert varnish man will be up in our third floor House Furnishings department—not telling about the wonderful qualities of "Tile-like," but demonstrating them.

"Tile-like" is a new and a very much better varnish than has ever been discovered before.

It seems as far as we can learn to be about the greatest cloak for the marred surface of wicker furniture, linoleum, oilcloth, floors, doors, fire fronts, lamps, chandeliers, etc., possible to contrive—restores their pristine look invariably.

When once it's applied, no hard knocks will crack it.

Easily applied—anybody who can hold a paint brush can do a first-class job of any kind.

The maker's not afraid for you to try it your way, and gives a sample can to all who come.

SOUTH PARK GIFT GETS INTO COURT

WERNEBERG & SHEEHAN WIN

Ida Rahn Larkin of 47 East Fifty-third street, New York, filed a bill in equity in the United States circuit court yesterday, contesting the gift of the South park, Allegheny, to the Pennsylvania Company, operating the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad, to occupy and use a strip of ground west of Federal street and south of Stockton avenue, known as South park. It also calls attention to the fact that on October 12, 1853, the Ohio & Pennsylvania railroad, the predecessor of the Pittsburgh, Chicago & Fort Wayne railroad, was granted the use of a strip through the parks. The bill concludes by averring that the land is of great value and that to carry out the contract would be a fraud to the orators and other property owners and taxpayers of Allegheny. It asks that an injunction be issued to prevent the city from carrying out the contract.

Mrs. Larkin owns a piece of property at East Diamond and Erie streets.

Controller Refuses to Pay Interest.

Controller James Brown of Allegheny filed an answer to the quo warranto proceedings instituted by Charlotta S. King, requiring him to show cause why he should not sign a warrant in payment of damages awarded her by viewers on Perrysville avenue improvements. Controller Brown states that it is true she was awarded $7,009 damages, but that she never made a demand for payment until January 17, 1905, when she asked for $357 68 on account, to be used in paying the benefits assessed against her property. He asserts that no other demand was made until last month, when he offered to issue a certificate for a warrant for the balance, less interest, which was refused. He avers that there has been no money available with which to pay such claims since last July, but that he was willing to issue a certificate for a warrant. The controller declares the plaintiff is not entitled to interest on the amount, as she made no demand for payment and is only entitled to $6,053 53.

Judge Frazer filed an opinion entering judgment against the city of Pittsburgh for $128,906.61 in favor of Werneberg, Sheehan & Co. The opinion was on the question of law reserved in the Grant boulevard suit, to which the verdict was subject. Judge Frazer's opinion gives the plaintiff company the full amount of the claim as agreed upon by the attorneys. The opinion is very brief, the court finding that the law is with the plaintiff in every item although in the same paragraph it states that this point is not entirely free from doubt.

Judge Frazer says: "There being no motion made for a new trial by either party, it is assumed that the amounts found are not considered unreasonable if the plaintiff is entitled to recover under the law at all. That the law is with the plaintiff on the items under dispute is not, in our opinion, entirely free from doubt. We have, however, after considerable difficulty reached the conclusion that under the circumstances of the case, as developed by the testimony, the law is with the plaintiff in each item and that judgment should be entered for the plaintiff on the verdict. Owing to the fact that both parties are desirous of making application to the supreme court to hear this case before the summer vacation, we are obliged to dispose of this motion with this brief opinion, and order judgment entered for the plaintiff on the verdict upon payment of the verdict fee."

Not Sufficient Facts for Divorce.

Common pleas court No. 1 sent back to the commissioner the papers in the divorce case of Jennie R. Wilson, who conducts a private school, against her husband, John P. Wilson, on grounds of desertion. The court says that the circumstances of the desertion must be set forth, the facts alone not being sufficient.

Mary E. Willock has entered suit against the West Side Belt railway to recover $15,000 damages. She alleges the defendant company have failed to make any payment for appropriating her property in Baldwin township.

Common pleas court No. 2 granted the petition to set aside the sale of the property of the Duquesne Printing Company in so far as includes property in the building of the Grabbata hairs, 106-108 Federal street, Allegheny. The court orders another sale of the property at public sale and sets Friday, April 14, for the sale.

Letters of administration, C. T. A., were taken out by the Fidelity Title and Trust Company on the estate of Fred Hoffield, whose will was filed for probate. The testator directs that his grocery business and home on Lowry street be sold and the proceeds divided among his children equally. If the grocery cannot be sold to advantage, and the business is carried on by the executors, the business and not the estate is to be liable for debts. He provides that his sons shall use the farm in Butler county for 10 years and an agent be provided to collect the rents, which are to be divided among the children. The estate is valued at $120,000 and is to be divided equally among his children when the youngest is 18 years old.

The superior court will convene in Pittsburgh Monday morning for the April term, taking up the cases appealed from Allegheny county the first week. The second week cases from Greene, Fayette, Westmoreland and Washington counties will be heard.

FINISH REGULAR LIST.

License Court Judges Will Hear Holdovers Today—Wholesale List Starts Monday.

The license court judges late yesterday afternoon finished the county's regular retail list and began work on the holdovers. Except where specific dates have been set for future hearings, the holdovers will be heard the first thing this morning. Yesterday afternoon the court took up those applicants who had not been heard in their turn and ran through with these cases as far as the end of Jefferson township. The Anti-Saloon league detectives were not particularly in evidence during the day, although Detective L. H. Marshall was in court all day. Attorney Stevenson explained their absence by stating they had no evidence to produce in the cases on hand, consequently there was no need for their presence.

In the case of Rose H. B. Horlacher of Stowe township Judge Shafer commented briefly on the fact that the presence of a colony of foreigners in a given locality is used as a reason for requesting a license for a foreigner and later, when a license is granted to the foreigner, the argument is set up that there should be an English-speaking saloon in the locality because the only other one, under the conditions cited, would be a foreigner's, and the granting of the second application is necessary to meet the wants of the supposed or presumed English-speaking element.

The wholesale list will be taken up on Monday, April 10.

In the regular list Charles L. Judge of Imperial was met with a statement that men arrested in a raid said they had procured liquor at Judge's place, which it not licensed now. Judge and several witnesses testified that no liquor was sold there. The section throughout North Fayette township is said to be afflicted with speakeasies and some witnesses for applicants said Pittsburgh wholesalers furnished the supplies. Attorney Stevenson took names for use at the wholesale hearings.

Frederick Balbach of O'Hara township was asked about sales to men of known intemperate habits. He said he had sold to one old man when he was sober. Judge Shafer said: "Some of you need instruction. You are not to sell to men of known intemperate habits, drunk or sober."

Charles Bozic of Elizabethtown road, Jefferson township, is a new applicant. He has operated a temperance hotel since last October. He had a license in East Pittsburgh in 1901. Attorney John C. Haymaker called Attorney Leon Long to show the excellent character of applicant's house in East Pittsburgh. Long said the dining-room was so clean he could have eaten off the floor. Judge Shafer laughingly said: "You have had a great deal of experience." Long replied: "Not eating off the floor, your honor."

ERLANGER MAKES STRONG THREAT

PLAYWRIGHT CORROBORATED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, April 7.

David Belasco was the star performer today in the legal drama that is engaging the attention of Judge Fitzgerald, of the supreme court, and as a witness in his own behalf he detailed dramatically the manner in which the theatrical syndicate endeavored to crush him and drive him from the business.

Mr. Belasco was free to admit that all plays are doctored, bolstered and changed more or less, but was proud to say he never lost a suit in which it was charged he was guilty of plagiarism. He frankly confessed to being a "poor financier."

Mr. Belasco, asked by Col. Gruber if his relations with Klaw & Erlanger had been of a friendly character, replied: "I never knew them well enough to be friendly. I always considered them hard headed business men." He stated if he had written of "our friendly relations," he was merely "jollying Mr. Erlanger." He denied that Brooks was his partner, but said Klaw & Erlanger were in "The Auctioneer," and stated if they would acknowledge that fact he would pay to them $2,500 which he has belonging to the firm and also turn over the scenery.

Control First-Class Theaters.

He said Klaw & Erlanger controlled practically all first-class theaters in the United States in 1900, and they wanted to crush him by refusing to book his plays, except under certain conditions.

"Do you detest Klaw & Erlanger?" inquired Col. Gruber.

"I detest their methods. I think Mr. Erlanger is the most abhorred man in the country," replied Mr. Belasco.

He stated that Erlanger told him he must have 50 per cent of the profits of his productions, otherwise he would be crushed. Erlanger said to him: "I will drive you out of business, crush you. I am a mogul. I am a king."

Belasco replied to him: "I know that, but I want a route. I don't care so much for money as for an artistic success."

"I would have struck him," Belasco continued, "if I was not at his mercy in the matter of booking. I wanted business for my star."

Under these circumstances he agreed to give Erlanger 50 per cent of the profits, and then Erlanger smilingly said to him:

Assertion Regarding Frohman.

"You have been doing business with Charles Frohman. You have had enough of Frohman. He has robbed you right and left and treated you like a dog. Keep this agreement between us a secret or the fellow across the street will raise ——— with us."

The playwright pledged secrecy "on my sacred word of honor."

"Did you not pay Mr. Frohman nearly $100,000 to get a booking of 'Zaza,'" inquired Mr. Untermeyer.

This was objected to and the objection was sustained.

Benjamin F. Roeder, business manager for Mr. Belasco, corroborated the playwright and said he understood Erlanger and not Brooks was the partner of Belasco in "The Auctioneer."

The trial will be resumed Monday morning.

BRODIE DUKE'S SANITY TO BE JUDGED BY A JURY

Court Holds There Is Prima Facie Evidence That the Tobacconist Is Mentally Incompetent.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, April 7. The appellate division of the supreme court today handed down a decision affirming an order by Justice Leventritt in the matter of a petition of Lawrence Duke to have Brodie L. Duke declared a person incompetent to manage his affairs. His property was alleged to amount to $100,000, but a question of jurisdiction came up.

Justice Leventritt decided that some of the property at least was situated in this state, that the affidavit of eminent alienists established at least a prima facie case of dementia under the statute, and directed that the question of competency of Brodie L. Duke be tried by a jury at the trial term of the supreme court.

JUDGES FILE ANSWERS.

Hold They Are Within Their Rights in Suspending Sentences in Pure Food Cases.

Judges James M. Galbreath of Butler county, Francis J. O'Conner of Cambria county and James Sharp Wilson of Beaver county filed answers to the alternative writs of mandamus granted on them by the supreme court on petition of the dairy and food commissioner, who asks that they be required to impose sentences on persons who had pleaded no defense to violating the pure food laws.

The judges' answers were similar in that they claimed the defendants sold without knowledge on their part that the foods were impure; were persons who would not willfully violate the laws, and that in suspending sentence in these cases the court simply held itself in readiness to impose sentence in the future if the exigencies of the cases demanded it.

The courts held they were within their prerogatives in suspending sentences, and that they believed substantial justice was being done in each case. All, however, expressed themselves as ready to act as the supreme court though proper, while denying that they had acted other than the conditions of each particular case demanded in a court of justice.

Ben-Hur as a Spectacle.

The big stage of the Nixon theater furnishes unlimited facilities for the handling of massive and intricate scenes. There are several of this kind in "Ben-Hur" and it being a part of the policy of the management of this stupendous stage offering to use every available space that a theater admits of with their attractions, they have arranged for a production of Gen. Wallace's great drama at the Nixon that will open the eyes of the Pittsburgh public with wonder when the curtain is raised next Monday evening.

MRS. CHADWICK IS INDICTED

Held on Joint Charge With Spear, Who Must Also Meet Another Count.

ACTION ON WOOSTER BANKER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, O., April 7.—The United States grand jury today returned an additional indictment against A. B. Spear, cashier of the Citizens national bank of Oberlin, which failed because of Mrs. Chadwick's operations. The additional indictment was returned on account of alleged new facts in connection with the manner in which Spear is said to have made false entries and affidavits about the bank's funds. This indictment, it is thought, will enable the government to make a clearer case against Spear.

The grand jury also returned a joint indictment against Spear and Mrs. Chadwick, in which the latter is charged with aiding and abetting Spear in making false entries. The specific charge against Spear is in making false oath to a report sent to the comptroller of currency.

The jury also reported another indictment against President Ohliger and Chairman of the Board of Directors Zimmerman, of the failed national bank of Wooster, O. There are five counts in the indictment. It is charged that they made false entries in the bank's books and also false entries in a report to the comptroller of the currency.

United States District Attorney Sullivan today, referring to Mrs. Chadwick's statement that her case would be carried to the United States supreme court if the court of appeals did not grant her a new trial, said: "She may perhaps do so, but she will first have to obtain permission from the United States supreme court, that is, the supreme court will have to be satisfied that there is an important and essential enough question involved that will warrant that tribunal in reviewing the case."

BEGINNING REHEARSALS.

Preparing for the Pittsburgh District Saengerfest in June.

At the meeting last night of the executive committee of the saengerfest to be held here in June, it was announced that two chorus rehearsals will be held tomorrow, one in Arion hall, Chartiers street, and one in Franz Abt hall in Millvale. Collections were reported amounting to $3,375.

Notice was received from the famous Arion society of Brooklyn that a committee would be here in a few days to close a contract with several hotels to accommodate the active singers who intend to participate and that Prof. Arthur Classen of that city will be here May 21 to conduct some special rehearsals.

Some of the details were decided on, one being in relation to the price of tickets, which were fixed at $1, $2 and $3, and a committee, consisting of Emanuel Schillo, Charles F. Seideneck, John H. Esser, Fred Stuempel, John Popp and Magnus Wolf, were appointed to care for that work, with Prof. Foerster, all of whom are members of the finance committee. Charles Kirschler, chief marshal of the parade on June 7, will meet with a sub-committee of the executive board on Thursday to decide on matters relating to that demonstration.

Workman Falls Down Shaft.

James Williams, aged 35, a laborer at the J. C. Lappe tannery, 188 Spring Garden avenue, Allegheny, was badly injured by falling down the elevator shaft while at work yesterday. He was taken to the Allegheny General hospital, and is suffering from concussion of the brain. Williams lives at 1053 Villa street, and is single.

"He grappled and struggled as if in the grasp of a powerful adversary."

THREE PERSONS END THEIR LIVES

Two Women and One Man Leave This World by Different Routes.

STRANGE EAST END SHOOTING

Two women and one man committed suicide in Allegheny county yesterday. Another woman, Mrs. Martha McKinley, aged 35, shot herself, probably fatally, and much mystery surrounds the dead. Bessie Foreman, aged 25, employed as a domestic by Henry McEldowney, Wightman and Northumberland streets, took phenol; Julia Elisabeth Carnahan of Verona shot herself, and William Moffet, aged 30, of 4 Aspen street, Twentieth ward, hanged himself in his room. All were despondent.

Bessie Foreman's home was at Meadville. She had been employed at the McEldowney residence for some time. When she retired Thursday night she was in good spirits. She dressed herself in white stockings, white underclothes and a white nightdress, went to bed and took the poison. She left several letters. One to her employer of apology for having killed herself in his home, and she asked him to have her body sent to an undertaker at Meadville. In a letter to her mother, sister and brother, she said she was of little value in the world. She left $73 to defray her burial expenses.

Boys Found a Suicide.

Mrs. Carnahan was the wife of C. R. Carnahan, who is employed at the Verona yards of the Allegheny Valley railroad. Yesterday morning her husband left her in good health and spirits, and she told him she would look for a house, as the family had to move next week. John Reed and James Flint, boys, were fishing at Plum Creek, about a mile from Verona, and saw Mrs. Carnahan walking in the roadway, carrying a revolver. She tried to conceal the weapon when the boys looked at her. Later they heard a shot and hurried to the roadway. They found the woman dead, with a bullet hole in her right temple. She used a 22-caliber revolver. Her husband said their relations had been pleasant. She is also survived by several children.

William Moffitt lived with his mother and brother. Last night he returned home and went to his room and hanged himself. It is thought he was despondent, as he was out of employment. His mother and brother refused to give the police any information about the case.

Mrs. Lewis, who makes her home with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert M. Best, at 5020 Harvard street, East End, shot herself in the abdomen with a 38-caliber revolver last evening at 5 o'clock. Mrs. Lewis was alone in the house and was in a bedroom on the second floor. She walked downstairs to the first floor and was found there some time later by Mrs. Mary Connoly, who lives in the rear.

Did Not Know Woman Was Shot.

Mrs. Connoly at first supposed that the woman was sick and gave her stimulants to relieve an attack of cramps with which she supposed Mrs. Lewis to be suffering as she only complained of feeling sick, and did not mention having shot herself. In a short time she became worse and then said she had shot herself accidentally. Dr. H. O. Beatty was summoned and upon examination found that the bullet was lodged in the muscles of the small of the back and had penetrated the intestines in several places. He gave it as his opinion that she could not live until morning.

No motive is known for the act. Mrs. Lewis in an ante-mortem statement said she was removing the revolver from a dresser when it was accidently discharged.

Mrs. Lewis owns three houses in Princeton place, valued at $18,000, and is said to have been worried over the management of her property. She was to have appeared in court this morning to defend an action brought by her brother to have her declared incompetent to transact her business affairs.

Mrs. Lewis' husband, Charles W. Lewis, died last December. He was in the postal service, running on the Pennsylvania lines for the last 22 years, and was well known throughout the East End and among railroad men.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY.

Park Lodge, I. O. O. F., Celebrates Its Twenty-Fifth Birthday.

At the 25th anniversary celebration of Park lodge 973, Independent Order Odd Fellows, held in Allegheny Carnegie music hall last night, the hall was crowded with members and friends of the lodge. Fully 1,500 people attended the celebration and were entertained with a clever vaudeville performance under the direction of E. H. Mair. The music was furnished by the Avondale orchestra, under the direction of E. G. Bothwell.

A one-act comedy, "The Man from Texas," in which Amelia E. Wagner, Jessie Lee Buckell, Ivor M. Lowrie and E. H. Mair took part, made a hit with the audience. The comedy quartet and the Barr sisters, song and dance artists, received much applause.

MADE A FEW CHANGES IN HIGH SCHOOL TEXT BOOKS

The committee on text books and course of instruction of the central board of education, met last night. The present course of study in the ward schools was continued without change, but in the high school two changes and one addition were recommended. Director E. C. Rynearson said it was desired to substitute Ashley's American federal states for McCleary's civics and West's English grammar for Patterson's grammar and rhetoric, which latter has been in use for the past 25 years, and is not considered now to be up to date. He also asked that Butcher's Homer's Odyssey be added to the High school list, an expurgated translation, which was agreed to

FINAL FROLIC AT THE GARDEN

YEAR'S ATTENDANCE 150,000

The seventh season at Duquesne Garden closed last night with 10 policemen, 30 traction inspectors and a squad of firemen as spectators. The men in uniform had been summoned to assist in putting persistent skaters off the ice in case they should refuse to observe the summons of the closing gong, but it was like the breaking up of a church social and the minions of law and order looked like uninvited guests at a family reunion.

Nearly 3,000 persons took a final whirl on the ice last night. Shortly after 10 o'clock the rattle of the gong made everybody skate faster. Guenther snapped his fingers and his orchestra responded with "Auld Lang Syne." The enthusiasm grew apace and somebody started to sing "We Won't Go Home Till Morning." This made the policemen, firemen and inspectors gather a little nearer to the rail. For a moment things to them looked serious. Guenther played "Oh, We'll Just Break the Ice, Mari-ah," and somebody on skates struck up "Teasing."

By this time 500 skaters were striking out like Norwegians on skees and some started to sing the old melody, "When Boston Wins the Pennant, We'll All Own Cuticle Steel," and the orchestra struck up "They're Building Airships in Butler County," and changed off on the patriotic measure, "When Teddy Kills a Bear, We'll All Get a Steak."

Fast skating made equilibrium a difficult thing to maintain, and quite a number lost it. Then the crowd sang "Be Kind to the Ice, Oh Marie," and "Johnny, Take Your Bumps to the Phrenologist Man." The orchestra tore off a few bars of "Dan, Dan, Slippery Dan from Danbury." This enthused everybody and some sang a parody on "I Got My Skates in the Hardware Store—Away With the Brown Jug, Away."

Then a platoon of men with a rope moved up through the arena and the crowd dispersed. A few noisy ones lingered a moment and wondered what the music was they had heard on the ice.

Manager A. S. McSwigan announces that the garden will be opened for skating on November 20. It will be closed throughout the summer. The attendance for the season was slightly above 150,000. Jack Frost was a strong competitor in January and February and during the seven weeks of outdoor skating the crowds did not average so well.

OUTWITTED BY ELOPERS.

Detective at Wheeling Failed to Arrest Couple After Locating Them at Hotel.

Mrs. T. Nahra, wife of a Syrian merchant at No. 35 Washington street, Pittsburgh, is charged with eloping to Wheeling with Philip Johns, also a Syrian, living in Grant boulevard and with taking with her $500 of her husband's money.

The couple disappeared 10 days ago. A detective tracked the elopers to Wheeling. At the St. Charles hotel in that city they were found on Thursday night. Leaving a guard at the hotel the detective started to secure police assistance. Meantime some one warned the couple, and when the detective got back his quarry was gone.

It is supposed the man and woman escaped into Ohio. Meantime Nohra is confined to his bed with nervous prostration due to the loss of his wife and money.

W. & J. GETS BEQUEST.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The appellate division of the supreme court of the state of New York, first judicial department, handed down a decision today, reversing the judgment in the case of Robert S. Robb against Washington and Jefferson college of Washington, Pa.

By the decision the court held that the declaration of trust made by John H. Wallace, whereby he left his entire fortune, amounting to about $150,000, excepting some legacies to relatives, to the college, to establish a professorship of rhetoric and oratory, is valid. The supreme court had held that the gift was invalid. This decision overrules the judgment of the supreme court.

INDIAN WOMEN.

How They Live and Keep Well.

Indian women as a rule are healthy and strong because of the out-door life they lead. Sleeping in tents, as they do—they breathe good air—day and night, and because they have knowledge of many of the indigenous plants which have great medicinal virtues, they keep well. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not an Indian medicine, because it was prescribed by a prominent physician in his private practice for many years, and its principal ingredients are listed in the United States Pharmacopoeia, and at least one of the ingredients is used almost wholly by the most eminent specialists in women's diseases and recommended by professors of medical colleges. At the same time Dr. Pierce believes that he has a most valuable secret in the combination of its principal ingredients which actual experience has proven will cure most every woman of those ills so common to woman-kind. Some of the roots and herbs entering in to its composition are dug up by the squaws on the several reservations in the spring of the year and shipped to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory in the fall. The best of them are assorted and used in his Buffalo Laboratory, the World's Dispensary. The N. Y. Journal in a recent article says:

For the purpose of showing the purity and honesty of his medicines, the "Favorite Prescription" and the "Golden Medical Discovery," Dr. R. V. Pierce has thrown open to public inspection his laboratories and works in Buffalo.

These guides explain the detailed and scientific work of the skilled chemists and just how and of what the modern "patent medicine" is made.

To every visitor is also explained the system by which every user of Doctor Pierce's medicines receives individual care from one or more specialists.

Dr. Pierce was a member of Congress where he served with honor. He is a splendid specimen of manhood with a frank countenance, inspiring confidence, and great personal magnetism.

For forty years Dr. Pierce has been actively engaged in the manufacture of his prescriptions. His fully-equipped laboratory has grown and expanded until now it is the largest and most complete one known.

Dr. Pierce's success is real. There is a steadily increasing demand for his medicines, proving conclusively that they are not nostrums, but reliable remedies for diseases.

"Two years ago when I suffered from change of life," writes Mrs. Louis Swenson, of 424 West Fullerton Ave., Chicago, Ills., "I did not know what to do, but remembered that my mother-in-law having tried Dr. Pierce's medicines, was saved, so I thought I would write to you for advice.

"Result: After having taken three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and two and a half of 'Favorite Prescription' and using half a bottle of witch hazel, I noticed great improvement, and now am able to do all my own work, also have a splendid appetite. When I was first taken sick we called a doctor, and he said I would have to have an operation. Then I decided to write to you. Got two bottles of your medicine and after taking the second bottle I never thought of a hospital, or operation. I am gaining in weight—weigh more now than I ever did in my life. My friends are surprised when they see me as I have changed so in looks.

I wish I could write and tell all suffering women of Dr. Pierce's great 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' for poor, sick sufferers."

Pierce's Pellets

These are the Original Little Liver Pills, first put up over 40 years ago, by old Dr. R. V. Pierce. They're been much imitated but never equaled. Smallest, easiest to take and best. They're tiny, sugar-coated, anti-bilious granules, a compound of refined and concentrated vegetable extracts. Without disturbance or trouble, constipation, indigestion, bilious attacks, sick and bilious headache, and all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels are prevented, relieved, and cured. Permanently cured, too. By their mild and natural action, these Little Pellets gently lead the system into natural ways again. Their influence lasts.

They act like Exercise.

BILL SATISFIES THE GOVERNOR

DISCUSSES THE GREATER CITY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
HARRISBURG, PA., April 7.

Gov. Pennypacker this afternoon authorized The Gazette correspondent to announce that he was satisfied with the amendment made in the senate to the Cook bill which takes from private water companies the right of eminent domain. This bill has passed the house and has been in senate committee for some time. It was opposed principally for the reason that it would affect existing water companies in such a manner as to deprive municipalities and railroads from obtaining their necessary water supply.

The senate committee on corporations has amended the bill so that it affects only such companies as may hereafter be chartered. The governor is satisfied with this amendment. He expressed the opinion that the change was not necessary for the reason that the bill could not have been retroactive in its application, according to supreme court decisions, but he is satisfied to have this fact more explicitly outlined by the amendments made.

The governor was very busy this afternoon. Scores of bills banked his desk and many more were laid out in order upon the carpet, forming a circle about the executive chair. When asked if he had signed the Greater Pittsburgh bill, he expressed surprise at the question and laughed heartily when told of its delay in reaching him by reason of the absence of the presiding officers of the senate.

Governor Places the Credit.

"I see," said the governor, "Pittsburgh newspapers are crediting me with being responsible for the passage of this bill of Mr. Cook's. While I enjoy the compliment, I hardly think it deserved. It is true that I advocated such legislation in my inaugural address and that I supplemented this recommendation in a subsequent message. The accomplishment, however, of such an important end, is one not due to the individual efforts of any person or persons, but is rather the achievement of united effort upon the part of the people as a whole. It is true that I have observed some evidences of political differences as to the features of the bill, since its introduction, but this is always the case in matters of such moment. The position of The Gazette has been correct in its statement that the matter was one of too much importance, of too broad a scope, and of too much promise for the future, to be halted or disturbed by factional objections. Happily this course has been pursued."

Gov. Pennypacker seemed to be much pleased when told that the measure had not been mutilated or changed by the printer or other agencies from the time he reviewed it until this afternoon when it was signed by the speaker of the house. His action may be anticipated and his approval is certain very soon after the measure is received from the senate.

Speaker Walton Satisfied.

When asked about the bill of Senator McNichol, creating a state water commission, the governor said he had not examined the bill, but from what he had been told, he thought it might be a good companion for the Cook eminent domain measure.

The Goehring newspaper retraction bill passed second reading in the house this morning. It probably will be passed finally Monday afternoon. The house will hold two sessions Monday, one at 4 o'clock and one in the evening. Most of the house bills have been disposed of. Three or four house bills will be read a third time and passed finally Monday afternoon, after which the order of business will be senate bills on first, second and third reading. All house bills, except those noted, will then be dropped from the calendar, as no house bill can go to the senate after Monday afternoon.

Speaker Walton today expressed his pleasure at the vast amount of work the house has accomplished this week. He commended the members for their strict attention to business and said that they would have things much easier the three remaining days of work next week. On the contrary, the senate will be the theater of activity. Haste and rapid-fire action will succeed the easy-going atmosphere of senatorial deliberation. Everything, however, is in good shape, and while both branches probably will be in session all of Wednesday night, in order to give a proper coloring to the final adjournment Thursday, the function will be more of a social than of a business character. This, at least, is the speaker's forecast, and he is in a position to speak with authority.

Memento of "Farmer" Creasy.

The judges retiring bill will be passed Monday or Tuesday. The Ehrhardt bills, now in the senate, probably will be closed out at the same time. There are some other important measures, but, with the exception of those mentioned, none will invite discussion or precipitate strife.

Before leaving for Philadelphia today, Mr. Walton carefully filed away in the house vault the ivory gavel with which he has punctuated proceedings and preserved the orderly demeanor of the present house. It was cracked. On the circumference of its ivory face, the speaker, with ink, inscribed the following: "Sacred to the memory of 'Farmer' Creasy. The first gavel of the session of 1905."

The gavel was broken last night when the speaker was trying to pound the "Farmer" into a recognition of parliamentary usage. The occasion was the passage of the Philadelphia department bills. Mr. Creasy has done a great deal of talking this session, has introduced and urged the passage of a great number of Populistic and extraordinary measures which have been defeated. But he is warmly regarded by the majority, and especially by the speaker, and unanimous consent is given to the thought that he is fair, honest and sincere in all that which he undertakes to do. His integrity is unquestioned. It is because of this feeling of estimation in which he is held that Speaker Walton will retain the broken gavel as a tribute to a most interesting and pleasant association.

Successful at Peacemaking.

Mr. Walton today invited Chairman Plummer of the appropriations committee and Representative Hayes of Butler to his office. Bluntly, but kindly, he said to them that both were men of too much sense to entertain feelings of resentment, and it was their duty to shake hands and forget. His advice was accepted. There was little in the way of differences, Mr. Hayes having been displeased in regard to Chairman Plummer's reception of a delegation of Butler county citizens which appeared before the appropriations committee in behalf of one of their home institutions. From this incident unlicensed criticism has been made upon Chairman Plummer by insurgent and Democratic newspapers.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

HOUSE CLEARS CALENDAR AND ADJOURNS TO MONDAY

Bill to Prevent Interference With Competition Fails—Number of Bills Passed Finally.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, April 7.—After clearing its calendar of all house bills except those on the postponed calendar the house adjourned at noon until 4 o'clock Monday. The bill making it a misdemeanor for two or more persons to enter into an agreement to control the price of any article or commodity to prevent or curtail the production, manufacture or sale of the same or to prevent or interfere with free competition in the production, manufacture or sale of the same, failed today on final passage.

The bill providing that persons shall not be eligible to election as solicitor of third-class cities until three years after their admission to practice in the supreme court was postponed which disposes of it for this session.

The following bills passed finally:

Joint resolution authorizing the state fish commissioner to allow the use of the tanks used by the department of fisheries at the St. Louis exposition and also the mounted specimens of fish, birds and mammals by the city of Philadelphia for the purpose of an aquarium.

Authorizing the creation, division and consolidation of wards in second class cities.

Providing that a corporation or company authorized to become surety in any bond undertaking or other obligation required or permitted by law in any case for the performance of any duty or obligation whatsoever, shall furnish with such bond, etc., a certificate of the insurance commissioner that the corporation or company is authorized to become and accepted as sole surety on bonds or other obligations.

Regulating fishing in rivers forming the boundary between Pennsylvania and any other state.

Specifying the kind of returns which distilleries shall make to the auditor general for taxation purposes.

Requiring safety stops and controllers of hoist engines, cars, cages and other hoisting appliances in shafts, slopes, strippings, quarries and mines.

The bill regulating the collection of taxes in boroughs failed on final passage. The following appropriation bills passed finally:

Grand View institution, Oil City, $5,000; Suburban hospital, Bellevue, $15,000; McKees Rocks hospital, $2,500; State Normal school, $300,000; Miners' hospital, Spangler, $5,000; DuBois hospital, $5,000; Clearfield hospital, $2,000; dedication of Pennsylvania monuments at Andersonville, $5,000; Bellefonte hospital, $5,000; Allegheny Rescue home, $2,600.

The 151 bills on second reading in the senate were advanced to third reading and a number were reported from committees and read the first time. The senate bill giving street railway companies the right to carry freight and charge therefor, and the senate bill making it unlawful to locate, build, construct, complete, maintain or operate any surface or elevated passenger street or other railway on certain boulevards, streets or avenues were re-committed to committee.

The bill appropriating $55,000 to the Millersville Normal school was passed finally and sent to the house. This is the last senate bill to go to the house.

CHILD BOARDED WRONG CAR, WALKED STREETS ALL NIGHT

Having boarded the wrong car at Wilkinsburg Thursday night, little Margaret Brown, aged 9, of Banner alley at Lawrenceville, was found at 7 o'clock yesterday morning wandering about the streets of Wilmerding by Dr. W. R. Shoemaker of Airbrake avenue. After taking the child home and giving her breakfast the physician learned that she had left the home of her sister in Wilkinsburg the evening before. By mistake she took a Wilmerding car. Getting off in that borough, she became bewildered and wandered about the streets all night. Dr. Shoemaker placed the child on a train for Pittsburgh. She said she could find her way home all right if she once reached the city.

LOADED CRAFT COMING DOWN

There is scarcely an hour of the day now that a pool boat does not come down the Monongahela with a heavy tow of barges, heaped full of coal. The lower harbor, which was completely cleared a week ago, is rapidly filling up with coal fleets, and by the time the next rise comes there will be plenty of coal at the landings for the down river boats. They are getting back now from their run down the river on the recent rise. Every upbound boat has a heavy tow of empties which are being hurried to the boat yards and repaired for another trip. River carpenters are enjoying an unusually good season. The boat yards are working overtime, getting everything in shape for a run.

The Sam Brown and the Ironsides both got up yesterday from Cincinnati with empties. Following them came the Tornado. The Volunteer went to Tiltonville, O., and helped the Sam Brown up with her tow. A number of other boats will be in today. Rivermen are looking for another boating stage about the first of next week.

The packets are still badly off their time. This is entirely due to enormous way business. Rivermen say this season is better than any they have had for years in this respect, and there seems to be no letup to it. The Virginia of the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Packet line will start from Cincinnati next Tuesday. The Queen City and Keystone State will then be able to get back on their regular days. The Queen City will arrive here Monday from Cincinnati and leave the same afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Greenland, Mrs. Mary B. Green, commander, arrived last evening at 5 o'clock. She was about eight hours late, owing to heavy business, and left again at 9 o'clock last evening.

The Lorena, which has been laid up here all week with a broken shaft, will have completed her repairs today and will leave for Zanesville tonight.

The Rose Hite was the Morgantown boat out yesterday.

The body of the man found at New Cumberland, W. Va., and supposed to be that of Capt. W. O. Rhodes, has been identified as that of Charles Thompson of Beaver.

SOLDIERS KILLED IN EARTHQUAKE

MISSIONARIES ARE VICTIMS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

CALCUTTA, April 7.—It now appears that 400 of the Seventh Gurkhas were killed at the Dharmsala cantonment by the collapse of a stone barrack building in consequence of the recent earthquake. In addition 20 members of the first battalion and 50 members of the second battalion of the First Gurkhas were killed, while it is roughly calculated that from 20 to 30 per cent of the native population of the surrounding villages were killed. In addition to the Europeans already reported killed at Dharmsala, seven children of Europeans are said to have perished.

It is reported that the town of Kangra was reduced to ruins with great loss of life.

LAHORE, April 7.—A private telegram received here says the whole town of Palampur, containing about 5,000 inhabitants, has been levelled to the ground and that not a single building is left standing.

LONDON, April 7.—A telegram received by the church missionary society in London from Lahore, India, reports that three of the society's representatives at Kangra, the Rev. H. F. Rowland, Mrs. Dauehle and Miss Lorber were killed by the fall of the mission house there during the recent earthquake. All the other missionaries in the Punjab are believed to be safe. Miss Lorber was a member of the Berlin Ladies' Missionary society and was loaned to the church missionary society for work in India.

RUINED GLASS POTS.

Homestead Boys Charged With Throwing Nails Into Them.

Damage to about $4,000 has been done within the past few days at the Bryce-Higbee glass factory in Homestead, and eight boys, ranging from 14 to 19 years of age, have been arrested, charged with malicious mischief before Justice Miller of Homestead. The hearing will be today.

About 20 pots at the works have become useless, and officials of the company discovered nails and pieces of iron on the bottom, which caused the pots to rust and leak. It is said that C. K. Bryce, a member of the firm, discovered the boys who were arrested, throwing the articles into the pots. A number of other arrests will follow.

SORRY FOR PUBLIC, BUT ACQUITTED THE BANKER

DENVER, COL., April 7.—By order of District Judge Frank T. Johnson, the jury in the case of E. M. Johnson, former president of the defunct Fidelity Savings association, charged with embezzlement, today returned a verdict of not guilty. While lamenting the fact that thousands of poor persons had been made penniless by the failure of the Fidelity, Judge Johnson said the worst that had been proven was mismanagement.

Officers After Mine Promoter.

BUTTE, MONT., April 7.—Federal officers here are looking for Henry A. Everett, proprietor of the Imperial Globe Mining and Leasing Company, which is alleged to have secured about $35,000 from nearly 400 patrons, principally western farmers, on a special inducement that they would receive several thousand dollars worth of government bonds free.

RURAL ROUTES GROW RAPIDLY

Service Extended to Over Five Thousand Districts in the Past Ten Months.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.

Over 5,000 new rural routes were established in the various states and territories during the 10 months ended April 1 last, and over 1,000 additional routes were authorized and will be put in operation within the next 60 days, according to a bulletin made public today by Fourth Assistant Postmaster General DeGraw. At this rate, it is stated, it will be but a comparatively brief time until every rural community in the country sufficiently populous to justify the service, will have rural free delivery. Postmaster General Cortelyou said today that the present policy of extensions would be continued and that there would be no change, save that an effort toward economy would be made wherever possible without curtailing the service.

Mr. DeGraw's statement shows that on April 1 there were 29,936 rural routes in operation, as against 24,568 on June 30, 1904. Petitions for additional routes to the number of 4,521 are pending, and of these 1,098 have been authorized.

Illinois leads in the number of routes, having 2,450 as against 2,428 at the last report. Ohio has moved up into second place, with 2,161 as against 1,816. Iowa held second place 10 months ago with 1,803, and now has 2,048. Indiana comes fourth with 1,804, as against 1,658. The other states having a large number of routes are as follows: Pennsylvania 1,679, New York 1,611, Michigan 1,594, Missouri 1,544, Kansas 1,367, Wisconsin 1,303, Tennessee 1231, Texas 1,151, Minnesota 1,141. Nevada has but one route, New Mexico has but three and Wyoming but five.

The rural service has not as yet been extended to the insular possessions of the United States. During the past year a petition was received for the establishment of one route in Hawaii, out of Honolulu, but it was reported on adversely. The next two years, however, will probably witness the extension of the service to parts of Porto Rico and possibly to Hawaii and the Philippines.

VERNER IS HOME AGAIN.

Declares He Remained in Harrisburg to Look After the Greater Pittsburgh Bill.

Murry A. Verner returned last night from Harrisburg, where he remained after the departure of other local politicians, who left when the passage of the Greater Pittsburgh bill was assured. Mr. Verner was asked why he stayed so long at the state capital, and he replied:

"Oh, to see that the Greater Pittsburgh bill went through without any slips. I tried to get Lieut. Gov. Brown to sign the bill before he left Harrisburg this week, but he got away before I could see him."

Mr. Verner denied that his prolonged stay at Harrisburg had anything to do with traction legislation, particularly the bill to prevent traction roads being built on boulevards, which former Senator William Flinn charged Director Bigelow with shelving in a committee of the senate. As soon as Mr. Verner arrived at his home he was met by Director Bigelow and the two held a conference.

WITNESS TURNS TABLES ON THE CITY ATTORNEY

He Had Played Poker, He Admits, and With His Inquisitor, Moreover, in Back Room of Drug Store.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ASBURY PARK, N. J., April 7.—City Attorney S. A. Patterson, who examined Roy Wainwright, a witness in Police Chief Smith's trial today, was plainly embarrassed at the unexpected testimony of the witness. Mr. Patterson was endeavoring to show that Wainwright played poker at a fruit store on Main street, which, it is claimed, Chief Smith protects. Wainwright could not remember having done so, although he said he had played poker at several places.

"Well, when and with whom?" inquired the city attorney.

"With you and your brother, Al Craig, and Cornelius Landers in McBride's drug store last summer," replied the witness.

The city attorney gracefully admitted he played poker with friends occasionally and that he had bet on the races, but added:

"If I was chief of police I would not do it."

SPRING WASN'T GENTLE.

All Kinds of Weather Followed Prediction of "Fair and Warmer."

The weather man and the elements had a falling out yesterday. Under a prediction of "fair and warmer" a potpourri of springtime was handed down from the clouds that was as uninviting as it was variable. Snow, hail, rain and sunshine prevailed intermittently, while the temperature continued in its downward flight.

The temperature fell gradually throughout the middle west and along the gulf coast during the day, while fair weather prevailed in the eastern section of the country. The weather man refuses to hedge and again predicts fair and warmer weather for today.

We Offer $1,000

For a Disease Germ That Liquozone Can't Kill.

On every bottle of Liquozone we offer $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. We do this to assure you that Liquozone does kill germs.

And it is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease. It is this fact which gives Liquozone its worth to humanity; a worth so great that, after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, we paid $100,000 for the American rights. And we have spent over one million dollars, in one year, to buy the first bottle and give it free to each sick one who would try it.

Acts Like Oxygen.

Liquozone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there any alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. This process has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is an absolutely certain germicide. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetal matter.

Liquozone goes into the stomach, into the bowels and into the blood, to go wherever the blood goes. No germ can escape it and none can resist it. The results are inevitable, for a germ disease must end when the germs are killed. Then Liquozone, acting as a wonderful tonic, quickly restores a condition of perfect health. Diseases which have resisted medicine for years yield at once to Liquozone, and it cures diseases which medicine never cures. Half the people you meet—wherever you are—can tell you of cures that were made by it.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end and forever. That is inevitable.

EDUCATION AS AN ECONOMIC NEED

Dr. Herrick Declares Business World Requires Higher Intellectual Standard.

LECTURES BEFORE INSTITUTE

A forceful argument for a system of commercial instruction in educational institutions, be they public schools or universities, to the end that the men who engage in commercial pursuits shall be recruited from an educated class, was made by Dr. Chessman Herrick of the Philadelphia School of Commerce, in the assembly room of the Allegheny High school, Arch and Erie streets, last night. Dr. Herrick spoke under the auspices of the Allegheny Teachers' Institute. He was heard by a large and interested audience. Prof. Morrow presided, and Prof. John A. Brashear followed Dr. Herrick in a brief address in which he expressed his sympathy with the ideas advanced by the Philadelphia educator.

Dr. Herrick spoke of the origin of commercial schools, and outlined the difference between the private schools or business colleges and the commercial instruction courses being introduced more and more among the public schools and higher institutions of learning. He declared that a crying need was for an educated business man to second the efforts of an educated mechanic. It would be lamentable to accept the theory that all education needs to do is to fit men for production and that competition will give commercial advantages.

To Give the Merchant Dignity.

A trained business world would lift commercial pursuits to a higher ethical plane; it would lessen the appalling number of business failures and it would give to the merchant the dignity that attaches to the learned—so-called—professions.

Dr. Herrick paid tribute to the older business colleges; he referred to the career of Dr. Duff and other pioneers in this branch of instruction in Western Pennsylvania and gladly admitted the remarkable successes achieved by many of those who are students in those institutions. Referring to the gradual, but steady, introduction of commercial training in public high schools, private academies and institutes and schools of college and university rank, Dr. Herrick said the motive of these institutions should not be the immediate and direct benefit to the individual, but the more remote and indirect advantages to the community. When commercial education is introduced into schools of these classes there should be taken that broad view which reckons with community needs and community consequences.

The lecturer then made an application of the principles laid down to the metropolis of Western Pennsylvania. He maintained that a liberal commercial education was an economic necessity. Especially is this true in a community as marked for its manufacturing industries as Pittsburgh.

Need of the Trained Merchant.

There is need of a trained merchant to successfully carry to its logical conclusion the work of the trained manufacturer. Dr. Herrick then outlined the development of the commercial high school idea, and illustrated the benefits derived from the experiences of Philadelphia and New York.

"Those who are to formulate courses for commercial instruction," said Dr. Herrick, in closing, "should see to it that they are sound educationally. Schools of commerce of the new type are not to be competitors with or duplicates of that clearly defined institution, the American business college. Let a strong emphasis be placed upon the last word of the term 'commercial education.' If schools of commerce as a branch of public education are to win and hold the favor of the educational experts on the one hand and the business community on the other, they must be more than 'clerk factories.' No school can claim respectability and furnish a training cheap and inferior."

Dr. Herrick will speak again on the subject of commercial education at the meeting of the Institute in the Allegheny High school assembly room this morning.

MINE OPERATORS BLAMED.

Coroner's Jury Holds Their Wilful and Criminal Negligence Responsible for Loss of 111 Lives.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., April 7.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the Virginia mine disaster of February 20, in which 111 persons lost their lives, returned a verdict this afternoon which charges four mine operators with wilful and criminal negligence. The jury returned a separate verdict in the case of each man killed. The verdict says:

"The explosion was caused by the collection of dust that was allowed to accumulate in the mines of the Alabama Steel and Wire Company, by their agents, although the state mine inspector and his assistants had repeatedly warned them of the dangerous condition of the mines for more than a year prior to the explosion. The men came to their death in an unlawful manner by the wilful and criminal negligence of Everett T. Schuler, George E. Schuler, Amos W. Reed and Samuel Hartly, operators, managers and mine foremen of the said mine."

PASSED THE LIE.

Sensational Quarrel at a Meeting of the Mifflin Township Board of Commissioners.

A sensational meeting of the Mifflin township board of commissioners was held yesterday and for a time it was thought the meeting would end in a free-for-all fight. During the course of the gathering the lie was passed between Commissioner Harry Bain and President S. B. Smith over the election of road supervisors.

It is said that Mr. Bain accused President Smith of refusing to vote for the man he promised before he was elected. Smith contradicted the allegation and hot words followed, the men finally being separated by their friends, each claiming the matter was not settled as yet between them.

The report of the auditors of the township showed a shortage of nearly $50o in the account of former Treasurer N. D. Jones, who disappeared some years ago, this being the first report of the auditors since then.

KELLOGG IS AGAIN SENT TO SING-SING

NEW YORK, April 7.—James B. Kellogg, the convicted pool manipulator who organized the E. S. Dean Company, the Penny Express, the Interional Rubber Company of New Brunswick, N. J., and other similar corporations, today went to Sing Sing to serve a six years' sentence. He had just completed a two and one-half years' sentence.

Report Was Submitted.

The Ladies' Relief society of Allegheny yesterday submitted the following annual report from November 1, 1904 to April 1, 1905: Collections, $2,254 25; disbursements, $2,250 00, leaving a balance of $3 65. Distributions, 14,776 bushels of coal, 450 pairs of shoes, 271 pairs of stockings, 1,122 yards of dry goods, 1,863 articles of clothing, two bedspreads, 65 articles of bedding, 39 baskets of provisions, 25 pounds of coffee, 150 Salvation army tickets for Christmas dinners, and groceries to the amount of $94 10. There have been 912 visits made, 294 families relieved, 185 children provided for and 36 persons secured employment.

SOCIETY

NUMBERED among the most delightful social affairs which have been attendant upon the presence of the school set in the city, is Miss Euphemia Bakewell's card party. It was given at the home of the hostess in Shady avenue, just above Fifth, yesterday afternoon, without any special guest of honor. Domino whist was the game played at four tables, the prizes going to Miss Rachel C. McClelland, Miss Ruth Walker, Miss Pauline Dilworth and Miss Mary Shields. The card tables were placed in the dainty drawing room and in the library on the opposite side of the hall, adjoining which is the large sun parlor. In every apartment there were simple decorations of tall vases of American Beauty roses and smaller bowls and jars of the springlike jonquils. In addition to the prize winners the guests included Miss Rachel McClintock, Miss Sarah P. McClelland and her house guests, Miss Gladys Pardee and Miss Katherine Pardee of Hazleton, Pa., and Miss Louise Folhemus of Newark, N. J., Miss Margarita Frew, Miss Virginia Frew, Miss Marjorie Rea, Miss Hamilton, Miss Winifred King, Miss Elizabeth Irwin, Miss Margaret Hay, Miss Hester Singer and several others.

Theater Party Followed by Supper.

A supper at the Duquesne club followed the theater party given last evening at the Nixon by Miss Minnie A. Beatty and Miss Lorraine T. Beatty. The cards marking the places of the girls in the party were dainty water-colored sketches cut in the shape of slippers, while those for the men were horseshoes. Mrs. Henry Bruce Beatty, mother of the two hostesses, chaperoned the party, which included Miss Jean Roberts, Miss Eleanor S. Ayers, Miss May Klinefelter, Miss Marguerite Bope, Miss Mary Tomkin, George Rhoda, James Archer, George Hullings, Robert Bauersmith, John Shaw, Richard Sloan and Herold L. Bope.

Met New Pastor's Wife.

On the occasion of the last at home day of Mrs. Alexander R. Peacock, observed yesterday afternoon, the guest of honor was Mrs. J. Kinsey Smith, wife of the Rev. Dr. Smith, the new pastor of the Shadyside Presbyterian church. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Clifton A. Verner, Mrs. Omar Scott Decker, Mrs. Franklin Pierce Bell, Mrs. Robert Christie, Mrs. Henry Dallmeyer, Jr., Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes and Mrs. W. S. Miller. A variety of spring flowers, including tupils, hyacinths and narcissi, brought from the "Rowanlea" conservatories, formed the decorations.

Local People Home from the East.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McK. Cook and the latter's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Wood Scully, returned to their homes in Allegheny yesterday after spending the week in New York. Another brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Harold Childs, came home on Thursday evening. They all went east to attend the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Cook's elder son, J. Walton Cook, and Miss Ethel Soule of New York, which took place in the chantry of the Church of the Transfiguration on Monday afternoon. The bride and bridegroom are now in Hot Springs, Va., where they will remain until about May 1.

Luncheon for School Girls.

A beautifully appointed little luncheon was given yesterday by Miss Margaret E. Phillips at her home in Ridge avenue, Allegheny, the guests including the school girls who are home for the spring vacation. Jonquils and narcissi carried out the prevailing colors. The guests were Miss Nancy Marshall, Miss Sarah P. McClelland, Miss Rachel C. McClelland, Miss Katherine Pardee, Miss Gladys Pardee, Miss Louise Folhemus, Miss Winifred King, Miss Mary Painter, Miss Anne Moorhead, Miss Frances Huselton, the Misses Harper, Miss Clara Gregg and Mrs. Oliver P. Nicols.

Post Nuptial Announcement Made.

Cards have been received in this city announcing the marriage of Miss Melaina Leila Christy, daughter of Mrs. Robert Christy of El Paso, Tex., formerly of Carnegie, Pa., and Robert Charles McKee of this city, the wedding having taken place in El Paso on Tuesday. Mr. McKee is connected with the Westinghouse Machine Company in East Pittsburgh. On Thursdays in May he and his bride will be at home in Mill street, Wilkinsburg.

Engagement and April Wedding.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Elsie Boepme, niece of Mrs. Amelia Roessler of Shetland avenue, East End, and CCharles F. Wagner, also of this city. The engagement will terminate in a very quiet wedding next Wednesday evening, the Rev. Dr. George N. Chalfant, a former pastor of the Park Avenue Presbyterian church, officiating. Mr. Wagner an dhis bride will take an eastern trip and after May 1 will be at home in Poke place, East End.

In Honor of Bride-Elect.

Mrs. James R. Gilmore gave a luncheon yesterday in honor of Miss Jeannette M. Palmer of this city. The guests, besides the honor guest, included Mrs. Harry Hays, Mrs. Edward Gray, Mrs. James W. Arrott, Jr., Mrs. Frank R. Stoner, Mrs. Alfred B. Harlow, Mrs. Robert J. Cunningham, Mrs. William Evans and Mrs. John Dickson. Joseph C. McDonald gave a theater party at the Nixon last evening for Miss Palmer and her fiancee, Sanford Bell Evans.

Goehring-Goehring Wedding Rehearsal.

The rehearsal for the wedding of Miss Henrietta Goehring and J. H. Goehring took place last evening at the Hotel Schenley, and the rehearsal dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Goehring, parents of the bride-elect. The centerpiece was an effective arrangement of pink roses, and as favors there were the bride's gifts of little pins to her attendants and pieces of jewelry from Mr. Goehring to his best man and ushers.

Club Members Entertained.

Mr and Mrs. Hiram Harris entertained at cards last evening, the affair being the second and last in a series. Six tables of six-hand euchre were in play, the guests including the members of the Iroodequoit club. The decorations were carried out just the same as for the entertainment on Thursday evening, lilies being used in the parlor and daisies in the dining-room.

Pittsburghers Going East.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Carey have given up their apartments in the Buckingham, Craft avenue, and will leave for Atlantic City next Friday. After a short visit at the seashore city they will go to New York to make their home. Mrs. Carey has been prominent in club circles of the city, having taken an active interest in the Sorosis club and in the Soho public baths work.

Wedding Invitations Recalled.

Owing to the serious illness of the bride-elect, Mrs. Lide Packer Blair of Castleman street has recalled the invitations for the wedding of her niece, Miss Mabel Packer, and William L. Davis. The wedding was to take place next Tuesday evening at Mrs. Blair's home.

Notes of Society.

Mrs. S. H. Klein and her daughter, Miss Elsie Klein, of Cleveland, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Frank of Beech avenue, Allegheny. Miss Klein is a Smith college girl.

The Young People's clubs of the Point Breeze Presbyterian church gave a musical and literary entertainment in the church last evening under the patronage of a number of women in the congregation.

A "Mother Goose" social was held last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Diehl, Sewickley, by the social committee of the Epworth league of the Sewickley Methodist Episcopal church. Mrs. Arthur C. Thacher had charge.

Among the Clubs

THE Wilson College club will give its annual luncheon today at the Hotel Schenley at 1 o'clock. A business session will precede the social function and at 12:30 promptly the election of officers for the ensuing year will be held. Covers today will be laid for 60. Dr. Ella B. Everitt, head physician of the Woman's hospital in Philadelphia, will respond to the toast, "Progress and Pluck." Dr. M. R. Reaser, president of Wilson college, will speak on "The College," and Miss Ruth Johnson of Oakmont will have a toast, "The Wilson Girl in Athletics." Miss Lorena Ehrenseldt will speak on "The College Girl in Club Work." Two college songs will be sung and an orchestra will play during the luncheon.

"Brownies in Fairy Land."

It was S. R. O. night again at the Sharpsburg Y. M. C. A. auditorium last evening when the second performance of the spectacular cantata, "Brownies in Fairyland," was given by 300 young people of Sharpsburg, under the auspices of the Ladies' auxiliary o fthe Sharpsburg and Etna Y. M. C. A. The large chorus sang well. The first act presented a spectacle of "Fairyland," introducing drills of the Brownie band, costumed as Palmer Cox's Brownies; flower girls and Mother Goose celebrities. Miss Helen Blumenthal as Aesthetica was the star performer. Her "Sly Musette" song was particularly good. Howard Walter made a hit as the dude Brownie and shared honors with Miss Blumenthal in the duet, "We're Different." Marie Saint was queen of the fairies, and Alma Keil sang well as "Roseleaf." Twenty-five girls did a fan drill, which was followed by a drill of San Wango sprites. The performance was given under the management of the following committee: Mrs. H. J. Riddle, chairman; Miss Emma Kelly, Mrs. W. E. Gigham, Mrs. W. E. Koch, Mrs. R. R. Moore, Mrs. J. C. McNabb, Miss Blanche Wakefield, Miss Carrie Dunlap, Miss Gertrude Wahl, Miss Margaret Holshouse and Miss Myrtilla Kelly.

Important Meeting Scheduled.

A permanent board of managers for the Soho bath committee, as provided by ordinance, is now in process of organization, and will be elected on next Wednesday by boards of districts of the Civic club of Allegheny county and the permanent civic committee of women's club. At the regular Soho bath committee meeting yesterday in the Civic rooms on Penn avenue a report was made on the money thus far received. No action was taken on the settlement work, as the committee is waiting to hear from the Carnegie library authorities concerning the installment of a branch there. Mrs. George Porter was elected chairman of the settlement committee in place of Mrs. J. C. Dick, who was obliged to resign owing to illness in her family.

Subject Was "Old Kentucky."

Mrs. Hugh Pendleton Allen, chairman of the advisory board, who is to take Mrs. Henry Jones Ford's place at the Woman's Southern society for the remainder of the year, presided at the regular meeting yesterday in the Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music. The leader was Mrs. Warren LaRue Thomas, who announced the subject of "Old Kentucky." Mrs. Burcham Harding read a paper, "Girlhood in Old Kentucky." Mrs. McFarland gave reminiscences of the state, and the leader gave a short sketch of the principal towns in that commonwealth. Mrs. Lender spoke on "Daniel Boone." The musical part of the program included songs by Miss Barbour and the Misses Wilkins.

D. A. R. Meet.

The Daughters of the Revolution meeting yesterday at the Twentieth Century club was one of the most interesting sessions of the year. The society decided to change the date of the annual chapter meeting to the third Friday in June. Flag day was discussed, and Miss Harding read a paper on "Fort Massac." Miss Kennard read a paper on "Allegheny," giving the history, apropos of its passing.

Will Hold Easter Sale.

The Woman's guild of St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal church will hold an Eastern sale in the parish house, Fifth avenue and Rebecca street, during the afternoon and evening of April 13.

Officers Will Be Nominated.

Officers will be nominated at the meeting of Wimodausis, which will be held next Tuesday at 11 o'clock in Syria temple. The election will occur one month later. The club will give a card party on April 26.

Club Notes.

Miss Cara Reese gave a talk last evening at the Ralston school on "Charing News." She gave a concise statement of the way a paper is prepared and issued, explaining the work of each person from the managing editor to the printer's devil.

The ladies of the Suburban Hospital club will hold their regular monthly meeting next Wednesday afternoon, April 12, in the Borough hall, Avalon.

The Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Joseph's church, Bloomfield, will hold its second annual euchre and dance at St. Joseph's hall, Liberty avenue and Pearl street, Wednesday evening, April 26, for the benefit of the church. Prizes have been provided for euchre players. The bowling alleys of the Young Men's Casino club will be open to all desiring to compete for bowling prizes.

There will be a meeting of the Woman's Press club on Monday at 2:30 o'clock at the Hotel Lincoln.

TO RE-DEDICATE BETHANY CHURCH

Special Services Are Announced for Many Pulpits in Two Cities Tomorrow.

REVIVAL MEETINGS TO BEGIN

Bethany Lutheran church, North Highland avenue, near Station street, the Rev. John Weidley, D.D., pastor, will be re-dedicated tomorrow with special services morning and evening. On Monday evening a mass meeting will be held in the church as the concluding service of dedication. The church has undergone extensive repairs and renovations during the past three months. An addition has been added, the interior changed, new pews placed and the entire auditorium enlarged. The Rev. Dr. Charles S. Albert of Philadelphia, editor of the Lutheran Publication society, will preach morning and afternoon tomorrow.

Revival and evangelistic services of two weeks' duration will be commenced in churches of all denominations in the two cities tomorrow evening. The usual Lenten custom finds greater encouragement this year in the successes achieved in Wales and in many sections of this country recently.

Mendelssohn's "Hear My Prayer" and Gounod's "My Babylon's Streams" will be the special musical offerings in Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, Sixth avenue, tomorrow evening.

The Rev. Raymond S. Rees, son of the Rev. Dr. W. H. W. Rees, pastor of the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church, will speak in his father's pulpit tomorrow evening.

Church officers will be installed and a special sermon preached to the Brotherhood of St. Paul in the Pacific Avenue Methodist Episcopal church tomorrow evening. The pastor, the Rev. Earl C. Lindsey, will preside.

The Rev. George W. Taft, pastor of the Homewood Baptist church, who has spent eight years in Japan, will preach tomorrow evening on "The Women of Japan."

Theodore DuBois' sacred cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," will be sung tomorrow afternoon in St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal church, Sixth avenue. An offering will be taken and donated to the Saturday and Sunday Hospital association.

The Rev. W. E. Faber of Lockport, N. Y., will deliver a series of 20-minute services at noon hour next week in St. Andrew's church, Sixth avenue, under the auspices of the Brotherhood of St Andrew, under the general topic of "Chapters from the Spiritual Life."

"The Gospel in Africa" will be the subject of a lecture to be illustrated with stereopticon views, which will be delivered in the Fourth Avenue Baptist church tomorrow evening by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Warren C. Partridge.

The Rev. Dr. Daniel B. Martin of Newark, N. J., president of the Prehyterian Ministers' association of New York city will address the Pittsburgh Ministerial union in the Central Y. M. C. A. building Monday morning.

A union missionary rally of Congregational Methodist Protestant and United Brethren churches will be held next Tuesday morning, afternoon and evening in the Second Methodist Protestant church, Penn avenue and Marion street. Addresses will be made by prominent divines of these denominations and exercises bearing on missionary effort will be given.

A supper will be tendered members of the Pennsylvania railroad department of the Y. M. C. A. at their building in Forty-third street Tuesday evening when James Orr, general freight agent of the Northwest system, and H. O. Williams of New York, will make addresses. Special music will also be provided.

The corner stone of the Methodist Protestant church, now under course of erection in Rankin, will be laid on Sunday, May 7. The church will cost $25,000 and will be one of the finest in the borough.

DRY COLD STORAGE.

The Scientific Method of Fur Storage.

This method does away entirely with the ruinous beating that furs are usually subjected to when being guarded against moths.

The large vault on the twelfth floor of McCreery and Company's new store (where fur storage is reduced to a very exact science) is a perfectly clean room 21x45 feet and 21 feet high. Walls are two feet thick and are made of three partitions of tile with air spaces between, over which is a heavy layer of rubber composition. This is again overlaid by wooden strips (to form air spaces), layers of tar paper and compressed cork, which is again covered by wire laths and plastered with cement.

Exterior air is introduced, filtered, washed and blown over coils of brine pipes, cooled to the requisite degree of temperature. All impure air passes through the exhaust pipes; 15 degrees above zero is the degree maintained.

Garments are thoroughly cleaned, combed and beaten before entering the vault, and each hung upon a shoulder provided with a separate cover, thus preventing crushing and assuring absolute cleanliness.

The cold air preserves the softness of the fur, revives its luster, is the only sure safeguard against moths, and the only scientific method of garment storage. Charges: Five per cent of the customer's valuation upon articles.

Farms.

FOR SALE—CHEAP.

Come and see, examine and be convinced.

One farm containing 180 acres, 100 acres of which is clear, dry bottom land, free from stone, will make excellent meadow; located in the valley of Laurel Hill creek, on R. R.; 87 miles east of Pittsburgh, and underlaid with Somerset county smokeless coal, and adjoins the property of the Usina Coal Mining Co.

Also 175 acres of excellent grazing land, well watered, located high and well suited for a summer resort; has enough timber on it to more than pay for it.

Also another tract of land, containing 37 acres, adjoining it; has on it four never-failing springs; one mile from R. R. station.

Also a tract of land of 200 acres, on main line of B. & O. R. R.; Laurel Hill creek passes through it, on which are a number of excellent manufacturing locations, such as steel plants and rolling mills; this tract is strictly level and the abundance of pure water on it makes it one of the most desirable locations for manufacturing in the state; it is also elegant farming land.

Will sell in 10-acre lots for gardening if desired, or will donate sufficient amount of land for steel plant.

NEWS OF THE NEARBY TOWNS AND COUNTRY

BABE AMONG INJURIED DURING CHURCH ROW

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 7.—Twenty women raided the parochial residence of Father Ladislaus Kuzius, pastor of the St. Stanislaus church (Polish) this morning while he was absent officiating at another church, took his keys and assaulted his sister, Mrs. Francisco Brzozowski of Chicago, who is visiting her brother. She carried in her arms a year-old child and it suffered with her. The result was a warrant issued for Mrs. Zweirzynski alleged to have been one of the mob. The raid was the result of a fight in the church. Father Kuzius came here two years ago and founded the church.

Recently Bishop Horstmann of the diocese ordered him to return to Cleveland. He refused and was expelled. Then he appealed his case to the apostolic delegate at Washington, D. C. The case is being considered there.

The keys to the church, including the private keys of Father Kuzius, were turned over to Father Wilk, whom Bishop Horstmann had sent here to relieve the former, and whom the old priest refused to recognize. Later, on advice of his attorneys and one of the Catholic priests here, Father Kuzius changed the locks on the doors of the church and the parsonage and still holds the fort.

Capital is $25,000,000.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., April 7.—(Special.)—A $25,000,000 charter was taken out here today by Pennsylvania capitalists, composing the Nicholas Coal Company of Bluefield, W. Va., operating coal mines in Raleigh, McDowell and Wyoming counties, this state. The incorporators are: Charles P. Kindred, Andrew J. Reilley, James B. Anderson, Thomas Bruce and Joseph F. Hickey, Jr., all of Philadelphia.

Plant Destroyed by Incendiaries.

MONESSEN, April 7.—(Special.)—The plant of the Langeland Manufacturing Company was burned this morning, entailing a loss of nearly $10,000. Incendiaries are suspected. Boxes for the use of the National tin plate mill here and the Demmler tin plate mill at McKeesport were made by the company. Besides the building and its equipment 35,000 tin plate boxes were burned. About 50 men and boys are thrown out of work.

Asleep and Cannot Be Awakened.

WILKESBARRE, April 7.—(Special.)—James Campbell of Carbondale has been found asleep for five days and all efforts to awaken him have been futile. He fell asleep on Sunday night, after complaining that he was ill. He apparently suffers no pain and is not losing weight.

WILLARD AS THE OPTIMIST MAKES FINE IMPRESSION

In the Alfred Capus play, which Mr. Willard presented two years ago in America under the title of "The Optimist," we have the gifted actor in atmosphere entirely different from that which surrounds his usual repertoire roles. Louis N. Parker made the English version of the French play, and this season it is being presented under a new name, "The Brighter Side," and there have also been some changes in the text, notably in the last act, which has been shortened. The play presents a series of incidents rather than a dramatic plot or motive. These incidents concern, principally, a high-minded French gentleman, who meets and loves a young married woman who is on the eve of securing a divorce from her husband because of wrongs and outrages which have made that course inevitable. In bringing this unusual situation to a happy finish four acts are consumed, and the achievement is a rather remarkable one, for the reason that the final scene sees the husband going away to consummate the divorce proceedings, not only as an act of reparation to the wronged wife, but as an inspiration from the lover, whom he thanks for bringing him to a due sense of his duty. Of course, this situation is absolutely impossible to the average American mind, but so finely does Mr. Willard enact the central role, with such dignity of character and sincerity of purpose, that the audience enjoys the performance as one of the best and brightest of modern things that this actor has given us. In the hands of any other actor Andre Jossan, the optimist, might be made almost ridiculous, and Mr. Capus' play an absurd and talky bundle of social and moral heresies, but Mr. Willard lends the dignity, grace and finesse of his delightful art to the character and it is at once lifted into reasonableness and made positively enjoyable. It is a pleasure to listen to long speeches that are mostly ethical homilies when the consummate vocal and mimetic art of Mr. Willard gives them brilliant setting.

In his support last night, also, the actor was unusually fortunate. Miss Lonnon as the young wife did quite the best work of her stay at the Nixon. The impersonation was womanly, sincere and natural, full of sympathy and displayed with great charm and grace of manner, to which some very beautiful gowns, beautifully worn, added no little in perfecting the picture. Mr. Cliffe as the offending husband also gave a fine performance, marked by intelligence and skill. Miss Gladys Granger is an exceedingly clever and pretty young woman, and played Lucienne with girlish sweetness and reserve. Mr. Barfoot, Mr. Crauford, Mr. Cane, Miss Repton and Miss Dubois completed a cast that gave excellent support. The setting in the third act was one of the handsomest seen on the Nixon stage this season, and in artistic lights and shadows did for a river vista what John Drew's famous view of the Scottish moors did for the mountains.

MINISTER ASPIRES TO BE LEGISLATOR

THE REV. DR. S. R. FRAZIER.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 7.—(Special.)—One of the most sensational developments in the Republican pre-election campaign is the announcement that the Rev. Dr. S. R. Frazier, pastor of the Tabernacle United Presbyterian church, would be a candidate for the nomination for state representative. It was thought that the candidates for the legislature were all out, but at the same time that his candidacy was announced the withdrawal of North Newton was also announced. The fight is a peculiar one. The saloonists and liquor interests of the city will support Dr. Frazier, the preacher candidate. He was put up by the Fitch faction against the Anderson faction, which is supporting Randall Anderson, nephew of D. F. Anderson, the leader of the faction for the place.

CHARGES ATTEMPT MADE TO INFLUENCE COMMITTEE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WAYNESBURG, April 7.—A meeting of the Democratic committee of Greene county was held today to change the rules governing primary elections. The party is divided into two factions, which are respectively supporting ex-Judge James Ingram and Judge R. L. Crawford for the Greene county bench.

With each faction are arrayed aspiring candidates for six other county offices. Several fights among prominent members of the party were barely prevented and threats of shooting were made. Corruption is openly charged. State Senator B. N. Freeland declared in a speech before the meeting that an undue attempt had been made to influence the committee to vote for a change of the party rules.

Attorney M. T. Carroll was the leader in support of the change of rules which carried by a vote of 32 to 21. The Democratic primary will be held May 27.

Paying Freak Election Bet.

FAIRMONT, W. VA., April 7.—(Special.)—Col. S. A. Posten of Morgantown will be at home to his friends for the next two months, while he pays a bet on the municipal election. He agreed that if his candidate was not elected he would remain in the house for two months. He is wealthy and interested in many enterprises.

Quits W. and J. Prep. Department.

INNOCENT MAN KILLED IN ROW OF FAMILIES

J. R. Clifford, a Negro Lawyer and Editor, and Son of Martinsburg, W. Va., in Jail.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MARTINSBURG, W. VA., April 7.—A dispute between two families over children led to a battle last night in which Jacob Turner was killed and John and Harry Cook were seriously wounded.

J. R. Clifford, a well-known negro lawyer and editor of the Pioneer Press, a nergo organ, and his son Paul, are in jail charged with murder. There was a quarrel yesterday afternoon between the Clifford children and the Cook family. Mrs. Cook declared that Paul Clifford had called her a vile name. To retaliate, John and Harry Cook are said to have attacked the Clifford boy. The parents were drawn into the fight which followed. Paul Clifford drew a revolver and fired three times, each shot taking effect, it is said by some of the witnesses. J. R. Clifford, father of the boy, is said to have arrived while the battle was in progress and to have fired three times with a rifle.

Whether J. R. Clifford or his son killed Turner, who was an innocent spectator, has not yet been determined. The coroner's jury held both father and son.

Widow Does Not Mourn Long.

CUMBERLAND, MD., April 7.—(Special.)—On Thursday of last week J. C. Rexrond committed suicide at Gladys, near Elkins, W. Va., leaving a widow who had formerly been Mrs. Groggs. Tuesday evening Mrs. Rexroad and M. C. Squires of Randolph county were married at Elkins. The notice of her husband's suicide and of her third marriage appeared together in the county weekly papers.

Cigarette and Tobacco Habits

CURED FREE IN ONE DAY.

Each of the undersigned, for himself, freely and voluntarily certifies as follows.

I hereby certify that I was completely and permanently cured of the tobacco habit by a free sample package of Tobacco-Specific, more than a year ago. I have positively disliked tobacco ever since I took the sample, have not used any in any form, and my health has been better than it was before. I state these facts freely and voluntarily, hoping other victims of the tobacco habit will profit by my experience.

These people and hundreds of others in all parts of the country have been cured of the tobacco habit by free sample packages of Tobacco-Specific. It is a harmless, practically tasteless remedy that can be given in food or drink and will cure all forms of tobacco, cigarette or snuff habit without the knowledge of the patient. Taken by the patient himself the remedy is just as certain to cure.

Tobacco-Specific will cure any case of tobacco habit. Even the free sample package may be sufficient to cure you or your friend, no matter how long tobacco has been used. People are being cured by the free sample packages all the time. Try it. It cannot do any harm, but will surely do good, even if not sufficient to make a complete cure, and it will cost you nothing.

The Rogers Drug & Chemical Co., 5203 Fifth and Race sts., Cincinnati, Ohio, will send you, by mail, pre-paid, in plain wrapper, a sample package of Tobacco-Specific exactly like those that cured the people named above, absolutely free. Write for it now. Do not wait.

JUDGE THE POPE-TOLEDO BY ITS RECORD.

Any Pope-Toledo Car Sold by Any Dealer Will Run at a Mile-a-Minute Clip.

PLEASE read the headline again. Note the emphasis we place upon the word "any POPE-TOLEDO Car sold by any dealer." That's the point for you to take into consideration—the performances of any POPE-TOLEDO Stock Car—not the performance of the POPE-TOLEDO Racer, or any other racer. POPE-TOLEDO Racers have won triumph after triumph. POPE-TOLEDO Cars will represent America in the world's great Gordon-Bennett Cup Race. But that is not specially important to you. What you want to know is "Will I get the same sort of a car when I go to my dealer to buy a POPE-TOLEDO that has won every notable speed, hill-climbing and endurance contest that has occurred in the past two years?"

The answer, the plain and emphatic—"You Will." You will get identically the same car that won at Boston, Minneapolis, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, Dayton, Buffalo, Cleveland, Delmonte, St. Louis, Detroit, Denver, Milwaukee, Albany, Yonkers, Chicago, Philadelphia, Garden City (H. H. Lytle, in regular stock-model POPE-TOLEDO, defeated everything in Vanderbilt Cup Race, excepting only 90 h.-p. Panhard and 80 h.-p Clement-Bayard, making 300 miles at an average speed of 56 miles per hour), Rockford, Ills.; Omaha, Nashville, Tenn.; Peoria, Grand Rapids, Los Angeles. 100-mile world's track record in Texas on January 3d, everything in its class and in the class cars costing $4,000 to $6,000 at Ormond-Daytona in February. A significant fact about all these races is that the time has not varied over 2 seconds to the mile.

YANIGANS ARE BEATEN---THE REGULARS DID NOT PLAY

POOR PLAYING BEATS YANIGANS

Game Should Have Been a Shutout, but Costly Errors Give Paducah Three Runs.

TOO COLD FOR THE REGULARS

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

PADUCAH, KY., April 7.—The Pirate Yanigans made a clear present of three runs in the first inning this afternoon and gave Paducah a game which should have been a shutout. It was a badly patched-up team, with pitchers playing the outfield and first sack. Mike Lynch, who had boasted that he would show up Sam Leever as a first baseman if permitted to play that position, gave a performance which was almost as bad as Sam's last attempt in Hot Springs.

The only hit which Robertaille allowed during the five innings he officiated on the slab was in the first inning, and it was a scratch. Two of the three hits off Holmes were also of the scratch order. McBride played the extremes good and bad, one at the bat, the other in the field.

McLain, the first man to face Robertaille, was an easy victim at first on a grounder to Holmes. Gillegan was passed. Lanahan slung a straight one and drove it to McBride, who allowed it to get through his legs. Goodwin was ostensibly backing up "Mac," but he also permitted the ball to go through to the fence and both runners scored. Potts then gave McBride another chance and he overthrew first base, Potts moving up to second. Vanheuhorst sent a fly to left field, which would have been an easy out to Clarke, but Holmes misjudged it and allowed it to go safe for two bases, Potts scoring the third run. After that Robertaille had the Paducahs completely at his mercy. He struck out four men in two innings. Taylor made a clean single off Holmes in the sixth, but the two singles in the ninth were scratches.

Howard scored the first Yanigan run in the first inning on a pass, McBride's single and Peitz's bunt. Wagner singled in the second, advanced on a wild pitch and scored on Howard's long drive for three bases. Howard was left on third, McBride being called out on strikes and Peitz popping an easy one in front of the plate.

President Dreyfuss stated today that he has abandoned plans for an automobile opening for the season in Pittsburgh. There will be a parade, however, with brass band accompaniment, and a band concert at Exposition park. Score today:

REGULARS DID NOT PLAY.

Too Cold for a Game at Indianapolis, But Manager Clarke Gave Players Practice.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 7.—(Special.)—With the thermometer registering 40 degrees above zero this afternoon it was decided to call off the first game of the exhibition series between Indianapolis and Pittsburgh. During the forenoon it was only a few degrees above the freezing point, but Manager Clarke would not call off the game until the middle of the afternoon, as he wanted to give his Pirates the benefit of the practice if the weather should warm up enough to permit it.

The Pirates were in uniform and for an hour they were put through some hard practice in fielding and batting. It was enough to limber their joints and before they had a chance to get cold or sore Clarke hustled them into a bus and hurried to the hotel. In the practice there were those who declared they could see in Wagner's work the effects of an ordeal through which he passed this morning.

The mighty Hans had tried to seek seclusion in his room, but it was of no use. Indianapolis fans insisted upon seeing the big fellow. They came to the hotels in twos and threes. The light of Carnegie pleaded need of rest when the first few cards announcing visitors were brought to his room, but when the pasteboards began to assume the height of a rose vase he capitulated with a despairing sigh and ambled down to the office, where he was obliged to stand and receive, doing the pump handle with his strong right arm. If a male resident of Indianapolis didn't get in on the Wagnerian reception it was because he couldn't leave a poker game or didn't catch a car for the hotel in time.

A game will be played tomorrow unless it rains or snows, even though the weather should be as cold as it was today.

CLARKE'S NEW FIND.

Thinks Hillebrand Will Make a Great Pitcher—Harry Smith's Arm Still Sore.

A letter received yesterday from President Dreyfuss confirms the report that Manager Fred Clarke believes he has discovered a great lefthanded pitcher in Homer Hillebrant. President Dreyfuss writes that the discovery was made by Sam Leever while the Yanigans were at Pine Bluff and Little Rock. Leever made a report to Clarke, who watched Hillebrand practice and afterwards expressed the opinion that it has been some time since he has seen more speed or a better curve ball. Hillebrand is now practicing to get control and will be rushed to a game as soon as he can be spared from behind the bat. President Dreyfuss seems quite enthusiastic about the Princeton boy. He says that Homer is certainly a find.

A letter was also received yesterday from Harry Smith. The catcher says that his arm has been troubling him a little, but that he hopes the pain will leave when the weather becomes warmer. Massilon had a great football team last fall and is counting upon winning games on the diamond with the baseball club that is being organized. Smith intends to practice with the Massilon boys until he is ready to report to Pittsburg.

Several parties are being made up here to go to Cincinnati to see the opening game of the championship season between the Pittsburgh and the Cincinnati team next Friday. The first delegation will leave Sunday night and will go to Louisville, but the others will not leave until next Thursday night. The Cincinnati series will not close until Monday, April 17, but most of the Pittsburghers have arranged to start home Sunday evening, April 16.

HUSTING HAS CLOSE CALL.

Former Pittsburgh Pitcher Has Narrow Escape from Drowning.

Word comes from Lond Du Lac, Wis., that Pete Husting, formerly a pitcher for the Pittsburgh club, had a narrow escape from drowning. A special from Fond Du Lac says:

"Attorney B. A. Husting of this city and his brother, District Attorney Peter Husting, the well-known ex-baseball pitcher, while transferring their boats on the Horicon Marsh today were caught in a terrible storm and narrowly escaped death. Unable to bail out his skiff B. A. Husting's boat soon filled and sank in four feet of water. He shouted for help and it was heard by his brother, but it was almost two hours before the latter could get to his assistance. Peter then paddled while the other brother tried to keep the boat from filling with water. The storm increased in fury and the second boat sank. The two waited for six hours before reaching shore."

Arona Nine Again in Line.

GREENSBURG, PA., April 7.—(Special.)—The famous Arona nine has organized under the name of the H. F. Bovards. The line-up will include all of the old stars of the miner's nine. James Painter, the old Greensburg star, will captain the team and play middle field. The others signed are: Martin and Thomas O'Neill and Tobe Miller, pitchers; Adams, catcher; Thomas, first; Carr, second; Burus, short; Boldin, third; Kelly, left; Stelner, right. Games are wanted with Homestead, Braddock, Turtle Creek, Wilmerding, Greensburg and Latrobe.

Big Wrestlers Sure to Meet.

NEW YORK, April 7.—(Special.)—George S. Hackenschmidt, the "Russian Lion," and Tom Jenkins are sure to meet in a catch-as-catch-can wrestling bout. Hackenschmidt's manager, who was opposed to the contest, has come around and is now going to see that it goes through. He is to meet Jenkins and his manager at 1 o'clock tomorrow to sign articles.

BRUNSWICK'S BOWLING BEST OF THE SEASON

Another Thousand Score Was Chalked Up Against Birmingham—Houlahan in Great Form.

What was probably the best bowling display of the season was put up last night by the Brunswick team in its city league contest against Birmingham on the South Side alleys. Capt. Lee's men were all in their best form, as was shown in the second game, when a total of 1,021 was chalked up amidst hearty cheers. Houlahan of Brunswick showed the best form, having the high score and high average. All three games were won by Brunswick. The scores:

Brunswick—
Hartman	204	213	162
Houlahan	202	189	225
Diensebier	181	205	196
Lee	195	203	178

Kilroe, Columbia, after 12 minutes. Final bout—Draw between E. Yale, Yale, and J. Dickson, Princeton, after 18 minutes.

A week's hard practice is over and baseball matters are beginning to assume a definite form at Allegheny High school. The squad that has been selected so far by Prof. Fincke includes 15 men. The men are Billinger, Weger, Shaner, Grier, McClure, Thompson, Mason, Schlee, Hamilton, Gray, Hector, Ricley, Mackown, Schaffner and Vincent. It is from these players that the team will likely be picked. The athletic entertainment will be held next Friday evening in the new chapel. The next morning the team leaves at 6:59 o'clock for Washington to open the season with Washington High school, and then in the afternoon to play Trinity Hall.

Weather permitting today, there will be a baseball game on Pine Bluff, the Pittsburgh College playing its first scheduled game with the Wilkinsburg Independents.

Salisbury, an infielder, has rejoined the baseball squad at Shadyside academy. Capt. Upgraff will try him at second and short. The Shadyside team has had but one regular practice this week, due to the unfit condition of the field, and as a consequence the game with the Oakland A. C., which would have been a practice affair, was yesterday called off.

Frederick B. Alexander, the former Princeton champion tennis player, is home from a successful season abroad. He beat Reginald F. Doherty in the tournament at Nice.

Shortstop Frank Johnson has passed all his work in the university, and is now eligible for the nine at U. of P. O. T. Lawson, the big Penn football player, is trying for the weights on the track team.

The candidates for the Pittsburgh High school nine will report to Capt. Dave Johns this afternoon at Friendship park for practice.

Fred Moloney has resigned as coach of the track team at the University of Chicago. Moloney who once was hurdler, is a medical student and can not give up any time to outside work. Coach Stagg, who is now at Hot Springs, will direct the work of the team by letter until he returns April 21.

Jimmy Callahan, of the Chicago American league club, played first for Chicago university in a practice game against the Wendell Phillips prep. school the other day, and the first time at bat he was struck out by Groves, the Prep. pitcher.

FINE HORSES BOUGHT AT THE THUBRON SALE

In the big two-days' sale of W. J. Thubron, Allegheny, 75 head of horses were disposed of at auction yesterday. Fully 2,500 people were present, and some of the offerings brought top prices. Mickie Free, the great high school saddle horse, went to J. A. Giesenkamp for $2,000; pair of sorrel and grade colts were knocked down to John P. Walton for $1,000; the chestnut colt Candy was bought by W. Henderson for $825; a bay colt went to W. J. Smith for $675; pair of black horses to Jilts & Bennett for $685; Major McKinney, the fast pacer, to William Smith of East Liverpool, O., and the pair Susie and Happy Jack to Bert Moore of Greensburg for $975.

Annapolis Gets Trophy.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., April 7.—(Special.)—The midshipmen fencing team has received the trophy won at the intercollegiate fencing tournament in New York, a handsome bronze statue representing a Catlovingian swordsman. The statue has been in possession of West Point for the last three seasons. Of the 12 tournaments Harvard won six, West Point three, Annapolis two and Columbia one.

Terry McGovern a Nervous Wreck.

ST. PAUL, MINN., April 7.—Terry McGovern, formerly feather weight champion pugilist of the world, who is now playing a theatrical engagement here, is said to be on the verge of a nervous breakdown as a result of overwork. McGovern will go south to recuperate.

THREE FAVORITES ARE IN FRONT AT BENNINGS

Races Are Run on a Heavy Track and Time Made Is Slow—Big Crowd Present.

BENNINGS, D. C., April 7.—Three of the seven races today went to the favorites, the other four being captured respectively by two second choices and two outsiders. The crowd was large and the speculation heavier than usual. The track was lumpy and a bit heavy, but the going was firm. Gold Van, an outsider, won the steeplechase handily. Black Death, the favorite, running second. The races were fattening and no remarkable time was made. Summary:

First race, 6½ furlongs, Columbia course, for three-year-olds and upward—Sals, 113, T. Burns, 2½ to 1, 1 to 2 and out, won; Amberjack, 94, Baird, 4 to 1, 4 to 5 and out, second; Arabo, 116, Fuller, 6 to 5, 1 to 3 and out, third. Time, 1:23 4-5.

Second race, ½ mile, Old course, for maiden fillies and geldings, 2 years old—Nagasmn, 104, T. Burns, 2½ to 1, 7 to 5 and 7 to 10, won; Ambitious, 104, Baird, 11 to 5, 4 to 5 and 1 to 2, second; Evelyn J., 104, Smithson, 20 to 1, 8 to 1 and 4 to 1, third. Time, :59 2-5.

Third race, 4½ furlongs, Old course, for maiden colts, 2 years old—Old Guard, 107, Baird, 3 to 5 and out, won; Legerdemain, 107, Scholl, 7 to 1, 3 to 5 and 3 to 5, second; Ballo, 107, Fuller, 7 to 1, 3 to 5 and out, third. Time, :58.

Fourth race, 7 furlongs, Columbia course, for 4-year-olds and upward—Cascine, 100, Romanelli, 8 to 1, 2½ to 1 and 7 to 5, won; Weirdsome, 97, Baird, 11 to 5, even and 1 to 2, second; Peter Paul, 97, Hoffman, 2½ to 1, even and 1 to 2, third. Time, 1:30 4-5.

Fifth race, steeplechase, about 2 miles, for 4-year-olds and upward, selling—Gold Van, 144, Holman, 6 to 1, 2 to 1 and out, won; Black Death, 151, Finnigan, 6 to 5 and out, second; Arius, 151, Rodrick, 11 to 5, 7 to 10 and out, third. Time, 4.21 2-5.

Sixth race, 7 furlongs, Columbia course, for 3-year-olds and upward—Little Woods, 102, Baird, 11 to 10, 1 to 2 and out, won; Fairbury, 115, W. McDermott, 15 to 1, 3 to 1 and 2½ to 1, second; Julia, 96, Kunck, 30 to 1, 10 to 1 and 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:27.

Seventh race, 1 mile and 100 yards, Old course, handicap, for 3-year-olds and upward—Trapper, 108, Fuller, 11 to 5, 4 to 5 and out, won; Bill Curtis, 104, T. Burns, 3 to 1, 6 to 5 and 3 to 5, second; James F., 113, Miles, 10 to 1, 4 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:52 4-5.

BROOKLYN CLUB PROTESTS.

Will Not Stand for Highlanders Playing at Ridgewood.

NEW YORK, April 7.—(Special.)—The first scrap of the baseball season is on between the local clubs of the big leagues. The Brooklyn baseball club has taken steps to prevent the Highlanders playing their scheduled game at Ridgewood park, L. I., Sunday. The Brooklyn club in its protest to the national commissioner, says the playing of the game would be a violation of the territorial agreement.

This protest coming at the ninth hour is regarded by the American league club as unfair, unsportsmanlike and spiteful. The Highlanders played at Ridgewood last spring and last fall, and no objection was offered by the Brooklyn club. It is not know just yet whether or not the Highlanders will play the game which has been arranged at considerable expense for advertising, etc. Owner Frank Farrell is out of town, so no decision in the matter could be announced today.

MATCHES FOR M'CLELLAND.

Local Fighter Is to Meet Kid Broad and Al Martin.

Jack McClelland started to train yesterday at the Business Men's club for a bout with Kid Broad on April 24 or 25. Broad wired Manager Mason that he would accept the terms offered to meet McClelland. There are three clubs after the match.

In addition to the above match Manager Mason closed a six-round bout for McClelland to take place at Monongahela City on Monday night, April 17, his opponent will be Al Martin. In addition to the above bout there will be other bouts between Paul Moore and Butch Zimber, Joe Alton and Kid Williams, and Young Ziringer and Tad Griffiths.

WHAT THE INDEPENDENT PLAYERS ARE DOING

Matt Broderick, the Tri-State third baseman, may join the Brooklyns.

A. J. Rossenbach of Buffalo has been signed to play the outfield for Lancaster.

Jack Davis, the local pitcher, yesterday received an offer from the Olean (N. Y.) team.

York claims to have signed Chic Cargo, the Pittsburgh boy, who is now with Albany and will play third, unless "Red" Owens is secured from Brooklyns.

George Young, secretary of the Cumberland (Md.) team, was in Pittsburgh yesterday. "The fans in Cumberland look for a successful season. We shall have a winning team, and the patrons will see first-class ball," declared Young.

Walter Sasse, of Smethport, Pa., who played the outfield last year for the Warren (O.) team, was in Pittsburgh yesterday en route to Bloomington, Ill., to join that club of the T. I. I. league. Sasse was one of the heaviest hitters on the Warren team, and one of the most gentlemanly players on the circuit.

Sasse gave Cincinnati but two hits in a five-inning game at Atlanta, and while his team hit safely seven times, his game was lost, 2 to 1. The Reds worked the sacrifice game and won. Walker pitched for the big leaguers.

Frank Killen, manager of the Sharon team, yesterday announced signing Charles Sellers, last year third baseman on the McKeesport team; Al Adams of Vandergrift, an infielder; Fitzgerald of Albany, N. Y., a catcher, and Lynch, an infielder of the Niagara university. Lynch is captain of Niagara and he will report at Sharon June 1. The Sharon players will report April 25.

Meaves, Ashcraft and Raymond, officials of the Fairmont (W. Va.) team, have closed a deal with C. D. Cassel of Mansfield, O., now a resident of Freeport, to manage their team this year. Cassel has signed Duff, the Freeport third baseman, who has been in minor leagues; Jack Sneddon, shortstop on the Grove City college nine; Sheridan of Freeport, once a catcher at St. Vincent's college; Greenwald, a former Homestead catcher; William Goehring, a pitcher from Bridgeville; Wicklin, a local pitcher; Reed, a Freeport youngster, who pitches and plays the outfield; Gilliards, a pitcher from Coshocton, O.; Heinrick, a pitcher from Cleveland, who was in the Trolley league last year, and Wyss, an outfielder, also of Cleveland.

STOCKS RULED IRREGULAR, BUT CLOSED FAIRLY FIRM

U. S. Steel Preferred and Smelting Stocks Made New High Records—Pittsburgh Coal Preferred Made a Strong Rally.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The New York market opened active and strong yesterday, and during the first hour a number of new high records were established. After the end of the first hour there was no continuity to the movement of prices and activity was confined to specialties. London cables reported that American securities were the only active features of that market, and during the early part of the session foreigners were liberal buyers, particularly of the Steel stocks, the total amount of such purchases being estimated at 40,000 shares.

At the opening interest centered in United States Steel preferred. That stock on large transactions run up to 103, the highest ever quoted. The common stock moved up to 38¼. At the same time weakness developed in the southern group of iron stocks. Tennessee Coal & Iron sold off rapidly from 103 to 100½, and made only a partial recovery. It was rumored that a hitch had occurred in the deal for a merger of these properties. This is a convenient and overworked rumor which is made to do duty in every deal that was ever consummated in which Wall street is interested. The car equipment stocks were all moderately active and firm, but sold off when United States Steel began to react. The street said the pace was too rapid, and traders took profits.

During a lull in the general list the Smelting stocks became buoyant and advanced to new high records. American Smelting common finally reached 117⅞, a net gain for the day of 7¼ per cent, and closed near the top. The possibility of an increase in the dividend rate to 8 per cent per annum was among the reports circulated in connection with the stock. Federal Smelting common opened at the record price of 128, but subsequently sold off to 123 and finally closed at a net decline of 2¾ per cent. The preferred stock closed at an advance of 2¾ per cent. Peoples Gas was lower and closed at a loss of 1¼ per cent, apparently one result of the discussion of the results of the recent municipal election. Amalgamated Copper was strong all day and closed at a net gain of ⅝ per cent. A reaction of 1 per cent occurred in United States Steel stocks, but the preferred subsequently recovered to 102⅞ and closed a shade higher for the day.

The railroad list was very irregular. The heaviness in Union Pacific was one depressing feature, although that stock finally closed at a gain of ¼ per cent. Southern Pacific was quite strong and closed a point higher. St. Paul was also a strong feature and closed 2⅝ higher. New York Central was reactionary, and Atchison closed at a loss of 1⅜ per cent. Pennsylvania and Reading closed higher, while Baltimore & Ohio closed lower. A feature of the late trading was the activity and strength in Rock Island, which advanced to 35⅝, the highest for weeks. Canadian Pacific was also very active within a range of 153⅞ and 155¾, closing at 155 bid.

Commission houses reported larger orders executed for the public than for weeks past, and the general tenor of advices after the close was that the market was a purchase on any further reaction.

Call loans advanced to 4 per cent at one time, but during the greater part of the day remained steady at 3½ per cent. The estimates of the movements of money during the week show a net gain from the interior of $1,052,200 and a loss to the sub-treasury of $696,000, leaving a gain for the banks of $356,200.

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange there were three active stocks and all of them closed higher for the day. The strongest was Pittsburgh Coal preferred, in which the buying was of a more confident nature than at any previous time during the week. The opening at 69 was the lowest of the day, and from that point there was a steady advance to 73¾, the final sale being at 73½, a net gain of 4¼ per cent. There were strong intimations of some favorable developments to occur between now and Tuesday, when the directors are scheduled to meet to take action on the regular quarterly dividend. The common stock was less active, but rallied to 16½. United States Steel preferred was quite active and closed at an advance of 1⅜ per cent. Crucible Steel preferred rallied to 64¼ and closed at 64½. The common stock closed a shade lower at 12¼ bid. National Fire Proofing common on sales of 1,200 shares rallied to 12¼, while the preferred closed a shade lower at 37. Westinghouse Electric relapsed into dullness, closing unchanged at 91¼. Air Brake was a fraction lower at 149. The rest of the list was without important feature.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The tip to buy Pittsburgh Coal preferred yesterday is said to have come from New York and to have emanated from people connected with the Steel Corporation. There was also a revival of the report that negotiations were nearing a successful conclusion whereby a syndicate would acquire the stock of the River Coal Company, which was purchased by the Pittsburgh Coal Company late in 1900. The rapidity of the rise from 69 to 73¾ for Pittsburgh Coal preferred suggested that the short interest was larger than generally supposed. It was stated yesterday that a representative of Amsterdam investors in local coal stocks was in the city this week inquiring into the cause of the recent depression and the general state of the coal trade. At the low prices quoted last year there were heavy purchases of both the common and preferred stocks by New York bankers, and it was subsequently learned that a portion of these purchases was for foreign account. Just before the recent decline two New York houses which have foreign connections made inquiry here as to the possibility for making some arrangement whereby arbitrage operations could be carried on between Pittsburgh and Amsterdam through New York. The idea was to get a concession in the commission charged for handling the stock, but when the New Yorkers were informed that Pittsburgh stock exchange rules were as stringent as those of New York in the matter of dividing commissions, the subject was dropped. The fact is merely referred to now as proving the widespread interest taken in the local coal stocks.

Close observers of the New York market stated that under cover of the strength displayed by a few specialties, there was extensive profit-taking in the general list, and particularly in the high-priced rail stocks. Pittsburgh was a large seller yesterday and the day before, but traders here appear to be following the market up, and buy again on small reactions. Attendance in brokers' offices this week was larger than for some time past, reflecting increased public interest in the market.

The American Car and Foundry directors declared the regular quarterly dividend on the preferred stock. The statement of earnings for the quarter ending February 28, 1905, showed net, $838,000, against $572,428 for the same quarter last year and $1,426,708 for the three months ended December 31. Net earnings for 10 months were $1,866,228, against $4,172,745 in 1904 and $5,600,971 in 1903.

United States Rubber directors declared a dividend of 3½ per cent on the preferred stock, making the full 8 per cent for the fiscal year. It is said that about 8 per cent was also earned on the common stock.

Predictions are made that American Smelting common will reach 125 on this movement, and that Amalgamated Copper will reach 90 before the next dividend is declared.

The decline in Tennessee Coal and Iron was said to be due to a hitch over the terms and division of the underwriting of the deal in the merger, so far as can be learned it is proposed to have a new company with $5,000,000 of stock equally divided between preferred and common, and $23,000,000 bonds. The latter is to be proposed to sell to supply fresh working capital and the stock it is proposed to offer in exchange for the securities of the constituent companies that are expected to go into the consolidation. The present plan does not call for the payment of cash for any part of the securities of any of the companies. It is understood that if the southern properties of the Republic company are purchased, they will be paid for in the stock of the new company.

In some banking quarters in New York it is believed that one of the purposes, perhaps the main purpose, of the $100,000,000 Union Pacific new stock issue is to finance the purchase of stocks in the merger roads which Harriman bankers will receive in exchange for Northern Securities stock purchased since the controversy between Hill and Harriman broke out. In this manner, it is pointed out, the Union Pacific would be strengthened in its influence in its two great competitors, which, in the absence of such a counteracting measure, the Hill-Morgan party would undoubtedly control. In the trial of the injunction suit counsel for Hill informed the court that the stock of the merger was distributed about as follows: Hill party, $60,000,000; Harriman party, $80,000,000; public, $240,000,000. That the public would overwhelmingly follow Mr. Hill's lead already if it came to a matter of competition between him and Mr. Harriman by their votes is indicated by the majority in favor of the Hill plan at the meeting a year ago, but it would be very interesting to look over the stock books and see how the Hill and Harriman holdings of Northern Securities stock have changed since that time. The reason to believe that the merger's legal troubles have inspired a wholesale rush of selling by the public, but someone has provided a very ready market for their stock.

The reactionary tone of the New York market yesterday was a prized to the fact that traders bought stocks freely while they found that prices advanced easily and there was ready opportunity to secure profits for a quick turn. But some of the traders overdid the thing and such heavy offerings on the advance that the public not of the traders deserted them. This was notably true of Rock Island, which has enjoyed no notable movement for a long time, and which was taken up by the professional operators for that reason alone. They reasoned that a stock to long practically dormant would advance easily to a level of readjustment with the advances already effected elsewhere. But the bidding up of this stock brought out such enormous blocks in liquidation that the load proved too heavy to carry.

It was evident that at the opening high level for United States Steel preferred the protection of profits was so tempting as to bring in a long list in excess of the demand. This opening price in fact proved the highest of the day.

Estimates of the week's currency movement indicates a small gain in cash by the banks, but call money rose again to above 4 per cent and caused some revival of misgivings over the future supply. Active speculation in industrials has resulted in severe discrimination in their favor as collateral for loans. The persistent strength of sterling exchange also, in view of the low rates for foreign discounts and the relative firmness of money in New York, is something of a mystery and suggests a surmise that remittances are being made for some special purpose, possibly on subscriptions to the Japanese loan placed last week.

EAST END FLATS SOLD FOR $45,000

OAKLAND APARTMENTS SOLD

The Land Trust Company, by its agent, W. B. Ruth, sold for George H. Shickler his apartment house, known as the Sherman block, on the north side of Liberty avenue, between Mathilda and Edmond streets, for $45,000. Mr. Shickler erected the building about two years ago. It is a three-story brick structure, handsomely finished and having all modern apartment house conveniences. The lot is 50x120 feet. On the floor are two large store rooms and eight apartments of five rooms each occupy the upper floors. These now bring in an annual rental of about $3,800. The property is only one square from the Friendship Park Methodist Episcopal church. The name of the buyer, who is a local business man, is withheld by request.

W. J. Elliott, who bought the Kennett and Elsinore apartment houses in Oakland this week, has sold them to James E. Booth for $60,000. This transaction, it is said, is the other end of the deal by which Mr. Booth traded to Mr. Elliott a number of Allegheny residences a few days ago. All the deals were handled by the Union Realty Company. The apartment houses sold yesterday are four-story structures. One stands on 90x115 feet at the southwest corner of Craft avenue and Elsinore square, and the other on 72x81 feet is at the southwest corner of Craft avenue and Kennett square. They are well rented and were bought for an investment.

Choice Bellevue Frontage Sold.

Through the agency of the Bellevue Realty Savings and Trust Company, William Jenkinson has bought from the James Crawford estate 11 lots in the First ward of Bellevue for $12,000. The lots are known as Nos. 8, 19, 20, 21, 22 and 26 in the Crawford plan and face on Reddell and Woodlawn avenue and Crawford and Hillside streets. They average 62x130 feet in size and all are vacant. The purchaser will replot the property so that many of the lots will face in different streets, and will then put them on the market. The property is only two squares from the Lincoln Avenue street car line.

The Merchants Savings and Trust Company by its agent, H. M. Berman, sold for Samuel Goldstein to Herman Obernauer 1832 Fifth avenue for $21,000. The lot is 20x114 feet and is improved with a three-story brick store and dwelling in Fifth avenue and a two-story brick house in the rear of the lot on Ahr street. In part payment there was given 248 76 feet in Market street, McKeesport, valued at $1,000.

The same broker sold for Israel Finkelstein to the congregation Beth Tzedek 25 and 27 Reed street for $6,000. The lot measures 27x100 feet and has improved on it two brick houses. For J. Colmer he sold to Hirsch Miller 238 Dinwiddie street, a three-story brick building on 20x100 feet, for $6,000.

The Aronson Realty Company handled the sale of the Blackmore holdings at Wylie avenue and Fulton street, to J. Perelstine, which was published in The Gazette yesterday. The exact figures were $61,250, on which price the property pays 7 per cent. Mr. Perelstine will at the expiration of the present leases remodel the buildings at a cost of $20,000 for business houses.

John Nee sold to Elizabeth Booth an improved property, 55x76 feet, at the southwest corner of Bedford avenue and Morgan street, Thirteenth ward, for $10,000.

Big Gain in March Building.

The Construction News of Chicago is out with a detailed report showing that March was a record breaker in every way in building operations. Statistics from 28 leading cities show a total of 12,505 buildings authorized, the estimated cost of which is $55,160,774. This is a gain of 68 per cent over the record of March, 1904, when the total cost of the projects authorized was only $32,842,592. Twenty-six of the 28 cities showed gains, some of them being as high as 200 per cent. Chicago leads in point of gain, having broken all records for building in that city. Permits were issued for 855 buildings, estimated to cost $6,116,055, three times as much as the corresponding month of the previous year. New York had a total of $15,404,925 for March, as compared with $5,758,500 in 1904. St. Louis made a gain of 86 per cent over March of 1904, which is considered very remarkable in the face of a comparison with an exposition year. The strangest thing about the report is the showing of Pittsburgh and Allegheny. Pittsburgh, by reason of comparatively few large permits being taken out in March, fell behind 25 per cent, and the loss in Allegheny was about 49 per cent.

An interesting example of how old names cling to property and are valued by owners is shown in the application yesterday for a charter for the Good Intent Real Estate Company. The name was not intended for a test, as some garrulous readers suggested yesterday, but was copied from the state records. Good Intent was the name of the old state patent obtained from the commonwealth over 100 years ago, and which covers the property at Oakmont which will be handled by the new company. The incorporators are Benjamin F. Duncan of the Land Trust Company and Robert J. Davidson and William K. Gamble of Verner, Davidson & Company. All are residents of Oakmont, and several other Oakmont capitalists are interested in the new venture, which will lead to some interesting announcements soon.

The news that two more downtown churches have bought sites in the East End, as detailed in another column, shows how rapidly the exodus of churches from the business district is going on. Both St. Andrew's and the Third United Presbyterian are old congregations, and have been regarded almost as fixtures in the downtown section for years. Their properties were valuable, and the churches which they will erect in the East End will be distinct improvements to localities that are already noted for their beauty.

The Century Architectural Company has applied for a Pennsylvania charter. The promoters are H. O. Krueger, Charles R. Porter and Fred Bruening. The company proposes to do a general house-building business as well as to design other structures.

Banker Turns Real Estate Man.

Walter P. Fraser, who resigned as treasurer of the North American Savings Company previous to his recent visit to California, is now established in the real estate business at 304 Diamond Bank building, where he shares a suite with Frank Thornburg. During the last few years Mr. Fraser has been an aggressive dealer in city real estate and has shown himself to be an excellent judge of property, both business and residence holdings. He will now devote all his time to his real estate interests.

Harmarville—Keck, Helfe & Daschbach sold for the Jacob Muehlheim estate to a prominent business man of Pittsburgh a fruit farm of 67 acres near Harmarville, Indiana township, for $4,500. The property is on the West Penn railroad and the locality is picturesque and well adapted for summer homes, for which purpose this plot was bought. This is the third sale in this locality made by these brokers since March 1.

Knoxville—The Knoxville Land Improvement Company, by its agent, D. J. Smith, sold to the Manuel Building Company eight lots, 18ft 110 feet, on the south side of Alice street, at the corner of Virginia avenue, Knoxville, for $7,000. The buying company does a building and contracting business in Knoxville and will improve the property. The same agent sold to Mary J. Perry 25x100 feet on the south side of Bateman street, Knoxville, for $1,000; to C. L. Cook 25x100 feet on the south side of Grape street for $1,000; to John Harmanh 30x130 feet in Southern avenue for $1,500, the last sale being made by James F. Grimes, general manager of the company.

New England footwear factories are receiving a fair volume of fall contracts from western and southern jobbers, but duplicate spring orders are scarce. Little that is new has developed in the textile industries. The cotton situation is somewhat remarkable, because buyers make little effort to prepare for the future, although such scarcity exists in many lines that not only are premiums paid for prompt delivery, but poorer quality and short lengths are often accepted without questioning. More export business has appeared, and it is evident that domestic buyers of this class of goods will be compelled to resort to much substitution.

Commercial failures this week in the United States are 232, against 244 last week, 255 the preceding week and 285 the corresponding week last year. Failures in Canada number 28, against 32 last week, 16 the preceding week and 29 last year.

Wheat (including flour) exports for the week ending April 6 are 883,917 bushels, against 988,630 last week, 1,854,000 this week last year, 2,383,285 in 1903, and 3,842,012 in 1902. From July 1 to date the exports are 48,513,346 bushels, against 117,853,714 last year, 126,805,774 in 1903, and 188,162,544 in 1902. Corn exports for this week are 3,390,347 bushels, against 2,430,652 last week, 1,628,607 a year ago, 2,054,732 in 1903, and 158,564 in 1902. From July 1 to date the exports of corn are 80,845,184 bushels, against 47,835,170 in 1904, 40,927,181 in 1903, and 25,120,063 in 1902.

The Wool Market.

BOSTON, April 7.—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow of the wool market:

The better retained the firmer feeling of last week and in fact seems to have developed even a stronger sentiment. Interest has become a little sharper, with more inquiry, principally in foreign wools, but also in the new territories. Last year's territory is weakly growing less, and only poorer grades now remain. Prices will undoubtedly, at the authority, are 69,160,963 pounds, against 64,748,477 pounds at the same time last year. The receipts to date are 71,184,448 pounds, against 51,011,183 for the same period last year.

LONDON, April 7.—A sale of 13,092 Cape of Good Hope and Natal sheepskins was held here today. All grades were in active demand and prices were unchanged at ½d dearer. Lambskins and coarse wooled were mainly higher.

Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

GREEN GOODS DEALERS HAVE ALL THE BUSINESS

Friday Is a Poor Day for Everybody But the Liberty Street Merchants.

Market business, except in the green goods line, was dull yesterday, although dealers generally reported a good week. There were no changes in any line and the market seems to have reached a settled condition. Flour simply seems to be waiting on the shearing of the lambs in the wheat market, when it is expected to take its drop. The market has not improved any here, in spite of the advance in May wheat. Northwestern millers have advanced prices 10 cents a barrel, but Pittsburgh dealers refuse to follow.

Grocers and green goods dealers were good buyers yesterday of lettuce, spinach and all kinds of spring greens. The supply is better, than it was a week or two ago and the quality of the goods is improved.

Eggs are very firm and dealers would not be surprised at an advance. The wholesale price has moved up to 17 cents. This is for eggs in 100-case lots. By the single case the price of 17½ and 18 cents is easily obtained.

Butter is firmer than it was last week and the cut in price seems to have done it some good. None of the dealers seemed to want to prophesy what it would do next Monday.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts of hay and grain yesterday were as follows: Pennsylvania lines—3 cars feed, 16 cars hay, 15 cars oats, 1 car corn, 2 cars rye. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie—1 car rye, 10 cars hay. Baltimore & Ohio—7 cars hay, 3 cars oats.

The market for hay and grain remains about steady. The receipts of No. 1 timothy are not heavy and a firmer feeling can be noticed in that. The oats supply is fully equal to demands. Receipts of car corn are still scant and prices still further advanced. Good, dry yellow shelled corn is easily disposed of, but corn that is musty is a drug on the market.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

W. F. Staunton, superintendent of the Consolidated Tombstone and Silver Bell mines, which are controlled by the Development Company of America of New York, in an interview in Arizona states that everything was running smoothly and while the ores had given a little trouble they had not personally interfered with business. There continues to be a daily shipment of about 100 tons of ore from Silver Bell to the Douglas smelters and about the same quantity from Tombstone to El Paso.

The Trenton Mining and Development Company of New Jersey has taken over the holdings of the Colorado Smelting and Mining Company of Colorado at Butte, Mont., and the latter corporation has gone out of existence.

Rumors have been in circulation for the past week that a big combination of copper-producing mines is in progress, and that while it has not yet been consummated, there was every probability of its success. The combination is said to be practically all of the larger companies operating in the Bingham valley of Utah, including the Utah Consolidated, United States Mining and the Bingham Consolidated Company.

A. C. Justing and Judd Stewart of New York are pushing negotiations whereby the Belle smelting plant at Durango, Col., owned by the smelters at Thomas and Dyesett, Wash., are to pass into the hands of Bernard M. Baruch and others of New York. This organization will be entirely independent of any other smelting company in the country, though it is understood that officials of the American Smelting and Refining Company are to be interested in the new company.

A bonanza strike of gold and copper ore has been made in the Stratton mine, located east of Buena Vista, and owned by the Stratton Massachusetts Gold Mining Company. An ore shoot of large dimensions was encountered in the 700-foot level that runs heavy in copper and gold.

President Smith of the Old Dominion Copper Company, on his present visit to the mines at Globe, Ariz., will arrange for a further extension of the smelting plant by the construction later on of a fourth furnace. Last month's output was only about 400,000 tons, the smaller being in operation only seven days out of the entire month.

Ground has been broken for the new Del Monte shaft of the Calumet and Pittsburgh at Bisbee, Ariz. This shaft will be very large, 5 by 19 feet, and will hold three compartments, one of which is said to be 5 by 10 feet in the clear. This unusual size is that machinery may be lowered and for pumps. It is supposed the

TURKEY PREPARES FOR A STRUGGLE

DUE TO RUSSIA'S HUMILIATION

By HENRI BEAUPRE.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 7.—Turkey is preparing for the inevitable. Her statesmen recognize that with changed conditions in the relations of the European powers, caused by the humiliating defeat of Russia by Japan, she soon will be called upon to fight for her very existence in Europe, and that her rich Asiatic dominions are tempting prey for the land and trade-hungry nations of Europe. It is recognized fully in Yildiz Kiosk that Turkey has not a friend in the world and that only the difficulty in apportioning the loot has prevented an attempt to dismember the sultan's empire long before this.

That a pretext for this international bit of carving is constantly present is recognized, but it can be said that the Ottoman empire will not be a docile victim. Already quiet but active preparations for the final test are being made. The army is being reorganized thoroughly and soon will be put on a thoroughly modern basis, with new and modern arms and the best of artillery. The ordnance manufacturers of Germany, France and England either already have orders in hand for this re-armament or soon will have, while America will get a share of the business as well. Reserves and irregulars, as well as the regular troops, are to be provided for, so that the entire fighting strength of the empire can be mobilized and placed in the field fully prepared, with the least possible delay.

A high official said to me today: "Trouble is certain in Macedonia in the summer. Already the country is in a state of anarchy which the Turkish government is prevented from dealing with effectively. The situation in Macedonia and Albania is not understood in Europe and America outside of Russia and Austria. The inhabitants are of widely different origin, half savage, divided into racial clans and religious factions which are eternally at each other's throats. They require a strong hand to govern them. Let alone, Turkey could restore and maintain order in its European possessions. When the troubles begin there the usual cry of Turkish massacres will be raised, and with Russian influence reduced by the war with Japan and her internal troubles, the powers will intervene and Turkey will face a struggle involving her existence. It may be that Europe will receive another surprise from the despised Asiatic when the time comes."

I am informed on high authority that agents of the sultan have been busy for months past among the Mohammedans of India and of Russia's Asiatic possessions, making quiet preparations for the calling of the Mussulman world to arms in a holy war for the defense of the faith and the slaughter of the Christians.

AND SHE WENT TO JAIL IN A PIANO VAN

NEW YORK, April 7.—(Special.)—Annie Pierce, about 25 years old, who says she is a "perfect lady," had an exciting time early today kicking men in the face in front of a Bowery hotel at Twenty-ninth street and Sixth avenue. She kicked in two plate glass windows in the front of the hotel. She was taken to the Tenderloin station in a piano van.

In the Oil fields.

Developments in the lower southwest fields are not attracting much attention for the reason that the wells now drilling and recently completed are all located inside of old defined territory. At Fairview, Marion county, the well drilled in a few days ago by the Carnegie Natural Gas Company on the O. M. Haught farm and developed oil in the Dunkard sand, is a better producer than first estimated. The well was turned over to the Fisher Oil Company, who holds the oil right on the farm, and was put to pumping and produced 50 barrels the first 24 hours. Despite the good showing, when put on pumping, there are some who think it nothing more than a freak. No other wells in the locality got production in the same formation.

West of Mannington, in the 30-foot development, the South Penn Oil Company has given its No. 1 on the J. L. Beatty farm a second shot and it responded by producing nearly 500 barrels the ensuing 24 hours. The same company's No. 2 on the C. S. Fitzer farm, shot early in the week, is holding up at 170 barrels a day. None of the wells in this district have shown more than a show and very few any longer respond with an increase in production for more than a few days. In the Pine Grove extension, in Wetzel county, the South Penn has drilled its second test on the L. W. Postalwait farm 10 feet into the sandy sand and has developed a very strong gas pressure. Drilling for the present has been suspended. West of the Littleton district, in the same county, the South Penn has shot its No. 9 on the S. Newman farm and it failed to respond. It has a little oil in the hole and may make a small pumper.

Near Reeder station, on State road, Green district, Wetzel county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has drilled its test on the Isaac Wright farm into the Big Injun and has developed a strong gas pressure. West of Stringtown, Tyler county, the Sancho Oil Company has completed its test on the J. G. Grim farm and has a duster in the Big Injun. On the east side of the Pulsom district, in Harrison county, the South Penn has completed and shot its test on the M. K. Baker farm and has a 50-barrel producer in the Gordon. In the Rowells run district, Calhoun county, the Carter Oil Company has completed a second test on the Camden-Sommers farm and has a duster in the Berea grit. This is 800 feet north of the same company's No. 15 on the Rebecca Curry farm.

In the development back of Beaver Falls, Beaver county, Pa., Stauffer & Co. have completed their test on the Marks farm and have a duster. In the same district, Elwood & Co. have drilled their test on the Howley farm through the third sand found no oil or gas. Whiteside & Co. had the same kind of luck at their second test on the Real Estate and Mortgage Company's property. This development has proven deceptive and given the talent a hard throw-down. Out of 12 wells completed last month, eight were barren of oil and the remainder light pumpers. In the Mt. Morris district, Greene county, the Davistown Gas Company has completed a second test on the Litman farm and has a gasser.

STANDARD TO WAGE WAR.

Changes Prices, Owing to Independent Concern Gaining Business in Findlay Field.

FINDLAY, O., April 7.—(Special.)—Tomorrow will mark the beginning of a bitter fight between the Standard Oil Company and the National Refining Company of Cleveland, which operates an independent plant in this city.

The Standard will wage the war through the Manhattan Oil Company, an independent concern absorbed by the big trust. Starting tomorrow the Manhattan company will give a six-cent premium on crude oil and a cut of one cent a gallon on the refined products. Since the National company decided to increase its capacity from 500 to 1,200 barrels a day three weeks ago, local operators have been turning their production over to the independent concern, at a rate that promises to shut out the Standard from practically all the independent output of Hancock county and vicinity.

FINDS MR. LOEB'S WATCH; REWARDED BY POSITION

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Mrs. Michael G. Lauxman found Secretary Loeb's lost watch and her reward was a $760 clerkship in the coast and geodetic survey.

The week before he left Washington with President Roosevelt, Mr. Loeb lost a handsome watch and advertised in the local papers. Mrs. Lauxman, who had found the watch, went to the offices of the White House to return it. Mr. Loeb asked her what reward he should give her. Mrs. Lauxman frankly told Mr. Loeb of the reduced circumstances of her children and herself, due to the recent death of her husband, who had been employed in the coast and geodetic survey. If Mr. Loeb could do anything toward getting her a government position, she told him such a reward would be a generous compensation for the return of his watch.

Mr. Loeb promised to do what he could for her. A few hours after the watch was returned she received notice of her appointment as a stenographer in the coast and geodetic survey at a salary of $750 per annum.

ENGLAND FAVORS THE "OPEN DOOR"

British Ambassador Informs America Such Is His Nation's Policy in Morocco.

DELCASSE MAKES STATEMENT

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The British ambassador called on Secretary Taft today and discussed with him the Morocco situation, with special reference to the note which had been handed the secretary by the German ambassador relating to the "open door." The British ambassador expressed an opinion similar to that of the French ambassador that the "open door" in Morocco obtains at the present time.

PARIS, April 7.—Foreign Minister Delcasse, answering questions in the chamber of deputies today, relative to the status of Morocco, says the policy which the national interests of France required her to pursue had long been fully known. When that policy was consecrated by certain international agreements, public opinion here and abroad approved of the accords as further guaranteed of bringing order and security to Morocco, while at the same time favoring the interests of the entire world and giving no cause for resentment from any quarter. Continuing, the foreign minister said:

"We seek to make the Moroccan authorities understand the practical advantages of having the nominal, precarious authority of the sultan fortified and extended so that the condition of the population may be ameliorated by security and respect given to their customs and beliefs. We put this before them mildly as friends, patiently also, as becomes neighbors not having need of a precipitate solution, and we will continue our task with the tranquility of people who are wronging no one and who contemplate nothing wrong to the interests of anyone. Having repeatedly taken this step, I feel no embarrassment in repeating what may dissipate all misunderstanding, if despite former declarations any such misunderstanding still exists."

TANGIER, April 7.—It is reported that a German mission, headed by Count von Tattenbach-Ashold, former minister of Germany to Morocco, will shortly proceed to Fez and arrange a special German-Moroccan commercial treaty, the proposed terms of which are already on their way to Fez.

LONDON, April 8.—The Daily Mail's Paris correspondent learns that Germany failed in attempting to induce Spain, Italy and the United States to adopt her Moroccan views, and that on the contrary all the powers assured France of their good wishes towards the French policy in Morocco.

SPOILED HAITIEN LOAN.

Complaint Is Lodged at State Department Against Minister Powell in Reporting Trouble.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The Haitien minister, Mr. Leger, called on Secretary Taft today to make further representations touching the report of American Minister Powell recently to the effect that serious trouble was expected at Port Au Prince. Mr. Leger complained that this report had seriously embarrassed the Haitien officials in the negotiations of a loan. He did not make any official demand for the removal of Minister Powell, however.

Secretary Taft referred his caller to Acting Secretary Adee, who endeavored to show the minister that Mr. Powell only acted within the lines of his duty in reporting to the state department any conditions which he feared might lead to trouble. Moreover it appeared that there really had been ground for apprehension growing out of the proposed deportation of the Syrians.

Last Honors Paid to President Potter.

SAGINAW, MICH., April 7.—Many prominent railroad men attended the funeral today of the late Wm. F. Potter, president of the Long Island railroad. The Rev. N. S. Bradley of the Congregational church officiated at the services.

Gift from John D. Rockefeller.

CLEVELAND, O., April 7.—John D. Rockefeller has given $5,000 to the Sisters of the Good Shepherd in charge of the House of the Good Shepherd for Girls in this city.

Railroad News.

Since the last session of the International Railway congress at Paris in 1900 most of the managements of railways in France, England, Belgium, Switzerland, Italy, in several states of Germany, in Austria and Hungary, Russia and in Servia have put in service or have made trials of automobile and automotor cars run on rails for purposes of railway traffic. These include electric cars, a petroleum car with electric transmission and steam cars. A report to be submitted to the coming session of the congress says that petroleum cars have so far proved the best. They present the following advantages: Safety and ease of driving, like that on tramways; ease of running in either direction without turning around; very quick starting; very low cost of maintenance, and absence of smoke.

President Ramsey Here.

President Joseph Ramsey of the Wabash railroad arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday. President Ramsey was not in a position to say just what the Wabash intends to do in regard to new work for the year, as the plans have not been completed. He gives assurance that all the projects originally planned, including the elevated freight lines and other local work, will be carried through. He will remain in the city a few days.

Inspecting B. R. & P. Property.

President A. G. Yates of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, accompanied by several officials, are inspecting the property. They arrived Thursday night and left yesterday for New Castle. From there they will return to headquarters. Mr. Iselin said while in the city that the road was in excellent condition.

Expect Big Excursion Business.

From all indications the excursion travel this season will break all previous records. Every park in the territory will be improved at a great expense and, in addition, the Rock Springs park will be opened. So far there have been several organizations booked.

Railroad Notes.

M. J. Carmichaels, traveling passenger agent of the Illinois Central, at Chicago, is a visitor in the city.

F. S. H. Church, assistant secretary of the Pennsylvania lines, has returned from Richmond, Ind., where he attended a meeting of the stockholders of subsidiary lines.

Ira A. Place has been appointed general counsel for the New York Central to succeed the late Judge Samuel Williamson. Mr. Place was a general attorney for the company. He will be succeeded as general attorney by Albert H. Harris, who has been local counsel at Rochester, N. Y.

SHOULD KEEP MUM ABOUT THE WOMEN

PUGILISTS' TRAINING URGED

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 7.—Bishop Joseph F. Berry of Chicago in addressing the Newark conference in session here today, made a sensational reference to the recent Cordova affair.

"If you ever have experiences with women," he said, "for the love of God don't tell about them. An experience with a woman is bad enough, but the trouble that comes with telling about it can't be calculated.

"But remember, a woman, no matter how silly or wicked, will scarcely ever take the initiative with a clean man. There must be always an invitation on his part, and if a man is high above the thought of sin, a frivolous woman will not tempt him. A pastor who will allow himself to be approached by a woman in this sense, is a weak, lustful scoundrel. It has been said it is impossible for a minister not to have had the temptation of these experiences, but that is a lie."

The bishop declared that the afternoon call on women of the congregation, when they were likely to be alone, should be frowned upon. He said pastoral calls should be paid at a time when the wife was surrounded by her husband and children.

In an address to the candidates for admission into the Methodist ministry and the New York conference, Bishop Hamilton of San Francisco, presiding officer of the convention, said the successful preacher must be a man of the world. He warned them not to bother about heresy or become heresy hunters.

"Above all," said the bishop, "don't preach it unless you know what you are talking about. The Methodist church does and is expected to furnish the gospel for all other churches."

In recommending to the candidates the admonition for fasting the bishop intimated that certain acts of prize-fighters might be observed and emulated with good results.

"Out where I live," said he, "men who stand up and strike on another's face for $35,000 of gate receipts, go away for weeks before and take care of their mortal bodies so they can withstand the strain of the conflict."

RECOVERS HER NECKLACE.

Wealthy Philadelphia Woman Wins Her Suit Against an Agent of the Customs Department.

NEW YORK, April 7.—(Special.)—By a decision of the United States court of appeals, handed down today, Mrs. L. Harrison Dulles, wife of a wealthy man of Philadelphia, wins the famous suit over the seizure of her $26,009 pearl necklace by a treasury agent in June, 1902.

In the decision it is declared that when Mrs. Dulles declared "wearing apparel of a value unknown," she included all the jewelry she had and that William Thobold, the treasury agent in question, had no "probable cause for seizure," and therefore was entirely at fault.

Missionary Society's Officers.

WAYNESBURG, Pa., April 7.—(Special.)—At the sessions of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of Washington Presbytery today, a service in memory of Mrs. Henry Wood was conducted. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. H. Snowden; recording secretary, Miss Elizabeth Christman; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. D. Moffatt; foreign secretary, Mrs. William Speer; young people's secretary, Miss Catherine Hayes; treasurer, Mrs. William Stemmons, all of Washington, Pa.; secretary of medical work, Miss Mary Truesdell, of West Alexander.

Yale Debaters Chosen.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., April 7.—The final trials at Yale to select men who will debate with Harvard on May 5 were held tonight and these six men were chosen: B. E. Chase, 1906, L. S., L. C. Bergh, 1906, S. S. Hart, 1907; F. E. Pierce, graduate school; L. Pierce, 1906, and L. S. Hopkins, 1905. L. S. E. H. Hart of Brooklyn, N. Y., won the Thatcher prize of $75 for the best speaker in the academic department.

Big Oil Company Formed.

CHANUTE, KAS., April 7.—Representatives of 30 independent oil companies which control three-fourths of the oil production of Kansas today decided to form a company representing $7,000,000 of invested capital, to build a fuel oil pipe line from the Kansas field to Kansas City and to construct a refinery and storage tanks in that city.

JAPANESE LABOR TO BUILD CANAL

New Panama Commission Will Bring Thousands of Men from Far East.

SHONTS OUTLINES HIS PLANS

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The announcement was made today by members of the new canal commission that Japanese labor would be used almost entirely on the isthmus. Neither West Indian nor Chinese laborers will be employed to any extent, except such West Indians and Chinese as are now in the canal zone. The Japanese will be brought direct from Japan and not from Hawaii, as has been suggested. It is expected that a contract will soon be closed with one contractor for several thousand Japanese laborers. Chief Engineer Wallace feels more men must be had as soon as possible, and 12,000 will probably be put to work.

Several reasons have led to selecting Japanese labor. The Panama exclusion laws against Chinese are stringent. It is impossible to get white labor from this country, as white men cannot stand the work of shoveling under a tropical sun. West Indian labor is fickle and unsatisfactory, the negroes there having a habit of working a few days and then remaining idle until they have spent their wages.

The Japanese government has strict laws governing emigration, and a contractor who takes laborers out of Japan is held sharply to account for the condition of the men by the mikado's government. This is a great protection to the commission. The cleanly habits of the Japanese constitute another important factor.

No Contract Labor Trouble.

The former Panama canal commission previous to the time it resigned was about to sign a contract for 2,000 Japanese laborers to work on the Isthmian canal. The contract provided for a work day of 10 hours, and a question arose as to whether the government could employ laborers for more than eight hours in any calendar day. The subject was referred to the attorney-general for an opinion. This opinion has not yet been rendered, and the matter will again come up before the new commission. A question also has been raised as to the right to import contract laobr in the canal zone, but it is held that the canal zone is not like other territories of the United States, and therefore is not subject to the contract labor law.

Col. Gorgas, chief sanitary officer in the canal zone, has just submitted to the governor of the zone a report for the month of February as to the health conditions existing among the canal employes, which he regards as highly creditable, and he makes an interesting comparison between existing conditions and those under the French regime, which he is enabled to do through the complete hospital records left by the French. The sick report shows a percentage of only 1.35 per cent of sickness, which, it is stated, would be considered excellent in any part of the world.

Mr. Shonts Means Business.

CHICAGO, April 8.—"Direct business methods, publicity and absolutely no politics—this is the keynote of the policy of the Panama canal commission, to which President Roosevelt has seen fit to appoint me president."

This is the declaration of Theodore P. Shonts, who arrived in Chicago from New York today on his first visit here since his appointment. Mr. Shonts announced soon after his arrival the appointment of Thomas Brown as his private secretary on the canal commission. Mr. Brown had been private secretary to Paul Morton, with the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad for several years. Mr. Shonts also said that he had practically resigned his position as president of the Toledo, St. Louis & Western railroad, but will direct its affairs from whatever point he makes his headquarters.

"The people of the United States are the stockholders of this Panama canal, the most gigantic undertaking they have ever been interested in," continued Mr. Shonts, "and, for the next four years, they have selected President Roosevelt to vote their stock for them. Therefore our policy will be to work precisely as we have worked in building and operating great railroad lines. There will be monthly reports made of progress of the amount of funds expended and the outlook for the work, just as railroads report to their stockholders. These reports will be filed regularly in Washington, so that every congressman, every official of the government and the public will be fully, reliably and frequently informed as to what is being done with their funds in Panama.

"We are all pitching in with our coats off, and there will be no time lost, either now or in the future. We have undertaken the task for the American people, we recognize the great responsibility resting on us, and we are going out to 'make good' in a way that will please not only President Roosevelt and gratify him confidence in us, but will also bring us the approval of all the people of the nation, the stockholders in the canal enterprise."

Passes Deceased Wife's Sister Bill.

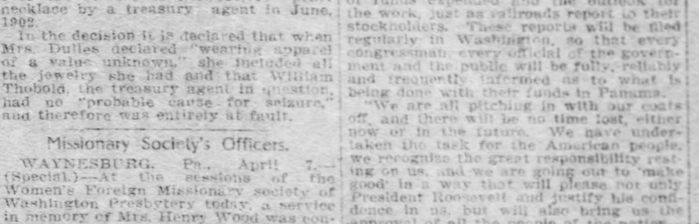
LONDON, April 7.—After an academic discussion, in which Lord Hugh Cecil and other opponents of the measure contended that it transgressed the fundamental laws of British morality, the deceased wife's sister bill passed its second reading by 159 to 64 votes. It has already passed the house of commons seven times but will again likely be defeated in the house of lords.

Barber Killed American Woman.

CASERTA, ITALY, April 7.—The police have secured what is apparently conclusive evidence that Miss Catherine McCready of New York, who was found dead from strangulation in her villa near here, February 25, was murdered by the barber, Andrea Ionico, husband of Catherine Esposito, Miss McCready's servant, who was arrested. Others are incriminated.

Steamer Sank at Her Dock.

NEW ORLEANS, April 7.—The Southern Pacific steamship Louisiana, Capt. Whitney, sank at her wharf today. The ship arrived today from Havana and was to have sailed tomorrow for the same port. She had recently been extensively rebuilt. No lives were lost.



This your head to the left?

Then there's no use trying. It's too late! Nothing in the world can make hair grow on a bald scalp that has been smooth and shiny for years. It's too late! No use trying now!

Or is this yours to the right?

Good. Only look out for dandruff! It leads straight to baldness. But there's use trying now, for Ayer's Hair Vigor cures dandruff, keeps the scalp clean and healthy, and checks falling hair.

EMPEROR OF GERMANY TO MEET EMPRESS TODAY

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

NAPLES, April 7.—Emperor William, on board the Hohenzollern, left tonight for Messina. All the ships in the harbor, including the Italian fleet, were illuminated in the emperor's honor and gave him farewell salutes.

VIENNA, April 7.—The Nuele Frei Press today, commenting on the toasts exchanged by King Victor Emmanuel and Emperor William at the banquet at Naples yesterday, in a calmly worded editorial calls attention to the fact that Emperor William referred to the triple alliance as a strong guarantee of peace and says King Victor Emmanuel strongly and sincerely did so. In the same general terms, but referred to only two powers, Italy and Germany.

Each monarch knew what the other would say before the toasts were uttered and consequently each of the monarchs, the Nuele Frei Press argues, meant a different alliance when he spoke. The fact that King Victor Emmanuel avoided referring to Austria is beginning to bring out comment and speculation.

MESSINA, April 7.—Empress Augusta of Germany, and her sons, Princes Eitel and Oscar, have arrived from Taormina to meet tomorrow the emperor of Germany, who, it is reported, will go directly to Greece, returning here on April 26. A great reception has been prepared for the emperor.
